GEN. GARCIA DISBANDS HIS ARMY

THE CUBAN IRE

Aroused by Gen. Shafter's Policy.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SANTIAGO, July 21. (Delayed in transmission)—The French cruiser Rigault de Genoailly arrived here this afternoon with supplies for the relief of the French citizens of Santiago.

A large exodus of Cubans is expected during the next few days, as they are returning to the cultivation of the country, that work being the chief source of the wealth of the island.

The greater part of Garcia's army leaves here at daybreak tomorrow. Notwithstanding General Garcia's bitter complaint to General Shafter that he had been ignored and that the restoration of the Spanish civil authority in the city of Santiago was most offensive to him, and that in consequence of this he had been forced to tender his resignation as a general in the Cuban army, the insurgent general is going on with his preparations for a contest with the Spanish forces of Holguin and Manzanillo as though nothing had happened.

Genera Garcia will issue a decree authorizing all Cubans who have been driven from their plantations and country homes by the Spaniards and who have taken refuge for safety in the cities and towns, to return to the country and go to work on their farms and plantations, assuring them of protection by his forces. He has also given permission to those in his ranks who were recruited from the farmlands or who were employed in the fields before the war.

Altogetehr it must be confessed that General Garcia's attitude is inexplicable. His permission to the men in his ranks to go back to work on the farms is construed to mean an effort to disband his forces. But this may not be altogether justified. It is certain that a great many of them will continue to fight.

MARTIAL LAW IN THE PHILIPPINES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The following cablegram has just been received from the war department:

Hong Kong, July 22.

Secretary of the Navy:

The following is for the secretaryof war to the adjutant general: Auginaldo declares dictatorship and martial law over all the isands. The people expect Independence. Recommend China ponies.

ANDERSON.

(Signed)

Colonel Anderson was the senior army officer at the Philippines when the despatch was sent, probably several days before its Hong Kong date. The reference to China ponies means that Coonel Anderson desires that kind of cavalry animals.

HOBSON HOME.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Naval Constructor Hobson of Merrimac fame, reached port this morning on the cruiser St. Paul. He left the St. Paul at Tompkinsville and took the Staten Island ferryboat for New York.

He arrived at 9.45 this morning, and was accompanied by two men, who carried several handbags. The party at once took a carriage and it is presumed proceeded at once to Washington by way of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is possible that Hobson is the bearer of Admiral Sampson's report of the naval engagement off Santiago.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Michael Campbell the Unfortunate Victim.

Discharged Servant Tries to Burn a House.

Brookfield, Mass., July 22.—A man supposed to be Michael Campbell was killed by a train at the station last night. The train dragged the body 150 feet, and in consequence mutilation was inflicted. On the man's arm was tatooed the representation of a crucifix. The hat bore the mark of Tipp Bros., Milford, Mass. He was five feet tall, and weighed 150 pounds.

THE NUTMEG STATE.

Hartford, July 22.—An apparently crazy servant, out of revenge on account of being discharged, set fire to the house of her former mistress yesterday. The building, which was slightly damaged, was occupied as a boarding house by Mrs. M. B. Cady. The servant after setting the fire struck Mrs. Cady's daughter a violent blow in the face. She is under arrest.

New London, July 22.—A fire in the cellar of the Foran Furniture company's building yesterday afternoon, caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp, resulted in a loss of about $10,000. The fire was confined to the cellar, but the dense smoke penetrated the entire four stories.

New Haven, July 22.—Stephen Hills, a well-to-do farmer of Cheshire, and his wife were sentenced to three years in state prison for an assault with intent to kill Lewis Nihron. When Nihron, who was a farmhand, attempted to pass through some of Hill's property despite warnings he was shot in the back, neck and shoulders.

EXEMPT FROM THE TAX.

Washington, July 22.—The commissioner of internal revenue holds that although a social club selling wines and liquors to its members and their guests is required to pay a special tax as a retail liquor dealers, it is not required to pay the special tax as a proprietor of a billiard room, as the new law specifically states that it only relates to bowling alleys and billiard rooms open to the public. A social club admitting to its privileges only its members and their invited guests, the commissioner holds, cannot properly be regarded as open to the public.

BASE BALL.

Boston, July 22.—The game of six innings yesterday was one-sided, as Sudhoff was very wild. Five Boston players were given bases on balls, one was hit and Sudhoff made a wild pitch which helped base running. Rain stopped the game and also prevented the advertised second one. Score:

The Phillies defeated the Chicagoes in an uninteresting game, 3 to 1. Fifield pitched finely.

The Louisvilles surprised everybody by winning two games from the Brooklyns. The members of the losing team played like schoolboys in both games.

The Cincinnatis won two games in Washington by hitting and fielding.

The New Yorks and the Pittsburgs split even in a bargain counter attraction. In the first game Seymour pitched well until the ninth, when he sailed upwards. In the second game Tannehill was easy, and in the four innings he pitched managed to lose the game.

The Wilkesbarres won two games from the Providences. The first game was a hard, uphill fight, the Providences scoring seven in the first inning on clean hitting. The batting of Shortstop Sullivan, who joins the St. Louis team, won the second game.

Bad errors by Reilly and Gilbert enabled the Syracuses to pull the Springfield game out in the ninth inning, but the home team tied it in the last half. Syracuse finally batted out in the 12th. Part of the game was played in the rain.

The Clevelands defeated the Baltimores in two games. Both McJames and Nops were wild and ineffective, and caused the loss of both games. After the second game Tebeau was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct for throwing a bat at a spectator who called him a vile name. He gave bail for his appearance.

Ultram Ladd, who played one game for the Bostons as a fielder, tells the people of Fall River, where he belongs, that the manager refused to pay him for his work, nor even gave him the price of his supper before leaving for his home.

HUDSON AND LOWELL.

ELECTRIC LINE VIA ACTON AND CHELMSFORD.

The board of selectmen is not yet ready to grant permission to the Clinton, Hudson & Concord street railway company to run its tracks through Acton limits over the so-called "powder mill road." The proposed line from Hudson to Lowell through Acton and Chelmsford; is being still urged and it is said that the commissioners of the Clinton road think quite favorably of the latter line. Within the past few weeks nothing has been done of importance, but the selectmen of Acton wish to have a clear understanding of the matter before granting permission to a company that will not benefit the more populated sections of the town, through which it intends to run on the outskirts. Developments are awaited with interest.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bailey celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage at their home in Highland Park, East Saugus, on Saturday. Charles W. Bailey and Miss Abbie O. Stickney were united in marriage in Lowell 25 years ago by Rev. G. T. Flanders a Universalist minister. WILL STAMP DEATH CERTIFICATES SAYS THE REVENUE COLLECTOR.

The city clerk yesterday received a communication from the internal revenue collector of Boston in regard to the stamps on death returns. It is to the effect that the physicians will have to place the stamp on their certificate, and not the undertakers, on their returns. The clergymen will also have to place a stamp upon their certificates of marriage. The city will not be called upon to affix stamps to such documents.

HARD TO EXPLAIN.

IF THIS HAD OCCURRED ANYWHERE ELSE THAN LOWELL THERE MIGHT BE GRAVE DOUBTS ABOUT IT.

If this were published anywhere else but in Lowell, that is, if the statement given below went the rounds of the press, readers in Boston or New Orleans would not believe it. In the very nature of things, men and women will not believe that a simple little pill when the subject is in a serious condition. When it has that effect, when the party is a living witness, perhaps a neighbor, Lowell people at least, cannot possibly deny it—particularly so when investigation is courted. Now ask Mr. Martin Canning, who lives at No. 9 Whiting street and see if he will not corroborate personally what he says publicly.

Mr. Martin Canning of No. 9 Whiting street, a young robust man, says: "In the fall of 1893 I was taken with backache, dizziness, headaches and the region of the kidney was sore to the touch. After a time the kidney secretions became dark and contained sediment. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Ellingwood's & Co.'s, corner of Merrimack and Central Streets. I took them as directed, and I give them the credit of curing me. I don't like to have my name in the papers and only that I am so grateful for my recovery, it would not be. But there are others, who knowing that I am cured, will be helped as I was."

His left leg was terribly crushed, his left shoulder broken and his scalp cut. He was conveyed to the general hospital, where he died tonight. His mother is a widow and lives at 4 South Broadway.

Benjamin Forbes, a plumber, in ascending a ladder on a building in progress of construction in Essex street, fell about 30 feet this afternoon and fractured his left twelfth besides being bruised on the body and head.

An electric car collided with the wagon of Alderman Lynch on South Broadway this afternoon, throwing out the driver, William Cusack, a plumber employed by Mr. Lynch and demolishing the vehicle. A bicyclist was riding near the car and the approach of both frightened the horse, which jumped across the tracks. Mr. Cusack was bruised on the back and left side, but no bones were broken. The Tariff on Borax Also Lowered.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

San Francisco, Cal., July 21.—The freight war between the railroads, steamships and clipper lines to New York has not ended. The rate on wine which was formerly 75 cents per hundred pounds by rail, 65 cents via Panama, and 45 cents around Cape Horn has been cut to 36 cents by the Panama company, no discrimination being made in the size of shipments. BEAR EXPEDITION Reaches Imprisoned Whalers at Point Barrow.

FEARS OF THE MEN ARE NOW ENDED.

No Danger of Further Disaster.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Seattle, Wash., July 21.—A member of the Bear relief expedition writes from Point Barrow under date of March 27, confirming the news received from Captain Tuttle that the imprisoned whalers had been reached and that they were better off than had been expected. Most of the vessels can be saved and the men cannot have suffered seriously, having subsisted on fish and wild reindeer.

There are 100 men quartered at Cape Smythe, 76 of these in the old Kelly house and the remainder divided up between Charlie Brower's and the old refuge station now run by Prof. McIlhenny.

They were in want of food and clothing, which were at once supplied. Lieut. Jarvis, who met the land expedition which arrived at Point Barrow ahead of the Bear made nearly 2,000 miles in 102 days and his arrival put an end to the troubles of the ice-locked men. He first boarded the Belvidere, and was greeted by Captain Millard, who informed him of the condition of the fleet. The arrival of same reindeer and of the Bear party put an end to the fears of the men, and there is no danger of further distress.

GARCIA'S MEN WITHDRAW

Cubans Will No Longer Fight With the Americans—They Claim to Have a Grievance Against Our Actions at Santiago.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 21.—A special despatch received from Santiago says that General Calixto Garcia has written a letter to General Shafter in which he declares that he is disgusted at his treatment at the hands of the Americans and will consequently withdraw his own forces to the hills, being no longer willing to submit to the indignities to which he has been subjected.

Among the things of which General Garcia complains is the failure of the American commander to officially notify him of the surrender of the Spanish forces under General Toral, and he is also incensed at the fact that he was not invited to be present at the ceremony attending the capitulation of Santiago.

Another of his grievances is the action of General Shafter in retaining the Spanish civil authorites in the administration of their function in Santiago. He says he will no longer co-operate with the forces under General Shafter's command, but will act independently as he did before the American troops landed in Cuba.

General Shafter will return a formal answer to the Cuban leaders tomorrow.

This combination it is further asserted, will support the dynasty, repeat the suspension of constitutional rights and continue the war to the utmost limits.

CAPTURED BY THE MAYFLOWER.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Key West, Fla., July 21.—9.15 a. m.—The British steamer New Foundland, loaded with food supplies, was captured by the Mayflower on Tuesday off Cienfuegos. Two blank shots across her bows brought her to and the Mayflower put a prize crew on board and sent her to Charleston. The Mayflower has on board five Cubans who were picked up at various times by the ships of the blockading fleet. They had fled from Havana and other Cuban ports to escape starvation, as the condition of affairs ashore in Cuba grows worse daily.

PEACE PARTY IS TOO WEAK.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Without any very tangible reason, there has been a notable diminution of the optimistic expressions among officials to the effect that an early peace might be looked for. Possibly this temporary depression is explainable by the fact that private advices, entirely unofficial in character, from sources of information in Europe, indicate that the situation in Spain is such that there is no present hope of overtures from Spain, the government of which country, is apparently in the most exasperating ignorance of the conditions in America. It is apparent to the officials that the peace party in Spain still feels itself too weak to insist upon demanding peace.

Regular Postal Rates to Al Points.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Washington, July 21.—Postmaster General Emory H. Smith said today that the United States domestic postal service would be extended to the Hawaiian Islands as soon as the flag was raised there. The details have not yet been worked out, but it has been determined to make as few changes as possible in the present Hawaiian system for the time being. The regular postal rates will apply to all points within the islands, but it is a question whether the ordinary rates will prevail for mail transported by vessels. It may be necessary to increase the rates slightly.

ARE STILL TALKING

Nashua Merchants on New Railroad

WANT EXTENSION TO STATE LINE ONLY.

Time for Completion Causes a Discussion.

Nashua, July 21.—The Nashua street railway extension continues to be one of the most exciting topics which the citizens of Nashua have had to deal with for the past few years. There is every indication that the company will have to make some definite conditions before the present board of aldermen will grant them a franchise to build the road south of Lawndale. The members of the board speak very strongly against granting a blind franchise which can be locked up in the company safe, kept for speculation or disposed of without the citizens having any say in the matter, and it is altogether likely that if the franchise is granted it will be with the proviso that the road shall be completed within a specified time. Of the sixteen aldermen, nine state that they favor a time limit. These nine are Aldermen Hall, Wood, Dowd, McGuire, Goodhue, Fiske, Page, Burke, and Keeley. The other seven are understood to take a similar view, and it will probably be a united board that will stand on this condition. There has been no question raised as to the length of the limit. Some place it at two years, others five and one or two are willing to grant six or seven years. A compromise will doubtless be effected between the greatest extremes.

A canvass of the merchants on Main street has been made and of twenty-seven merchants, fifteen are strongly for a time limit. Seven refused to express an opinion either way and of the other five, three favored allowing the matter to rest in the hands of the company, the other two had not given the matter sufficient thought to be interviewed. The business men who desire a time limit are Governor Ramsdell, H. S Norwell, W. E. Keeley, Major F. L. Kimball C. S. Clement Samuel Spence, J. H. Field, D. F. Runels, C. W. Greenwood, E. E. Cheney, M. A Taylor, S W. Mansfield, J. W. Connor, H F. Barnard, T. E. McAfee.

But two merchants were found in the entire number who did not favor the extension of the road to the state line. The general statement is that, as long as there is one line to Lowell, it will do no harm to have a second and it is urged that the building of the line will improve all the property along the line and will greatly add to the valuation of the city.

NEW TRAIN SIGNALS.

A trial of a new train signaling system to avoid accidents was held recently by the Boston and Maine road, when an exhibition was given of the efficiency and practicability of an automatic electric, audible, signal system. The trial of this life, and property-saving device was complete and convincing.

The apparatus, in brief, consists of a small dynamo in the cab of each locomotive, occupying less than twelve inches space, a bell in each cab and at every grade crossing, and a third rail in the middle of each roadbed running the length of the road, for the transmission of the electric current.

The trial illustrated the simultaneous warning given by bells both in the engine and at the grade crossing at the approach of a train. The alarm in this instance lasts until the crossing is passed. The engine approached an ordinary flat car and warning was sounded in the cab the moment the locomotive got within danger distance. The third test was with a misplaced switch the bell continuing to ring until the switch was set right.

The new system accomplishes the following results: It locates and signals every moving train on a roadbed within a mile of another train. Both engineers receive the signal. The operation of the signal itself is as simple as the ringing of an electric doorbell.

CONGRESSIONAL TALK.

THE CANDIDATES LOOMING UP—FLYNN OF LAWRENCE LEADING.

The Lawrence correspondent of the Boston Post has the following on the congressiona contest in the Fifth district:

The formal entry of the Hon. A. B. Bruce into the congressional field promises a lively contest for the democratic nomination. Senator Flynn announces that he is in the race to win, and Mr. Bruce expresses equal determination to carry off the honors. Both are lively campaigners. Senator Flynn has the advantage of being nearer to the people in consequence of recent campaigns for the senatorship, in which his popularity was attested by unprecedented majorities. It is nearly ten years since Mr. Bruce was a candidate for public office. In 1884 as the democratic nominee for mayor, he was defeated by nearly 700 but the following year this vote was reversed in his favor. In 1886 he was re-elected mayor by a more substantial majority as the candidate of the democrats and citizens. Owing to divisions in the party, as a candidate for a third term in the fall of 1888, Mr. Bruce was defeated by over 1200 majority, his defeat causing a rupture within the democratic party in Lawrence which is still in evidence.

Senator Flynn relies upon his labor record, to secure him the nomination. If the campaign requires a heavy expenditure of money on his part he will not be able to make it, as he is not wealthy, whereas Mr. Bruce is in a fair way of becoming a millionaire, being connected with a number of street railways and banks in Massachusetts and other money-making enterprises besides having connection with the recently formed National Biscuit company, which is capitalized at $55,000,000.

Efforts are being made to bring the two gentlemen together to avoid, if possible, a contest for the nomination, as it is realized that the nominee must possess all the democratic strength in order to triumph over the republican candidate. A meeting has been proposed to Senator Flynn, but he has thus far declined to give heed to it. His friends suggest that Mr. Bruce might be induced to withdraw upon assurances of support for the mayoralty. It is believed that he would rather serve another series of terms as mayor and equal or excel the record of any democrat that ever held the position, than to go to congress. But there are difficulties in the way of this plan, which would prevent its adoption. The situation presents complications, which may have an important bearing upon the whole future course of local politics.

The republicans are by no means pleased with their congressional situation. Congressman Knox is at home, busily at work repairing his fences, from which Lewis G. Holt has been clipping large sections in this city and at Lowell. Mr. Holt was in the latter city during the week, where, according to Lowell papers, he was cordially received by leading republicans. It is reported that a sentiment exists in Lowell against Mr. Knox because of a prejudice against a third term. In this district the custom has been to give the incumbent two terms, the feeling in favor of which is kept alive by men who consider themselves available as congressional candidates and do not care to wait too long for their term. Mr. Knox has had two terms and three nominations. It is understood that Mr. Holt is making use of the custom argument against Mr. Knox to some effect. This, together with his Grand Army record and his popularity with the veterans, Mr. Holt relies upon to give him the nomination.

The Flynn men are much encouraged by the flat-footed announcement of John H. Harrington's Lowell paper in his favor. As the candidate two years ago, Mr. Harrington could have the nomination this year if he so desired. His espousal of Mr. Flynn's cause, it is believed, will do that gentleman's candidacy a power of good in Lowell.

SUPT. CHENEY, Whose Attention is Called to the Condition of Our Streets.

THE WORST STREET.

WE STAND CORRECTED BY ANOTHER RESIDENT.

Mr. Editor—Having read in your valuable paper last evening a communication in regard to the condition of our streets, it pleased me greatly to find that there was somebody to protest against the neglect of our public streets. They speak of Common street and its filthy condition and also of Hale street. While these two streets may be sadly in need of repairs, they are simply grand in comparison with Southerland street, which is located in Centralville. This street is nothing more or less than a sandy desert and the drivers of teams heavily laden passing through this street within the past three or four days during the excessive heat must have nearly killed their horses. The sand is a foot deep and it is almost an impossibility for horses to pull through it. I presume after the heavy rainfall of yesterday, every child in Lowell can go over there and make mud pies, and it will be more severe for the horses to pull through the mud than through the heavy sand. This is a public street accepted by the city supposed to have good roadway and sidewalks but there is hardly any semblance of a sidewalk in this thoroughfare as the deep sand is thrown up on what is supposed to be the sidewalk, which makes it as disagreeable for pedestrians as it is for horses. I would naturally think that Superintendent Cheney, residing in this section of the city, would have a little pride in keeping the roadways of his district in better order.

ANDREWS OPERA CO.

PRESENTS MIKADO AT THE COZY LAKEVIEW THEATRE.

The Andrews Opera company presented "The Mikado" at the cozy Lakeview theatre last evening and will repeat it for the remainder of the week, with matinees this afternoon and tomorrow. "The Bohemian Girl" drew a large audience every night for the first part of the week and last night notwithstanding the threatening weather the attendance was good.

The Andrews company gave a clever performance of "The Mikado" and was liberally applauded. George Andrews upheld the part of Nanki Poo, and the part of Katiska was taken by Miss Carrie Godfrey, a new addition to the company. She made a hit and at once became a general favorite.

The Three Little Maids from School were Myta French, Nancy Atkinson and Pearl Hightser and their singing and acting caught the crowd. C. A. Parker was convulsingly funny as Ko Ko. Next week a double bill will be presented. "Pinafore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" without any increase in prices.

PLEASANT GATHERING.

Half a hundred of the Paige Street church parishioners gathered at the home of the pastor, Rev. E. A. Wilson, in Eleventh street last night, for a lawn party, but all the pleasure was indoors, where Mr. Charles Allen presided at the piano. Besides the instrumental numbers there were solos by Miss Mabel Miller and a duet by Miss Miller and Miss Edith Nevers. All present joined in singing "Amercia."

Ice cream and cake were served during the evening.

HORSE RAN AWAY.

While the two daughters of Brig.-Gen. Adelbert Ames were out driving in the vicinity of Hood Farm Wednesday afternoon, their horse became frightened and ran away. The young ladies had the presence of mind to jump out when they saw that the animal was beyond their control and by that act, they saved themselves from perhaps fatal injuries. The horse ran on for some time and the buggy was demolished.

UNKNOWN WRITER

AND SHOULD BE APPREHENDED BY POLICE.

Evidently Has a Grudge Against One Person.

That most despicable of creatures, and anonymous letter writer, is plying his nefarious craft about town and has been for some time past, and although both the police and postal authorities have been notified, the fellow, for appparently the sneak is of the male gender, continues his screeds with impunity.

The principal person attacked is a well known young man in the liquor business who, for some time past, has been getting the vilest kind of letters from this anonymous writer. Then, but not very recently, The Sun and other papers received unsigned "personals" stating that the young man in question was about to marry and the last one that The Sun received stated that he had been married to an estimable young woman, whose name was mentioned, in the police court.

In the meantime, the young woman received many scurrilous letters as did a well known physician and a clergyman, all of which were of the filthiest nature. A comparison of the letters received showed that all were undoubtedly penned by the same person.

The police and Postmaster Thompson were notified but whatever efforts they may have made to detect the criminal have, up to date, been unsuccessful.

A short time ago, the letters ceased to come to the principal victim of the attack and he believed that he would be bothered no longer. But on Wednesday, the scamp broke out again in all his malignity and sent several letters to well known physicians, signing the name of the young man and requesting them to call at once at the place where he is engaged. Some of the doctors responded hurriedly to the calls to find that the man was not there and knew nothing of any letters.

Such a scoundrel as this unknown is obnoxious and dangerous to a community and a great effort should be made by the authorities to put him where he belongs, behind the bars.

HOUSE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Durrell entertained the Sons and Daughters of Maine at their home in Lawrence street last night, after the original intention of holding a lawn party was found unwise because of the dampness outside. A program with literary numbers was a part of the enjoyment, and ice cream, cake and fruits were served.

DRACUT PARTY TONIGHT.

The lawn party to have been held in Dracut last night for the benefit of the Volunteer Aid association, was postponed until tonight on account of the weather. Many people went to the meeting house during the evening in the expectation that it would be held within doors.

A SEVERE STORM

THE SUN'S MOTORS WERE BURNED OUT.

House Struck and Damaged in Dracut.

The storm, which in other places, was the most severe in a long time, were quite easy on Lowell for the casualties, comparatively speaking, were trifling.

All morning the religious ones were praying for rain, the oppressive heat sorely trying their patience, while the irreligious ones swore roundly and drank everything within reach only to perspire more freely. Shortly after noon, dark, ominous-looking clouds began to gather in the heavens and the fruit dealers and others who display their wares outdoors began to gather them up and take them under cover. About two o'clock darkness and a brisk breeze came up simultaneously and it was necessary to light up in order to work. Then came a big flash of lightning and zip! went the motor which furnishes power to The Sun's linotype machines. A few moments later a report like that of a good-sized torpedo came from The Sun's operator's room followed by a few Spanish expressions from the operator, for the lightning had burned out the fuse and The Sun's Associated Press wire was compelled to "loaf" for a short time. Repairs were made in quick order however, and the damage was not great and The Sun got out the best paper in town, as usual.

For several minutes after the thunder and lightning began to rage, there was no rain, but when it did come down it came in huge quantities and everything and everybody in its path were thoroughly soaked. Those who were in a position to see it state that the lightning presented a very beautiful sight at times illuminating the entire sky, as long and fantastically shaped bolts chased each other everywere across the sky. The shower continued one hour and a half and had a cooling effect upon parched humanity.

A family living on Liberty street had a very narrow escape from lightning stroke. Two of the children were swinging in a hammock attached to two trees and when the storm came they were called into the house. They had just reached the steps when a bolt of lightning struck one of the trees to which the hammock was attached, barking it from top to bottom. The shock could be felt plainly in the house and all the crockery was shattered. Had the children remained in the hammock a minute longer it is probable that they would have been killed.

At C. F. Hatch's box shop the dynamo was burned out and the factory shut down for the afternoon.

The 3 o'clock car from Lawrence was half an hour late and had an exciting trip. The lightning continually hit the wire, going through the car to the motor, to the consternation of the passengers some of the women threatening to faint. Before the car reached Merrimack Square, some of the women were hysterical and were taken into Carter & Sherburne's drug store for treatment.

In Dracut, the storm played havoc with the wires at the Merrimack Woolen mills and at Hodge & Steven's store. The house of J. B. Bennett on Upland street received a ripping out from a bolt that struck a tall flag pole on top of the house and passed down through the house. It ripped the plastering off the walls of the front rooms and the clapboards off the front side of the house. The damage will be $300 or $400. No one was injured.

Several trees were struck in the suburbs.

The acts and resolves of the last legislature have been received at the city clerk's office and may be had free by those desiring copies.

THE LOWELL SUN

SUN BUILDING, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press.
$3.00 Per Year. 25c. Per Month.

A FACT

The Sun has a larger circulation than any two papers printed in Lowell, morning or evening. It has double the circulation of all the other evening papers in Lowell combined.

On the basis of circulation, its advertising rates are much cheaper than those of any other paper in Lowell.

For news, for illustrations, for enterprise, and for advertising it is

LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

It is remarkable that John C. Wilson should be introduced at a public meeting thus early as the next mayor of Lowell.

The conviction is spreading in Spain that there is to be a funeral, and the chief matter now awaiting decision is who will have charge.

What was supposed to be news cables may have been but the names of some of the Cuban cities extending beyond the three-mile limit.

It must be a source of continual excitement to Uncle Sam to have a member of his family so far beyond his reach on the wide Pacific, as is Hawaii.

When Schley telegraphed that he had Cervera's fleet in Santiago harbor and that it could never escape, he made the greatest prediction of the present war.

General Duffield, one of Alger's Michigan friends, failed to make much of an impression before Santiago. He is as much of a misfit as is Alger himself.

Too bad there are no more Spanish fleets on this side the Atlantic to be destroyed. We have many undistinguished seamen waiting for an opportunity to become commodores.

There are many republican candidates for re-election this year, who will get a rousing defeat. Those three men who bolted when the question of the assessors' ordinance was to be settled, will have to reckon with their constituents.

The city of Haverhill has a somewhat different method of appointing a license commissioner from that of Lowell. The mayor nominates and the aldermen confirm. The mayor has nominated Isaac Poor and Frank S. Atwood and both have been rejected by the aldermen.

It has been suggested that the United States and Spain have now a means of arriving at a basis of settlement through the generals at Santiago. These generals are in direct communication with their respective governments and can talk over the terms upon which these governments would be satisfied to end the war; but it is doubtful if Spain is willing just yet to consent to any reasonable conditions of peace; yet it is beyond question that the longer she continues the struggle, the worse it will be for herself.

The Holyoke Telegram, a new paper which has started to preach straight democratic doctrine in that city speaking of the trouble over the city charter there says:

"The new charter was adopted by a big majority of the people of Holyoke in order that the executive authority might be centered in one head as much as possible. Now there comes a howl from a certain quarter because the executive officer of the city proposes to exercises the executive functions vested in him by that charter. Why don't those who want to see government by injunction permanently established here go to the legislature and get the new charter abolished?"

It is not so long ago since a similar state of affairs existed in Lowell. The power of appointing heads of departments was vested in the mayor, through republican agencies, but as soon as a democrat was elected to the office these same republicans went to the legislature and had the power of appointment replaced with the city council. With the republicans, it is a game of grab and when they are beaten in local contests, they appeal to the legislature.

FLYNN FOR CONGRESS.

Commenting upon The Sun's favorable notice of Senator Flynn of Lawrence as candidate for congress in the Fifth district, the Lawrence Register has the following:

Senator Flynn has the advantage of coming direct from the people, with their unprecedented endorsement of 2021 majority in Lawrence. No candidate, however popular, ever came within hundreds of votes of this majority, which was secured over a clean, respectable, and thoroughly qualified republican candidate. Mr. Bruce, whose name is mentioned for the democratic nomination, has not been in politics for some years. He was unfortunately associated with a rupture within the party, which, whatever may be said otherwise, has not been healed.

On the other hand Mr. Flynn has made no mistakes in his public career. He has been a stout champion of those things in which the people were interested. He has made a notable labor record, which would serve him to a purpose if he should go into congress, for there labor matters will be discussed in the next few years as never before in the history of the country. National laws for regulation of the hours of labor and other important matters are in prospect.

Laying aside Senator Flynn's record on labor, the element of popularity will have much to do with determining the democratic nomination for congress. In this connection, Senator Flynn stands on the surest ground. His popularity has stood the test. He has done nothing in his public career to lose confidence of the people."

THE ANGUISH OF DEFEAT.

Few but those who witness the defeat of brave soldiers fighting for their country can realize the ignominy of the ordeal. Whether Spaniards or Americans, the feeling is much the same and how terrible it is may be imagined from the character of Capt. Moreu's farewell to his crew. He was in command of the Cristobal Colon, the flier of the Spanish fleet, that made such a noble effort to escape from Santiago harbor through the line of United States warships. Both captain and crew did all in their power and risked everything in vain. Captured and led to their station on Seavey's Island, when officers and men were to be separated, Capt. Moreu asked permission to say a parting word to his crew. His grief was too great to be expressed in words and with flowing tears he could only take each man by the hand and kiss him as he would a child. The men were equally affected and at parting they held him in embrace as a child might a parent in parting forever. It was a most affecting sight and one that touched the hearts of the most obdurate enemies of Spain who had witnessed it. Yet that scene is but a picture of what might be witnessed if one of our own captains were so humbled and had to part with his men under similar circumstances.

CRISP GOSSIP.

The elements tried hard to "do" The Sun yesterday, but were as unsuccessful as all others who would make the attempt. The first flash of lightning demoralized the motor which runs our type-setting machines before the second edition went to press. A few minutes later, the fuse in our Associated Press wire was burned out and for a time cut off our war news. But though slightly disfigured we were still in the ring and with the aid of Derby & Morse, the Courier-Citizen, and the Postal Telegraph company, we bobbed up again serenely at the usual hour and the day's circulation was, as ever, the largest in the city.

The band concert which did not take place on the North common Wednesday evening, to the disappointment of thousands will surely occur on next Wednesday evening. Assistant Superintendent Gray, speaking of the supposed neglect of the managers of the concert says that it was the intention of the committee to have the concerts fortnightly instead of weekly. The location of the fourth concert has not yet been settled but Mr. Gray is of the belief that if a suitable place can be found in Pawtucketville popular approval would be met by holding it in that largely populated and exceedingly interesting section of the city.

"'Tis education forms the common mind,
Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined."

Truly sang Pope and I feel for a youngster whom I noticed a few days ago at a down town fruit store. The little one was not old enough to know better, but the mother who accompanied the child was, but evidently didn't. The little one, after longingly eyeing the luscious fruit temptingly displayed pounced upon a cherry and ate it with relish and then took another one. Having thus whetted his appetite safely, the little one became more bold and going to the side of the biggest peaches on the stand grabbed a particularly large one and ran into a neighboring doorway with it. The mother, who watched her hopeful, followed her into the doorway to chastise her you think? Not much. Once inside, the mother carefully placed a handkerchief about the little one's neck lest she soil her dress and then taking the peach, broke it in halves, carefully removed the stone, and giving the child one half sat down on the stairs and ate the other half herself. And she was not in rags, neither did she appear to be half starved.

THE ARENA OF POLITICS

AN ENSLAVED PEOPLE HELD IN BONDAGE BY DEBT.

Our Country Appears to Be on the Brink of Ruin Which It Cannot Escape, but God Is on the Side of Justice, and the Forces of Reform Must Triumph.

The more any man analyzes this question of mammon worship the clearer he will see that "the love of money is the root of all evil."

Bear in mind that interest is the sacrifice demanded by this money god. The worship of the true God teaches "owe no man anything." "Give to him that asketh of thee, and from him that would borrow turn thou not away." "Do good and lend, hoping for nothing."

Mammon worship in essence is make debts. By every possible device, in every conceivable way, make debts. Debt is slavery. When everybody is in debt, then everybody is enslaved. This is the result of national debts. Everybody in that nation is bound, bonded, enslaved.

The reason why it was stated that the diseased state of the world had reached the last stage is this: National debts are never to be paid. They are to be permanent. They come to stay. It is the capstone, the climax of mammon worship. God's love of liberty, of freedom, is completely set aside. Everybody in the bonded nation is forced to pay interest, to sacrifice to this golden image.

Wars have been made to bond nations and are used now to increase their debts. Our country is completely under the reign of mammon worship. This war with Spain will be made to produce another crop of bonds. While we pose as a nation of free men, who love humanity so well that we make war to free Cuba, we propose to increase the bondage of our own citizens and posterity at the same time.

Every war increases national debts. Every debt is another link in the chain that binds the race in slavery. And as this system of bondage is permanent the doom of the race is slavery. That is the culmination of our mammon idolatry. The debts of the railroads and corporations are to be permanent too.

The policy of civil government everywhere defeats the worship of God. No nation on earth worships God. He designs the race to be free and happy. The policy now is to make men slaves and miserable.

Debts will accomplish this end. Where is the agency to defeat this? If any party opposes bonds, debts and interest, it is opposed by the government with all its power and by the church too. Why? Because both believe in interest. Interest, usury, or this per cent sacrifice to our mammon god, is the tap-root evil of the world politically.

So if the church and governments of earth are left to free the world slavery is to be its eternal doom. God's purposes will be forever defeated. Old satan will be master of the world for all time. But the "Lord reigns, let the earth rejoice." If God had not revealed in the Bible by prophecy that satan's kingdom would be overthrown on earth, we would be left in hopeless despair. But we have "a more sure word of prophecy." We are not kept in the dark. "The kingdoms of this world are to become the kingdoms of our God and his Christ, and he is to reign forever" (Revelation xi, 15). The devil has held a mortgage on the governments of the world for near 6,000 years, and the time is here for the great God to lift it.

The prophet Daniel saw a great image with a head of gold (chapter 2), and four great beasts came upon the sea (chapter 7). These represented four great empires that would arise in the world in succession. Standing on this high prophetic eminence, the prophet saw the Persian empire which overspread the earth at that time go down, and the Medo-Persian come up and go down, and the Grecian empire come up and spread over the world and then go down, followed by the Roman empire that was symbolized by a beast diverse from all others, having "great iron teeth," signifying the cruelty of its reign. Then he saw a stone, cut out of the mountain without hands smite the great beast and become a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

In another place this stone kingdom or government is called the "ancient of days," or a return of the true republic which God instituted in Israel. That was the first republic on earth. Their God told them to choose men to rule over them "who hated God and hated covetousness."

In another place this last and final form of government for the world, this stone kingdom, is described as the "people of the saints of the Most High taking the kingdom and possessing it forever, even forever and ever."

Old Daniel saw what we now witness—viz, the people coming to the front to take the civil governments and control them.

Old satan's kind of government has always been kingdoms or monarchies. The king claimed to rule by divine right, but it was by devilish wrong. God's form of government was republican. Israel clamored for a king to rule over them, to be in fashion with other nations, and God gave them Saul for a king under protest. Our republic is the Israel restored, the nation "born in a day," and the only government that ever was born in a day. Mammon idolatry has perverted our republic until it is only a republic in name. Instead of choosing men "who fear God and hate covetousness" we elect men who seek office in order to make money regardless of God or man. The man who comes out of office without being rich has missed his opportunity.

Mammon idolatry rules everything now, politically and religiously. No man can succeed now in church or state unless he has the mark of this beast in his forehead and in his hands.

The only way to secure reform anywhere is to abolish Mammon worship. So long as the chief end of man, of business, of commerce, of everything, is to get money, so long will we be defeated if we monkey around to secure our pet measure of any kind. Division means defeat. The high priests of Mammon unite and conquer. The people, the toilers, the wealth producers, have divided their forces heretofore and met defeat every time.

The masses have been deceived. The cunning high priests of Mammon have made them believe a multitude of falsehoods; that the tariff or bimetallism or immigration or the single tax or some other side issue such as prohibition of the rum traffic—that these things are the disturbing elements. Thousands and millions of men believe today that if some of the questions were settled correctly our political troubles would end. But that is a great mistake, and the Mammon priests know it. Their business is to draw interest from everybody in every turn of the wheel. Their business and their interests are directly against the interest of the wealth producers. They get the wealth without producing it. They do this by controlling the government by and through the Democratic and Republican parties. They own them both. There is no issue between these parties that amounts to the ashes of a rush. But they keep the masses deceived by making them believe that the tariff or bimetallism or some other thing is of great importance.

All the reform forces, all labor organizations, every laboring man, should immediately swear eternal enmity to these old parties. The party that is in favor of bonds and redemption money is in favor of enslaving the toilers. The leaders know that. It is their method of growing rich in idleness. No man can serve God and indorse the doctrines of the two dominant parties on the money question. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

Hence this battle now raging is a war between sin and righteousness, between right and wrong, between serving God and serving satan.

No man can vote in favor of bonds, debts and usury without violating the clearly revealed will of God. Hence no man can vote the Republican or Democratic ticket without sinning. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon." We have been deceived too long already. It is time we wake up. We are slumbering over a volcano now.

Mammon idolatry has about ruined us. The ballot, this most sacred of all things to freemen, is lightly esteemed. It is a thing of merchandise. It is sold and bought in the open market. It is cheap too. Thousands upon thousands of freemen will sell their vote for a glass of beer or the promise of a job of work or a dollar. Our country is in the jaws of death when we reach such a state. But we are there. Elections are a farce.

Money, bribery, force, starvation, destitution—these drive voters to the polls like sheep to the shambles. They only hope to relieve present hard conditions.

The man that votes against the cause which produced these hard conditions and the demoralization which must result from them votes to serve God.

This is the object of every labor or reform organization. Hence they are called the "people of the saints of the Most High."

They are working and voting for humanity and for God, and they will succeed. They are on God's side and must win.

They are working to secure a perfect form of government in which all men will be equal in law—a true republic. This is the government to be set up, and the prophet said it would "stand forever."—Rev. D. Oglesby in Chicago Express.

To Wipe Out the Trust Breed.

The nihilists of Russia now say that killing czars is a waste of time. They could kill off two dozen czars and be no better off, according to an eminent nihilistic authority.

The poor nihilists are learning about czars what our farmers learned about potato bugs. The most energetic picking of them does no good. You must find something to sprinkle on them. The only thing to sprinkle on czars is education. Long years of education are ahead for the Russian people, and long years of czars. The preposterous brood of aliens foisted on Russia must continue to rule until two Russians of every three know that a czar is a monstrosity. Then there will be no more czars.

By the same token when we get a little more education we shall get rid of our little czars of the trust breed. We are not so very wise ourselves, with our licensed gambling in bread and our making of laws for every sort of man except the man who works and produces. But education, discontent and increased difficulty in getting money will do the work. Two hundred millions of educated men and women nearly all poor will not be fooled or managed as easily as 70,000,000 of semi-educated mongrels fairly well off. Remember that, dearly beloved brethren, and make hay while you may.—New York Journal.

Plutocracy and Progress.

Without question the principles of plutocracy are all of the retrograde character, and a nation subservient to them is in its decline, going down hill, with its sun of progress sinking in the western horizon and clouds of darkness and bigotry from the ocean of despotism originated by its own selfishness. Plutocracy is a nation wrecker. Plutocracy never made a nation, but it has destroyed many of them.

Plutocracy says to humanity: "If I can't live off you, I will destroy you. If I can't be on your back, I will break it. If I can't eat at the first table, you shall not eat at any table."

A similar assumption is made by the plutocratic press when it freezes out all news not in harmony with those tyrannical policies.—Social Democrat.

MOVED AT LAST

The President's Mandate—General Miles Sailed With Troops Yesterday—Garcia Resigns as Commander—Cervera is Coming to Boston—Bryan at Atlanta.

Washington, July 22.—General Miles, leading the military expedition against Porto Rico, started at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Siboney, Cuba, for the point on the island of Porto Rico where it is the intention that the troops shall land. It is expected that he will wait at some spot on the route for the expeditions from Tampa, Newport News and New York to fall into this column. These expeditions are all under way, some of them with two or three days' start of General Miles, so that the delay should not be very great.

After all the difficulty about the naval convoy and the first conclusion of the naval authorities that none was necessary, the strength of that now furnished, after a peremptory order to Sampson from the president to bestir himself, is surprising. There are a battleship of the first class, the Massachusetts; an effective protected cruiser, the Cincinnati; a speedy and well-armed gunboat, the Annapolis, and four vessels of the auxiliary navy which have already proved by their performance in Cuban waters that they are fully equal to the ordinary gunboat in offensive power—the Gloucester, which distinguished herself in the destruction of

THE GLOUCESTER.

Cervera's squadron; the Wasp, which has attained an enviable reputation as a disturber of Spanish blockhouses; the Leyden, which for a time was the sole representative of United States power in Havana harbor, and the Dixie.

Secretary Alger believes that General Miles on the Yale will arrive at his destination Sunday morning with 3000 men under his immediate command. A day later 4000 men on the transports will arrive, and the day following that 3500 more. Whether the landing will be deferred until the arrival of this entire force, or whether General Miles will take the initiative and hoist the flag himself on Porto Rican soil is left to the discretion of that officer. It is the department's determination that he shall not lack for troops or equipment, and this first expedition may be followed by others as fast as the troops can be gotten ready until word comes from the general that he needs no more. General Schwan's brigade comprising the Fifth, the Eleventh and Nineteenth United States infantry, a splendid body of trained soldiers, sailed from Tampa yesterday to join Miles, and if the Porto Rican expedition is not an immediate success it will not be for lack of disposition in the war department to supply every requisite.

The state department has come to have fully as great a sense of appreciation of Dewey's diplomatic abilities as the country has of his naval skill and courage, and the best evidence of this is that it has not found it necessary up to this point to interfere in any way either to protest or to amend his works.

The navy department has discovered that the Monterey will not arrive at Cavite until Aug. 6, that being the advices received at the department from the captain of the vessel when she touched at Honolulu. The admiral's announcement of the arrival of the second detachment of United States troops at Cavite has given great comfort at the war department, which was not altogether at ease concerning the first expedition lying between Spaniards and the insurgents and without being able to depend very largely upon either. With these added troops it will now be possible to demand the surrender of Manila, but it is gathered here that our purpose is to defer such a movement until all the troops now afloat have arrived at Manila bay, unless the attitude of the insurgents force prompter action on the part of the American commanders, military and naval.

Preparation for the dispatch of the Watson squadron to European waters is going on uninterruptedly, but the departure necessarily will await the movement of the warships at Porto Rico, the Massachusetts and other ships being required for conveying the troops to that island. This disposes of a report that the expedition had been abandoned. The report was the more mischievous at this time, as it indicated a purpose to yield to the implied threats of European sources that a European coalition would result if the American warships attacked the coast of Spain. Neither the state nor the navy department looks for any embarrassment from European quarters without Spain as a result of the naval movement against the peninsula.

Had the army troopships been able to go to Porto Rico without a naval convoy the Watson squadron could have got away within the next few days, as the war board had wished to close all preliminaries by next Saturday; but as the Massachusetts, Columbia, Cincinnati, Dixie and Yale, together with several lesser craft, were considered necessary for a patrol for the Miles expedition, this changed plans slightly. The Dixie is almost certain to be in the Watson squadron, and the Massachusetts is likely to be. Secretary Long expressly says, however, that the delay of the Watson squadron is incident to convoying the troops to Porto Rico, and does not mean that the start will be postponed until the Porto Rico operations are concluded.

The navy department has obtained a very striking conception of the tremendous power of a shell bursting within the enclosure of a battleship from a report just received from Captain Taylor of the Indiana. Aside from the actual bursting energy of the shell, it is perceived from his report that great danger was experienced from fire, owing to the fact that the Indiana is not, like some of the battleships of later construction, fitted with fire-proof wood throughout. It is safe to assume that this report, taken in connection with the destruction of the Spanish vessels in a large part by fire off Santiago, will lead the navy department to redouble instead of relax its efforts to protect the American warships from fire by all known scientific means.

Captain Taylor's report, which is dated July 6, reads as follows: "About 12 midnight last night the ship was struck by a shell, apparently from an 8 3-5 mortar, which pierced the deck, the flash plate between beam 76 and 77—four inches from the starboard rail. The shell exploded just forward of the cabin door, fragments piercing the cabin water pipe bulkhead in two places near the starboard cabin door. Large fragments pierced the watertight berth deck in two places, entering the paymaster's stateroom. Large fragments also pierced and completely wrecked the watertight hatch plate, leading to the orlop deck. The rooms in the vicinity on both sides were badly wrecked, considerable damage being done to the furniture and corrugated bulkheads, the bookcase knocked over and many books injured. A leak started in the fire main by a small fragment, and the whole compartment was so filled with smoke that it necessitated taking up the battle hatches on the main deck. Only a few sparks of fire were observed, which were quickly put out, as a stream of water was played into the compartment immediately after the shell struck." Captain Taylor ends with the statement that no one was injured, and that his ship was in perfect condition for battle.

Admiral Sampson telegraphs to the secretary of the navy that there has been no delay in furnishing ample convoy to General Miles. A day or two ago the Cincinnati and New Orleans were placed at his disposal. The Columbia and Yale, carrying troops, are both powerfully armed, says the admiral's telegram, and this is an ample convoy for his expedition and to effect his landing. The Annapolis, Wasp and Leyden have been ordered from Nipe, the Gloucester also added, and the three monitors ordered from Key West. Under these circumstances there has been no lack of assistance. General Miles preferred to wait, the delay was his own. However, in further answer to his request, the Massachusetts and Dixie were also added, and he has probably started.

This statement shows that General Miles will be backed in effecting his landing by a strong squadron of the navy. In addition to the vessels named in the statement, it is officially admitted for the first time that the powerful monitors, Terror, Amphitrite and Puritan, which have been at Key West, are under orders to proceed to Porto Rico to assist in the reduction of the Spanish forts there. It is known also to be not unlikely—indeed it is probable—that still other vessels of Sampson's squadron will participate in the reduction of the fortifications of San Juan.

The authorities have been somewhat perplexed by an incident connected with the purchase of the Niotheroy. A communication was recently received by the state department from the Brazilian authorities saying that prompt payment for the cruiser was expected. This was turned over to the navy department, which has now responded that payment has already been made through the parties from whom the purchase was negotiated.

GARCIA RESIGNS HIS POST.

Port Antonio, July 22.—General Calixto Garcia, in charge of the Cuban forces in the operations about Santiago, notified General Shafter that he had tendered his resignation as commander of the insurgents of the eastern department. This action on the part of General Garcia is regarded as a ruse, and is believed to have as its object the drawing a vote of confidence from the leaders of the Cuban junta instead of an honest declaration of hostility to the American plans regarding Santiago.

That General Garcia has not seriously retired from the Cuban army is disclosed by the fact that he has just agreed with General Castillo to march their Cuban forces against Holguin, and that both Garcia and Castillo have joined in a request to General Gomez to unite with them in driving the Spanish out of all the other provinces prior to the American attack on Havana. General Garcia's troops have been withdrawn to the mountains.

VALUE OF PROJECTILES.

Washington, July 22.—Thus far not a word has been received to show what kind of projectiles did effective work in Santiago. Captain O'Neill of the ordnance bureau is particularly interested in this branch for the scientific deductions which will be afforded, and he has sent orders for detailed reports on the effects of all kinds of naval ordnance, including the dynamite projectiles thrown by the Vesuvius. The press reports concerning the dynamite projectiles indicated that they had done fearful havoc, but the observations since then within the fortifications do not show that they did serious damage. The technical reports will disclose just how much effectiveness can be secured from the various appliances now in use by the navy, some of them being in their experimental stages.

KILLED SPANISH OFFICERS.

Hong Kong, July 22.—A Spanish vessel, the Vosol, having on board a native crew from the Visayes islands, is in the hands of the insurgents. The crew revolted, killed the Spanish officers and reached Tanyabao, in the southern part of Luzon. There they quarreled with the Tagalen insurgents and returned to Iloilo, which is looked upon as indicating that the Visayans are unwilling to join the Tagalens. In any case it is considered that the Philippine islands will never be amalgamated and that they will never return to Spanish rule. Therefore, the only alternative, in the opinion of the best informed people, is foreign rule, American or British.

BRYAN IN ATLANTA.

Atlanta, July 22.—Colonel W. J. Bryan, at the head of the Third Nebraska volunteers, reached Atlanta at noon yesterday. He was met at the train by several friends, who started to escort him to the Kimball. By the time the party reached the doors of the hotel the crowd became so dense that progress was impossible. Colonel Bryan graciously responded to the cheers and calls for a speech, and, mounting a stone hitching block, said: "I am glad to be with you again. I am greatly pleased that my regiment will have an opportunity of seeing the Confederate veterans, and know that in our present struggle they will have an opportunity to fight side by side with some of these old soldiers and their sons."

HELPING OUR SOLDIERS.

New York, July 22.—Appreciating the great opportunity offered for extending help to the thousands of young men stationed in the various camps at home and abroad, the international committee of Young Men's Christian associations at the outbreak of the war organized the "army and navy christian commission". Large tents, usually about 40x60 feet, were purchased and located in the different brigades and equipped to extend physical aid and comfort, as well as religious privileges, to the soldiers. Trained secretaries have been sent to take charge of the work, and the tents are furnished with tables, writing materials, games, daily papers, books, magazines, and comfortable seats. Barrels of ice water are supplied, and everything possible is done to surround the men with helpful and restraining influences. Comforts and delicacies have been given to the sick when possible, and the soldiers themselves are emphatic in the praise of the work the committee has done. The Y. M. C. A. tents are about the only places of resort and convenience for the soldiers, excepting canteens and places of that character.

There are now about 60 of these tents in the different camps of the country and in Cuba and Manila. The treasurer reports that the very large demands which have been made have entirely exhausted the gifts which have been received up to the present, and it is feared that it will be necessary to reduce the expenses very greatly to the great deprivation of the soldiers unless more funds are promptly contributed. The treasurer of the commission is F. S. Schenck of the Mercantile National bank of this city.

BOMBARDMENT THREATENED.

Hong Kong, July 22.—Advices from Manila up to July 13 are to the effect that unless the Spaniards surrendered in the meantime Admiral Dewey would bombard the fortifications of Manila by the end of that week, provided the troops were ready to take possession immediately. The first regiment is already in the field at Paranaque, two miles from Manila.

The insurgents are constantly harrassing the Spaniards on both sides of the city, but they are checked by the big guns of the Malate and Santa Misa forts.

The second detachment of the American expeditionary force arrived in excellent condition, though four died on the voyage. The American transports have hoisted the American flag on an island supposed to be Wake Island, in the Marshall group.

General Aguinaldo has organized the Philippine cabinet at Bacoor, with the following personnel: President of the council, General Aguinaldo; secretary of war, Baldimiro Aguinaldo, nephew of General Aguinaldo; secretary of the interior, Leandro Ibajra; secretary of state, Mariano Trias.

RUMOR ABOUT CERVERA.

Annapolis, July 22.—A rumor, which cannot be traced to an authoritative source, says that Admiral Cervera had expressed a determination not to return to his native country at the close of hostilities between the United States and Spain; that the admiral has decided to take up his residence in Boston, whither he will repair with his son, Lieutenant Cervera, who is also a prisoner here.

SPAIN'S ARMY

At Manila May Also Surrender.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Manila, Philippine Islands, July 17, via Hong Kong, July 21.—Rear Admiral Dewey may decide to capture Manila before General Merritt arrives here.

In view of the possibility of an early peace, and the news from Cuba, the insurgents are renewing their activity. There have been vigorous attacks and a slight bombardment on the outskirts of the city to which the Spaniards replied with an extravagant shelling. The Spaniards now say they do not believe the reinforcements promised them will ever reach here and they despair of success. But they condemn the proposal to retire to the citadel, which is utterly defenceless, as such a step will merely invite slaughter. Therefore they believe it would be better to surrender. But the Spaniards are afraid of public censure. However, they will probably be compelled to surrender as soon as food is dangerously scarce. They may pretend to fight the Americans for the sake of appearances; but the result will not be long in doubt if Admiral Dewey resolves to capture Manila with the forces he has at his disposal.

OLD GLORY

Will Wave Over Porto Rico.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The authoritative declaration was made today that the island of Porto Rico was to be held as a permanent possession of this country as the price of the war. The sub-joined practically official statement was made to the Associated Press today:

"Porto Rico will be kept by the United States. That is settled and has been the plan from the first. Once taken, it will pass forever into the hands of the United States and there never has been any other thought. Its possession will go toward making up the heavy expense of the war to the United States. Our flag will float over the island permanently."

The same authority says the future of the Philippines is a matter of doubt and that so far there is no certain policy finally adopted regarding these islands. They are subject to developments in the war situation on the Pacific. It is intimated, however, that nothing yet is definitely settled but that the Ladrone Islands might follow Porto Rico, and become our permanent possession, being valuable as a coaling station.

FROM SHAFTER'S CABLE OFFICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 20, via KINGSTON, JA., July 21.—10.15 a. m.—General Shafter has opened a cable office here and is in communication with Washington regarding the disposition of the fifth army corps, which consists of those troops, which came with him from Tampa and the reinforcements from four transports, which have since been unloaded. Except the 33rd and part of the 34th Michigan, none of the latter have been in action, but all are encamped in the same place and as far as health considerations go, General Shafter is of the opinion that the Fifth corps could join the Porto Rican expedition under General Miles as soon as Santiago fell. This was the intention when the invasion army left the United States. But the condition of the men now, according to the preparation is such that the entire corps should return north at once. General Miles has cabled that he does not want and will not need a single man among them and he believes that after the hard campaign they should be given a rest of at least two or three weeks.

General Shafter's messages to the same effect have been most urgent, and the doctors say the men should be sent into camp into the mountains of North Carolina or western Maine for a month. Washington agrees to this and will do everything possible, so the cable despatches say today, to carry the army away from here.

The cavalry division has been sent into the mountains at its own request to see if it cannot get into shape to join General Miles and if no fever develops the men may go to San Juan de Porto Rico. The 24th infantry is acting as guards and as nurses at the hospital at Jaragua and more of them are needed. The colored troops are all likely to remain hereto attend the sick and hold Santiago.

General Shafter has cabled to Washington that it is imperatively necessary that he should have more immunes sent to him quickly and the probability is that a corps will leave within the next ten days.

All our men are now encamped on the fighting line, where they have been for two weeks, except General Wheeler's men, who have been sent into the hills. General Wheeler is still ill, but he resists the pleas of his friends to return to the United States.

SANTIAGO TROOPS WILL REST.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Secretary Alger said today that the troops which were in the engagement at Santiago would not be sent to Porto Rico and there was no desire to use them there. They will remain in Cuba until the yellow fever has been entirely stamped out. General Miles did not think it advisable to take any troops to Porto Rico that were liable to have contracted fever and in this conclusion the department concurred.

LAST RECRUITS

For the Ninth Regiment Started Yesterday.

THREE MORE MEN FOR FORT WARREN.

A Recruiting Station for Lawrence.

Eight men left the Boston & Albany station, Boston, last evening for the Ninth Regiment at Camp Alger. This is the last detachment to be sent off, and brings the total enlistment for the Ninth up to 400 men, the number called for.

The other 392 men are all at Camp Alger where they are being drilled and awaiting orders to be sent to the front. The boys were given a hearty send-off by their friends who gathered at the station. They, in turn, cheered Capt. Keefe to the echo, and gave him three times three in quick succession.

The party was in charge of William Coyle who has been connected with the Boston fire department as a lieutenant at the Bulfinch street house. Coyle resigned to go to the front. It is said that Commissioner Russell has promised him his place when he returns.

TO FORT WARREN.

Lieut. Ashburn sent the following three men to Fort Warren yesterday:

George H. Fuller, 5 West Adams street.

George Landers, 626 Broadway.

Lieut. Ashburn went down to Lawrence yesterday afternoon for the purpose of opening up a recruiting office in that city. Although applicans have been coming in good numbers at Room 11, Hildreth Building, the colonel of the regiment believes that an extra recruiting station is necessary. Lieut. Ashburn was given his choice between Lawrence and Lynn and upon the advice of Dr. Daly, the examining surgeon, the former place was selected. This was due principally to the fact that out of that good-sized city only one company has gone to the front and the presumption was, that there would be a host of eager applicants to select from.

FROM THE FRONT

YOUNG RUSSELL GOING WRITES TO HIS FATHER.

City Messenger Charles F. Going has received the following letter from his son, now at the front:

On board the Yale, July 11, 1898.

Dear Father and Mother—I am going to write you a letter and send it back by boat. When we got to Charleston, we staid on the cars that night, and the next day we would have boarded the transports, but half the regiment was running loose over the town. That afternoon, I was sent out with some other fellows looking after them. When I got alone, I saw a lot of fellows and sent them back.

There was one fellow who wouldn't go home, so I had to chase him. We ran through alleys and over houses and all the people in the neighborhood were out. One woman said to me: "Oh, don't shoot him, please." I had a great time."

We were put into cotton sheds that night. Wisner and I got a pass and went to the St. Charles and stayed over night. The next morning we went over to Fort Moultrie and Fort Jasper on a steamer. Fort Sumter was right out about a mile We got on the boat and were going back when we saw two steamers loaded with troops. We knew they were our fellows going out to the Yale.

We thought we were left, but it turned out that our company was still at the wharf, the boat being too crowded. We were in luck. We went out in a tug. The Yale is an elegant boat. The Columbia is with us. General Miles is on board. We slept on deck. Saw a waterspout and sighted two steamrs with prisoners going home.

We sighted Cuba this morning and are running near the shore. It is a pretty country. We land today. I'm ready to fight. I'll come home all right, with the help of God, and I'll kill a few Spaniards. Address letters to Co. C, Sixth Regiment, Cuba. Don't worry. All the boys are well. We are going ashore. Good-bye.

Your soldier boy,

—Russell.

STREET PAVING

Special Committe Receives Much Information

FROM THE CITIES IN THE STATE

As to Railroad Company's Obligations.

The special aldermanic committee that was appointed to inquire into the matter of street paving between railroad tracks held a session last night. The committee discussed the question in an informal manner but took no action. Letters were read from other cities.

The committee consulted a large batch of correspondence. There were letters from 28 cities of this commonwealth and about 30 from cities in the south and west.

Of the Massachusetts letters there were only two that did not set forth a course like that contended for by the city government. The vast majority including such cities as Springfield, Worcester and Brockton, emphatically state they require street railroads to pave between tracks and rails with such materials as the city directs, and maintain the same to the satisfaction of the street department.

The two exceptions are Pittsfield, which requires only cobble stones and Somerville, which has no contract agreements and no precendents to cite.

The large number of letters from cities outside the state, including Manchester, N. H., a city of much the same condition as Lowell, require the street railroads to pave between rails and tracks according to the directions of the various municipal governments. Only two exceptions were found in this batch also.

CERVERAS' REPORT.

IS SENT TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT FOR MADRID.

Washington, D. C., July 21.—Admiral Cervera has forwarded to the navy department, for transportation to Madrid his official report of the battle in which the fleet under his command was destroyed off Santiago.

Accompanying his report are those of the surviving commanding officers of ships which participated in the action, and the senior officers on board those vessels which lost their commanders. Admiral Cervera's report is a voluminous document, covering some 60 pages. It will not be made public in the navy department, because it is considered confidential, and the Madrid government only can break the seal of secrecy surrounding it.

Admiral Cervera refers to the orders he received directing him to sail from the harbor and attempts to meet the criticism passed by Madrid officials and Capt. Gen. Blanco upon his action in leaving the harbor in the morning instead of during the night, on the ground that he expected to find the Americans unprepared.

The reports will be referred to the state department, which will deliver them to the French ambassador or the Austrian minister for transmission to Madrid. The department has taken the precaution to have the reports, which are in Spanish, translated but it has not been necessary to strike anything out of their contents on the ground that anything was injurious to this government.

NASHUA FIRM

GETS INTO TROUBLE OVER MOTOR CARRIAGES.

The American Motor Carriage company of Nashua, N. H., in which two Lowell men are largely interested is having considerable legal trouble as may be learned from the following, which appears in the Nashua Press:

There is trouble with the American Motor company, in which ex-Alderman Geo. H. Tryder and W. A. Ingham of Lowell are interested, and which is doing business at the Bates Machine Shop building in the Crown Hill district. It comes about through a suit brought by A. W. Brunnelle of Hudson. He was a workman at the company's shop and claims it owes him $75 or $100 for labor. The company keeps its doors locked and when Brunnelle went home to dinner Saturday and returned he was denied the right to enter to get his tool chest. He then went to City Solicitor Jackson and stated his case.

A writ of attachment was made out for the amount due Brunnelle and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Hunt to serve. He went to the works and by strategy gained admission through the locked doors and placed an attachment on the two horseless carriages and appointed a Mr. Miller as keeper. All went well until yesterday afternoon, when Superintendent Lombard of Boston came upon the scene. He rang the bell to gain admission into the factory when the watchman and keeper put his head out of the window to see who wished to enter and his hat fell off into the yard. On opening the door to let the superintendent into the shop, he stepped out to get his hat and on his return was denied admission. By this act, the attachment on the horseless carriages was lost.

Mr. Miller at once notified Deputy Sheriff Hunt and he, in company with City Solicitor Jackson, immediately left for the shop and after being refused admittance broke into the building and regained possession of the property. A keeper was placed in charge last night and this morning it was stated the carriages would be removed. The whole affair has created a decided sensation and the outcome will be undoubtedly a supreme court case that will attract much attention.

A number of Lowell men are interested in the business of the company. Among them is Mr. W. A. Ingham. He was asked about the trouble last night and said that the above clipping was substantially correct. It was true that Mr. Brunnelle was an employe at the factory and that he was discharged at a time when about four weeks' wages were due him. No objection was made to the payment of the money when the proper time came. The company held Mr. Brunnelle responsible for all the damage done in the act of forcing an entrance into the shop, and it cost Mr. Brunelle $20 to pay for the broken door and other things. The total amount due him for wages from the company was about $50, Mr. Ingham says.

CHARGE AT SAN JUAN.

How General Worth Led the Desperate Charge.

IMPOSSIBLE TO RESTRAIN THE MEN

His Orderly, Corporal Keller, Who Was Hit While Bending Over Him and Was Carried Off the Field With Him, Tells the Story—General Worth Has Two Bullet Holes In His Chest, and His Right Arm Is Fractured—Fine Work by Our Enlisted Men.

Lieutenant Colonel William S. Worth, Thirteenth United States infantry, with four bullet holes in his body, proofs of the efficiency of Spanish rifleмen and sufficient enough recommendation for his promotion to be a brigadier general of volunteers, which he recently received from the president, arrived at his home on Governors island the other afternoon. Although wounded four times at the charge up San Juan hill, Colonel Worth reached Governors island in fairly good condition, and his doctor says that, with ordinary prudence, he will be up and about in a month.

Colonel Worth, accompanied by his orderly, Corporal John Keller, Thirteenth infantry, left Siboney on the City of Washington last Tuesday, July 12, was landed at Fort Monroe, taken to Baltimore by boat and came to New York by the Baltimore and Ohio. On the arrival of the train he was met by his wife, his sister and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Coffin, the wife of Captain William H. Coffin, Fifth artillery, whose battery is now at Tampa, awaiting orders to go to Porto Rico.

Colonel Worth is not above 5 feet 6, and, weighing in good health not more than 150 pounds, looked very much thinner and weaker than when he marched away from Governors island at the head of three companies of his regiment one morning in the latter part of April. His right arm was in a sling and he walked with some difficulty. The soldiers at the inland saluted him with the left hand, that the colonel might return the salute in kind.

When he got home, his nephew and family physician, Dr. Sprague of New York city, made a careful examination of his wounds and general condition, and then ordered his patient to bed, directing him to see no one but the members of his family for a week at least. Colonel Worth objected, but obeyed. From members of the family a reporter learned something about Colonel Worth's wounds and how he got them.

Shortly after 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 1, El Caney having been taken in the morning, the Thirteenth, Sixteenth, Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth infantry and the Third and Sixth cavalry (dismounted), with the rough riders and the Seventh, Ninth and Tenth infantry held in reserve, were ordered to attack San Juan hill and capture the blockhouse on the summit. Colonel Worth, when the attack was ordered, commanded a brigade. Soon after the battle began Colonel Charles A. Wikoff, Twenty second infantry, came on the field. He ranked Colonel Worth and took command, and Colonel Worth resumed command of his regiment, Colonel Smith, commanding the Thirteenth, not being present.

In less than ten minutes after Colonel Wikoff had come on the field he was killed. Then Colonel Worth resumed command of the brigade, only to be wounded himself and succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel Emerson L. Viscum, who was also wounded. The command of the Thirteenth was taken by Major Philip H. Ellis. He was wounded and was succeeded by Captain James Fornance, who was killed in a few minutes after taking command. Captain Harry G. Cavenaugh then commanded the regiment. Cavenaugh was wounded in the groin in the assault.

"The best thing that can be said about the fight," said Keller to the reporter, "is that it was a hot time. I've seen some soldiering, but I never knew the bullets to come from all directions at once and come so fast as they did going up that hill. If you've ever been out in a hailstorm when it didn't do a thing but hail, you can get some notion of how the bullets came at San Juan. There were Spaniards in front of us, behind us, on all sides of us and in the tree tops above us. And it's an awful mistake to imagine they can't shoot. I don't know how they are afloat, but they can shoot like the devil on land or up a tree.

"But, say, you just ought to have seen my little colonel! About all you could see of him was his little goatee, sticking right out straight, a little gray hair under his campaign hat and the flash of his sword. He headed the procession as long as he could, and, I tell you, it was amazingly pleasant to hear him say every now and then: 'Just keep steady now, boys! Shoot when you see something to shoot at, and shoot quick! We'll teach those fellows a thing or two about this game they don't know, and we'll be up in that blockhouse in a minute.'

"That kind of talk makes a fellow feel full of ginger and up to fighting for a week. And the colonel was right. We did show 'em a few things they didn't know anything about. When we started up that hill, the first thing we struck was a barbed wire fence. But it wasn't built as a white man builds a fence. The strands were so close together that we had to pry 'em apart with our fingers before we could use the wire cutters. While we cut wires, the Spaniards pumped lead into us.

"After getting through the first fence we suggested to the Cubans that, since it was largely their funeral anyway, they might as well dance on ahead and cut wires. They evidently preferred to be mourners, though, for we could always see 'em when we had time to look back. When we found they wouldn't go ahead, we did our own wire cutting. It seemed to me as if there was one of those darned fences about every ten feet. We got through 'em somehow, and we advanced steadily in open order, firing as we went. It was fire and advance; fire and advance. And we did it just like pieces of machinery, only the way the rifles of our boys snapped was a caution.

"When we once got into the swing of being soldiers and tinkers at the same time we sailed ahead. The Thirteenth, being in the center, seemed to get the worst dose, but it was bad enough for everybody. It was mighty exasperating to have to stop and cut fences while the trees shook off bullets on us, but that was the game we were up against, and there was nothing to do but take our medicine. After what seemed about a lifetime we clambered over the top of the hill and rallied round the blockhouse, cheered the flag that somebody was waving, and that job was done.

"When we caught our breath and had time to shake all around, some of the boys looked for comrades they couldn't find. San Juan was their last fight, and they're laid away now on the slope of the hill, under the trees that shot them full of holes. The Spaniards that couldn't get down the other side of the hill fast enough staid with us, and I guess they were glad they did. They got something to eat and were treated kindly, at which they seemed to be amazed. About all they could say was, 'You didn't stop coming on at all, so of course we had to get out,' at least that's what the Cubans said they said. The colonel got it in the right arm a couple of times early in the fight. At the first shot he dropped his sword, but he never even stopped running. He just picked it up with his left hand, stuck it up and told us to come on. Finally, about half way up the hill, he got two Mausers in his chest. That knocked him clean out. I saw him fall and went over to him. He didn't know me at first, but finally he came to. He looked dazed for a minute, then he said: 'Keller, just keep me on my feet. I'm behind the line.'

"Of course, he couldn't fight any more. He had lost so much blood already from the wounds in his arm that he was very weak. We just staid there, and by and by the colonel was carried to the rear. Then we were both put in a wagon and carted over a rough road to Siboney. We got the best attention they could give us, but we had to lie in water a couple of days. Finally we were told a steamer was waiting to take us home, and here we are.

"What about me? Oh, I'm all right—a little uncomfortable in my back, but that's nothing. The piece of shell that struck me hit my cartridge belt and drove the cartridges against my backbone. It felt as if I'd had an electric shock. It stunned me for a minute and when I came to I thought needles were pricking me all over. But I'm all right."

Notwithstanding Keller's statement of his own condition, Dr. Sprague, who examined him after attending to Colonel Worth, ordered him to the hospital. He obeyed orders, but he did it under the most vigorous protest. Colonel Worth told his sister, Miss Worth, during the afternoon, that the conduct of the troops at San Juan was magnificent. He said that it was utterly impossible to restrain them. "Why!" said he, "Talk about leading them! An officer had to be a sprinter to keep up with them."

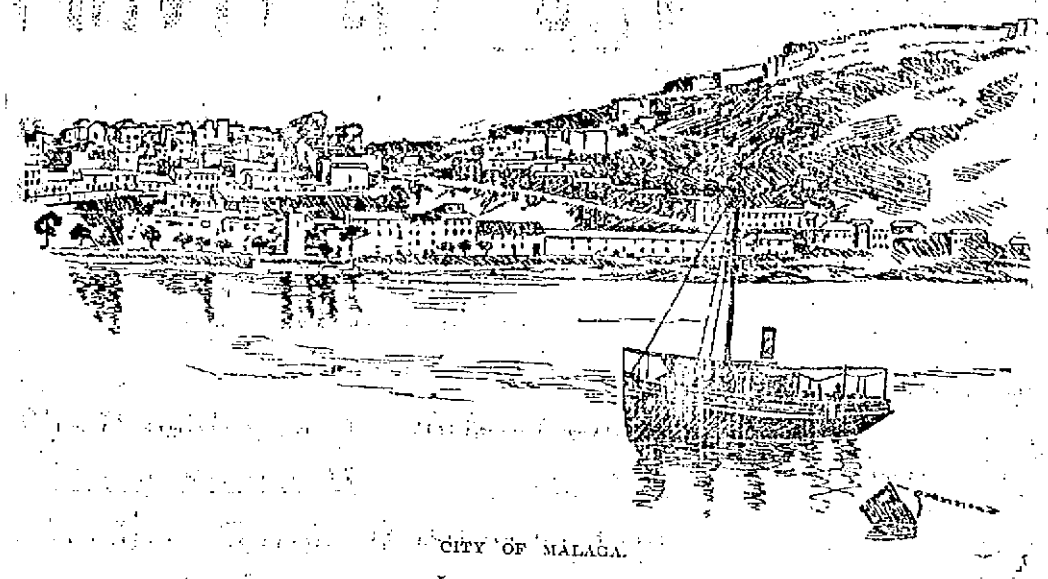

He added that in all his experience during the civil war, when he was an officer in the Eighth infantry, and in all his service in Indian fighting, he never saw such magnificent bravery as the enlisted men displayed at San Juan hill.—New York Sun.

FORTIFICATIONS AT CARTHAGENA

THE PEACE PROSPECTS

Alarming Information Regarding Carlist Activity—Probability of an Uprising in Spain.

London, July 22.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times says: "Hope of speedy peace must be abandoned and a more circuitous route adopted. It is no secret that the unofficial diplomatic exploration has not been encouraging. Sagasta, Duke Almodovar, the foreign minister, and Gamazo, minister of public instruction and public works, constituting a sort of ministerial sub-committee on the peace question, are continuing the discussion secretly, but the public is becoming impatient at this apparent indecision. This uneasiness probably accounts for the rumors of Carlist and republican movements, which are recognized to be entirely unfounded."

Thursday was the queen's birthday (she was born July 21, 1858), but owing to the nation's circumstances the usual official receptions and banquets were suppressed. The only ceremony was a private mass celebrated in the chapel of the royal palace. The royal family and the court attended this service. The queen regent has ordered that the customary funds be distributed in works of charity.

Despite the denial of The Times' correspondent, other special dispatches from Madrid to the morning papers, especially such as come by way of the frontier and elude censorship, continue to assert that the Carlists are active. For instance, the correspondent of The Standard says: "The government continues to receive from civil and military authorities in many provinces alarming information as to Carlist preparations. Arms and ammunition have been introduced by many mountain passes into Navarre, Aragon and Catalonia, it is supposed with the connivance of the local authorities on both sides of the frontier. The Carlist agents and leaders know that they can act with a certain amount of impunity, because, so long as the pretender and his representatives and newspapers in Madrid patriotically disclaim all intention of disturbing the peace during the war with the United States, they feel certain that Sagasta and the authorities will not dare arrest or molest Carlists. They assume that Sagasta cannot afford to affront a large section of the people and risk civil war when his hands are so full. In some few places, however, the military governors have suppressed the Carlist newspapers and have warned the Carlist juntas that stronger measures will be taken if they persist in agitation. The Carlists in Madrid say that the first risings will occur in western, central and southern Spain, their ancient strongholds, in order to show the extent and power of their organization."

PROUD OF THE COUNTRY.

Atlanta, July 22.—After calling the convention of Confederate veterans to order Thursday, General Gordon said: "We are all Confederate men and women, but we are also Americans and proud of our country. God has blessed us as he has blessed no other nation. It becomes us who have been spared by providence to sing praises to him, and I want the men whose shouts have been heard on many battlefields to join in a hymn of praise."

The report of the historical committee says in part: "In the just war in which our country is at present engaged, our comrades now living and the descendants of those who have passed away have nobly used the opportunity to demonstrate to the world their ardor, their patriotism and their readiness to devote their lives in defense of this, our reunited country." All the old officers were re-elected.

General Lee introduced a resolution pledging the life and treasures of the confederacy to a reunited country, and it was adopted in a manner which gave no evidence of a lack of sincerity. A resolution was passed thanking the president for appointing General Wheeler and General Lee to commands in the army.

In acknowledging the compliment paid him General Gordon in part said: "By God's help, I shall end my days by keeping my face always in the direction your faces have been since 1861 (applause), and while I say that I want it understood by every man within the sound of my voice and by the world as well that there beats no truer heart for this reunited country, for the honor and glory of the American republic, for its prosperity and for the freedom of this liberty-loving people in any breast than mine."

PERTAINING TO BOSTON.

Boston, July 22.—Although 1,000,000 of the five-eighths cents internal revenue stamps arrived in Boston from Washington yesterday, Collector Gill telegraphed for more, also asking for an additional supply of the denominations of one-eighth and one-quarter.

There were four prostrations from heat yesterday.

E. S. Smith, the most prominent paper manufacturer in New England, is dead. He had been ill for about five years from paralysis, and this was primarily the cause of his death.

Captain Nelson of the British steamer Elliot, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon, reports that while the steamer was on her way from Halifax to Mayaguez, Porto Rico, a fire broke out in the bunkers, and a greater part of the cargo was either destroyed or very badly damaged. The steamer was loaded almost entirely with provisions for the starving Spaniards on the island.

Colonel Mansfield of the engineer corps has begun the removal of the submarine mines blocking the main channel of the harbor.

SEIZURE OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND

Halifax, July 22.—The Newfoundland, which was seized by the Americans while attempting to run the blockade at Cienfuegos, cleared here for Jamaica and Vera Cruz, and sailed with the following cargo, valued at $30,360, for the Spanish government: Forty-three hundred sacks, 1640 bags, 1050 barrels flour, 200 barrels pork, 150 bags wheat, 200 bags corn, 552 cases meats, 33 packages of sundries. The news of the Newfoundland's arrest created much excitement in Halifax shipping circles. She is owned by a local company.

The Regulus sailed on the same day as the Newfoundland, clearing for the same ports, and carrying a similar cargo. No news has been received from her, and her owners await advices with much anxiety.

LOTTERY CONTRACTS.

THE POWERS AT WASHINGTON SCORED BY INDUSTRIAL PAPERS.

The manner in which the army contracts have been awarded is calculated to excite the indignation of the whole American people. The government saw fit to call for bids on its supplies, and by doing so placed itself under obligation to award the contracts to the parties making the lowest prices, other things being equal. We could, however, mention leading mills in New England, whose goods are of established reputation whose bids have been the lowest, and which have, nevertheless seen the orders go to competitors in other parts of the country, the most noteworthy feature of the whole transaction being that the latter have turned around and bought the goods at the lower figures quoted by eastern manufacturers. There is probably no use bewailing such a state of affairs. Nations have been the prey of private greed from the start, and they are probably no more so now than ever, perhaps they are less so. It is only when the disregard of decency is so open and bare-faced, as in the case of recent army contracts that one is impelled to comment on the situation. Our greatest regret is that Secretary Alger or whoever is responsible for the present scandal, did not defer their gifts from the public treasury until our resources were in better shape.—American Cotton and Wool Reporter.

THE AERIAL ARTILLERY

Opened on New England Yesterday With Terrific Fury.

The Discharges Many and Fatal—Two or More Men Killed and Many Buildings Destroyed.

Boston, July 22.—The sultry weather of the past few days culminated yesterday afternoon in thunder showers in nearly every section of New England, those in southern New Hampshire and northern Massachusetts being particularly severe and destructive.

Lightning struck in many places, causing loss of life at Arlington, Mass., and Nashua, and fires, consisting mostly of barns, in Bradford and North Andover, Mass., Epping and Kensington, N. H. The wind and rain also damaged much property, being severe at Farmington, N. H., where a number of houses were unroofed.

In this city little damage was done, but along the shore several light craft at fruit moorings suffered considerably. The lightning worked quite freely in many suburbs, but only one serious fire occurred, that being in West Roxbury, where a barn was struck and burned, with six horses, two loads of hay and some grain. Thomas Fahey, who was in the barn, was badly hurt. Mr. Welsh, the owner, had a loss of $8000. The heat preceding the storm was intense.

SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Arlington, Mass., July 22.—Lightning caused the death of one man and injured five other men. When the storm was at its height, an electric bolt struck the cupola of the Locke school building at Arlington Heights, causing considerable damage to the building. Several carpenters had secured shelter in the basement of a new building during the storm, and received a terrific shock. John H. Orr of Weymouth, who was standing in the door, received the most direct effect of the lightning, and died within six minutes after he was struck.

MAN FATALLY HURT.

Farmington, N. H., July 22.—A thunder storm, almost a tornado, swept over this town, the terrific wind wrecking a number of small houses and causing other damage, fortunately without loss of life, although one man was badly injured. The storm struck the town early in the afternoon, and within a few minutes the roofs of several houses, including a business block and two shoe shops, had been blown off. Many houses which escaped the wind had their cellars flooded, while a number of streets were rendered impassable for sometime by the wreckage from trees and buildings. A coal shed near the depot was blown down, and Frank Haynes, a truckman, who had sought shelter there, was buried beneath the ruins, and it is feared he is fatally hurt. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

BOLT STRUCK A COTTAGE.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 22.—Lightning did considerable damage in Tremont. During a terrible shower, a bolt passed through a cottage belonging to D. Driscoll, setting it on fire. This was soon extinguished, but the house is badly wrecked. Sadie Driscoll, who was in the cottage, was badly cut by glass.

FOUR COWS KILLED.

Wakefield, Mass., July 22.—Lightning created quite a scare in this town and several buildings were struck and damaged. Four cows which were under shelter of a tree on Beebe's farm at Lakeside were killed. An unoccupied house at Montrose was partially burned, and several bolts also struck the house of William Ridlon, and Miss Ridlon was temporarily prostrated by the shock.

WORST IN YEARS.

Nashua, July 22.—The severe rain, wind and thunder storm of yesterday was the worst known in years. In 30 minutes 3.38 inches of rain fell, besides considerable hail. Frank W. Hall, 30 years old and married, was struck by a bolt in a field and instantly killed. Lightning struck the houses of Leon P. Girouard, burning the roof; the two tenement houses of Charles Blunt; the house of Dr. Charles H. Baldwin; the steeple of the Mt. Pleasant school, and the house of Charles Norton, doing considerable damage in each instance. Several of the mills closed on account of the water flooding the engine rooms, and hundreds of cellars throughout the city were flooded.

SHOE FACTORIES HIT.

Haverhill, July 22.—The lightning yesterday struck four shoe factories in this city, but the damage was slight. On the other hand, the elements set fire to two barns in Bradford, about two miles from here, and both were consumed.

WRECKED AN ICEHOUSE.

North Attleboro, Mass., July 22.—Lightning struck an icehouse, owned by the Givens' estate, and completely wrecked the building. Damage, $1500.

WITH FITTING HONORS.

LAWRENCE WILL INTER HER FIRST DEAD IN THE WAR.

That Lawrence intends to do honor to her soldier son, who died in the South, is shown by the arrangements that are being made, as reported in yesterday's Lawrence papers, as follows:

"The family of Private Harvey A. Dunn has expressed a desire that the funeral be held under the direction of Battery C. The services will be held in accordance with military honors. The body will arrive here tonight or tomorrow.

"Battery C met last evening at the armory. A committee was appointed to arrange the funeral details as follows: Captain Stedman, Lieutenants Sargent, Goldsmith and Powell, Sergeants McGregor and O'Hagan and Private Sabine.

"The body will be in charge of a guard of two sergeants, two corporals and two privates. If the health regulations allow, the body will lie in state at the armory tomorrow from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. There is a question as to whether Private Dunn died from malaria or typhoid fever. If from the latter, no one can view the body.

The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church. At the grave a salute will be fired by the battery.

"At a meeting of Needham post, 39, G.A.R., last evening in Needham hall, Commander Laney presiding, it was voted to attend Private Duffy's funeral in a body. Upon the arrival of the body the post flag will be lowered to half mast.

"The young men of the high school are requested to attend the funeral and escort the body to the grave.

A movement is on foot to have the city departments, the Irish, French and other societies parade. The French military band will attend.

MEMORIAL WINDOW.

DESIGN FOR THE KIRK STREET CHURCH.

Oliver H. Moulton of this city has presented the Kirk Street Congregational church with a magnificent memorial window. Its execution was intrusted to Redding, Baird & Co. of Boston and this makes the twentieth window that this house has placed in that church.

The design of the window is Bougereau's "Madonna and Child." The flesh work is most remarkable for its softness and purity. The Madonna is clothed in a beautiful robe of blue, edged with a golden ivory and is represented amid the clouds as in the original painting. The window is a valuable addition to the other beautiful windows in this church. this house has placed in the church.

SENOR GAMAZO TALKS PEACE

Says the Terms will be Concluded Shortly—It is Reported that Senor Castillo and Gen Porter Will Talk Over Peace Terms Today.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 22.—The statement made by Senor Gamazo, the Spanish minister of public instruction, to the effect that peace, honorable to the Spanish army, will shortly be concluded, is regarded in London more as an indication of personal opinion or hope than as reflecting any general decision of the cabinet. Nothing showing any move in the direction of peace has been received here from any quarter likely to be well informed on th esubject. The Spanish ambassador, Count Rascon, who was questioned on the subject said: "We have no news from Madrid and we have no reason to believe any such decided step has been taken as Senor Gamazo's statement would indicate."

A member of the British foreign office remarked to a representative of the Associated Press: "We have absolutely nothing confirmatory of Senor Gamazo's alleged statement. We wish we had and we hope it is true, but so far as we are advised the signs do not seem propitious for early peace."

Continuing the foreign office official remarked: "Relative to the idea that England will be connected with the future peace negotiations, absolutely nothing has occurred thus far upon which to base the idea. As, a general principle in these affairs, the interference of a neutral is a mistake, unless invited by both belligerents."

It is known that the Spanish ambassadors have been sounding the other ambassadors at all the courts of Europe with the object of inducing concerted representations at Washington to stop the war, and there is reason to believe that Great Britain is no longer alone in demurring at this and pointing out the uselessness of such a course.

On the other hand, it is said that representations to stop the war have been made at Madrid, but judging from the results, they have not been sufficiently strong to induce Spain to come to her senses. It is recognized by all except Spain that the United States will refuse to listen to suggestions upon the part of the concerted powers.

PORTER AND CASTILLO TO CONFER.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 22.—The Matin today publishes a paragraph saying that "while nothing definite is known, it is rumored that Senor Leon y Castillo (the Spanish ambassador at Paris) has been instructed to approach General Horace Porter (the United States ambassador to France) with a view to opening secret peace negotiations."

THE CABINET IN SESSION.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The cabinet session today occupied an hour and a half and was devoted exclusively to the Porto Rico expedition and incident aggressive steps in the campaign. An immense chart of the island was sent for and carefully studied. After the session, it was specifically and positively stated that there had been no discussion whatever as to the peace outlook, the new phase created by the Cuban insurgents' independent attitude, nor the action of Aguinaldo in the Philippines.

THE SUN LATEST 5 O'CLOCK.

VICTORY WON

Spain's Forces at Manzanillo Overcome.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MADRID, July 22 (11 a. m.)—A private despatch from Havana says that an American force landed near Manzanillo in the province of Santiago on Tuesday evening. The Spanish troops guarding the approaches to the bay, the despatch adds, opened fire on the invaders to which the Americans replied. An attack on the town both by sea and land was expected at the time the message was sent. The crews of the Spanish gunboats which were sunk reached the land and saved most of their kits.

AT MANILA.

Insurgents Getting Artillery Into Action.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MANILA, July 19, via Hong Kong, July 22.—The insurgents are gradually getting artillery into action against Pondo, Santa Meso, and Malate. The fighting is desultory. The Spaniards have been driven from the trenches outside Malate and the insurgents are strongly entrenched near the walls of the forts. The insurgents have begun to bombard Malate forts and have struck the telegraph company's cable house.

It is said on semi-official Spanish authority in Manila that the recent news from Cuba is "a vile English fabrication" and that in reality the Spaniards have been victorious and that Admiral Camara's squadron has coaled at Singapore and is expected here on July 25.

Electric Car Passed Over a Man's Body.

NOT KNOWN WHETHER MAN WAS DEAD

Before the Car Struck Him.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Hampton, N. H., July 22.—Eli Blake, a carpenter of this place, was run over by a car on the Hampton and Exeter street railway, shortly after midnight and the authorities are trying to find several companions who were with Blake last night. The coroner has taken up the case and a careful investigation has been begun to find out whether Blake was killed by the car or whether he was dead before the wheels struck him.

Blake was known as a good-natured fellow and well liked. His wife died a short time agofl, leaving four little children. Blake, his friends say, began to drink shortly after the death of his wife and has seemed to be broken down under his troubles.

THE CUBAN IRE

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SANTIAGO, July 21. (Delayed in transmission)—The French cruiser Rigault de Genouilly arrived here this afternoon with supplies for the relief of the French citizens of Santiago.

A large exodus of Cubans is expected during the next few days, as they are returning to the cultivation of the country, that work being the chief source of the wealth of the island.

The greater part of Garcia's army leaves here at daybreak tomorrow. Notwithstanding General Garcia's bitter complaint to General Shafter that he had been ignored and that the restoration of the Spanish civil authority in the city of Santiago was most offensive to him, and that in consequence of this he had been forced to tender his resignation as a general in the Cuban army, the insurgent general is going on with his preparations for a contest with the Spanish forces of Holguin and Manzanillo as though nothing had happened.

General Garcia will issue a decree authorizing all Cubans who have been driven from their plantations and country homes by the Spaniards and who have taken refuge for safety in the cities and towns, to return to the country and go to work on their farms and plantations, assuring them of protection by his forces. He has also given permission to those in his ranks who were recruited from the farmlands or who were employed in the fields before the war.

Altogetehr it must be confessed that General Garcia's attitude is inexplicable. His permission to the men in his ranks to go back to work on the farms is construed to mean an effort to disband his forces. But this may not be altogether justified. It is certain that a great many of them will continue to fight.

MARTIAL LAW IN THE PHILIPPINES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The following cablegram has just been received from the war department:

Hong Kong, July 22.

Secretary of the Navy:

The following is for the secretary of war to the adjutant general. Aguinaldo declares dictatorship and martial law over all the islands. The people expect independence. Recommend China ponies.

(Signed) ANDERSON.

Colonel Anderson was the senior army officer at the Philippines when the despatch was sent, probably several days before its Hong Kong date. The reference to China ponies means that Coonel Anderson desires that kind of cavalry animals.

HOBSON HOME.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Naval Constructor Hobson of Merrimac fame, reached port this morning on the cruiser St. Paul. He left the St. Paul at Tompkinsville and took the Staten Island ferryboat for New York.

He arrived at 9.45 this morning, and was accompanied by two men, who carried several handbags. The party at once took a carriage and it is presumed proceeded at once to Washington by way of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is possible that Hobson is the bearer of Admiral Sampson's report of the naval engagement off Santiago.

When Hobson left the ferryboat at the foot of Whitehall street, it took but a few moments to learn of his identity and a crowd soon gathered and cheered the young hero of Santiago Bay.

GEN. WOOD ADVANCED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BY THE BOSTON POLICE THIS MORNING.

Some Evidence of Foul Play.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Boston, July 22.—Early this morning the dead bodies of six infants, each wrapped in paper, were discovered in a vacant lot in the district of Roxbury. It is thought that that the babies must have come from some secret retreat and the police state that in some instances there are evidences of foul play. The medical examiner and the police are following up the case.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—The largest sale of wool ever made in the west has been effected by a St. Louis firm. The amount was three quarters of a million pounds of "territory wool" which came from the western and southeastern states. It will take 35 cars to transport it to its eastern consignee.

A NEW DEVICE

For Field Telegraphy and Telephone Use

INSPECTED BY MILITARY OFFICERS THIS MORNING.

It Will be Taken to the Front.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Washington, July 22.—The very latest development in field telegraphy and telephone was represented in a handsomely equipped, double horse wagon that was driven into the courtyard of the war department today for the inspection of the military officers there. The wagon is one of twenty, designed by Colonel Strong, assisted by Major Dunwoodie of the signal corps, to construct flying telegraph lines over battlefields to maintain army headquarters in communication with heads of divisions, and with the central authorities at Washington. This wagon has four folding tables which, when thrown up form desks upon which are placed a set of telegraph and telephone instruments. Batteries are carried beneath the seats while the coils of wire are so arranged as to be strung out as fast as the wagon can be driven. The wagon is intended to be followed by a heavier vehicle containing lances, spare coils of wire and even sections of submarine cables, so that no obstacles to communication will be afforded by even a considerable stream of water. The wagons will be sent to the front as rapidly as possible.

A TRAIN HELD UP

Bold Attempt of Highwaymen Last Night.

FUSILADE SENT THROUGH A RAILWAY CAR.

Engineer Killed and Fireman Missing.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 22.—Six men were concerned in the hold up on the Santa Fe railroad last night. Two boarded the engine at Saginaw and covered the engineer. They made him stop in a deep cut one and a half miles north of the stock yards. Superintendent Pendell, who was on the train, and the crew went forward to see what was the matter. As they advanced toward the engine they were greeted by a fusilade from the west bank. The bullets went over their heads, but perforated the engine and express car. Engineer Joe Williams is likely fatally wounded. The fireman cannot be found, but is thought to be also wounded. While the men were firing, the two robbers on the engine jumped off. The whole party escaped. Nothing was obtained and nobody on the train was injured except those on the engine.

SUPT. KILLED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Waltham, Mass., July 22.—News was received here today that Oliver W. Kenney, superintendent of the Weston Electric power station was killed in that town last night. KILLED BY TRAIN

Michael Campbell the Unfortunate Victim.

Discharged Servant Tries to Burn a House.

Brookfield, Mass., July 22.—A man supposed to be Michael Campbell was killed by a train at the station last night. The train dragged the body 150 feet, and in consequence mutilation was inflicted. On the man's arm was tatooed the representation of a crucifix. The hat bore the mark of Ting Bros., Milford, Mass. He was five feet tall, and weighed 150 pounds.

THE NUTMEG STATE.

Hartford, July 22.—An apparently crazy servant, out of revenge on account of being discharged, set fire to the house of her former mistress yesterday. The building, which was slightly damaged, was occupied as a boarding house by Mrs. M. B. Cady. The servant after setting the fire struck Mrs. Cady's daughter a violent blow in the face. She is under arrest.

New London, July 22.—A fire in the cellar of the Foran Furniture company's building yesterday afternoon, caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp, resulted in a loss of about $10,000. The fire was confined to the cellar, but the dense smoke penetrated the entire four stories.

New Haven, July 22.—Stephen Hills, a well-to-do farmer of Cheshire, and his wife were sentenced to three years in state prison for an assault with intent to kill Lewis Nihron. When Nihron, who was a farmhand, attempted to pass through some of Hill's property despite warnings he was shot in the back, neck and shoulders.

EXEMPT FROM THE TAX.

Washington, July 22.—The commissioner of internal revenue holds that although a social club selling wines and liquors to its members and their guests is required to pay a special tax as a retail liquor dealers, it is not required to pay the special tax as a proprietor of a billiard room, as the new law specifically states that it only relates to bowling alleys and billiard rooms open to the public. A social club admitting to its privileges only its members and their invited guests, the commissioner holds, cannot properly be regarded as open to the public.

BASE BALL.

Boston, July 22.—The game of six innings yesterday was one-sided, as Sudhoff was very wild. Five Boston players were given bases on balls, one was hit and Sudhoff made a wild pitch which helped base running. Rain stopped the game and also prevented the advertised second one. Score:

The Phillies defeated the Chicagoes in an uninteresting game, 3 to 1. Fifield pitched finely.

The Louisvilles surprised everybody by winning two games from the Brooklyns. The members of the losing team played like schoolboys in both games.

The Cincinnatis won two games in Washington by hitting and fielding.

The New Yorks and the Pittsburgs split even in a batting counter attraction. In the first game Seymour pitched well until the ninth, when he nailed upwards. In the second game Tannehill was easy, and in the four innings he pitched managed to lose the game.

The Wilkesbarres won two games from the Providences. The first game was a hard, uphill fight, the Providences scoring seven in the first inning on clean hitting. The batting of Shortstop Sullivan, who joins the St. Louis team, won the second game.

Bad errors by Reilly and Gilbert enabled the Syracuses to pull the Springfield game out in the ninth inning, but the home team tied it in the last half. Syracuse finally batted out in the 12th. Part of the game was played in the rain.

The Clevelands defeated the Baltimores in two games. Both McJames and Nops were wild and ineffective, and caused the loss of both games. After the second game Tebeau was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct for throwing a bat at a spectator who called him a vile name. He gave bail for his appearance.

Hiram Ladd, who played one game for the Bostons as a fielder, tells the people of Fall River, where he belongs, that the manager refused to pay him for his work, nor even gave him the price of his supper before leaving for his home.

HUDSON AND LOWELL.

ELECTRIC LINE VIA ACTON AND CHELMSFORD.

The board of selectmen is not yet ready to grant permission to the Clinton, Hudson & Concord street railway company to run its tracks through Acton limits over the so-called "powder mill road." The proposed line from Hudson to Lowell through Acton and Chelmsford, is being still urged and it is said that the commissioners of the Clinton road think quite favorably of the latter line. Within the past few weeks nothing has been done of importance, but the selectmen of Acton wish to have a clear understanding of the matter before granting permission to a company that will not benefit the more populated sections of the town, through which it intends to run on the outskirts. Developments are awaited with interest.

Nashua Merchants on New Railroad

WANT EXTENSION TO STATE LINE ONLY.

Time for Completion Causes a Discussion.

Nashua, July 21.—The Nashua street railway extension continues to be one of the most exciting topics which the citizens of Nashua have had to deal with for the past few years. There is every indication that the company will have to make some definite conditions before the present board of aldermen will grant them a franchise to build the road south of Lawndale. The members of the board speak very strongly against granting a blind franchise which can be locked up in the company safe, kept for speculation or disposed of without the citizens having any say in the matter, and it is altogether likely that if the franchise is granted it will be with the proviso that the road shall be completed within a specified time. Of the sixteen aldermen, nine state that they favor a time limit. These nine are Aldermen Hall, Wood, Dowd, McGuire, Goodhue, Fiske, Page, Burke, and Keeley. The other seven are understood to take a similar view, and it will probably be a united board that will stand on this condition. There has been no question raised as to the length of the limit. Some place it at two years, others five and one or two are willing to grant six or seven years. A compromise will doubtless be effected between the greatest extremes.

A canvass of the merchants on Main street has been made and of twenty-seven merchants, fifteen are strongly for a time limit. Seven refused to express an opinion either way and of the other five, three favored allowing the matter to rest in the hands of the company, the other two had not given the matter sufficient thought to be interviewed. The business men who desire a time limit are Governor Ramsdell, H. S Norwell, W. E. Keeley, Major F. L. Kimball C. S. Clement Samuel Spence, J. H. Field, D. F. Runels, C. W. Greenwood, E. E. Cheney, M. A Taylor, S W. Mansfield, J. W. Connor, H F. Barnard, T. E. McAfee.

But two merchants were found in the entire number who did not favor the extension of the road to the state line. The general statement is that, as long as there is one line to Lowell, it will do no harm to have a second and it is urged that the building of the line will improve all the property along the line and will greatly add to the valuation of the city.

NEW TRAIN SIGNALS.

A trial of a new train signaling system to avoid accidents was held recently by the Boston and Maine road, when an exhibition was given of the efficiency and practicability of an automatic electric, audible, signal system. The trial of this life, and property-saving device was complete and convincing.

The apparatus, in brief, consists of a small dynamo in the cab of each locomotive, occupying less than twelve inches space, a bell in each cab and at every grade crossing, and a third rail in the middle of each roadbed running the length of the Road, for the transmission of the electric current.

The trial illustrated the simultaneous warning given by bells both in the engine and at the grade crossing at the approach of a train. The alarm in this instance lasts until the crossing is passed. The engine approached an ordinary flat car and warning was sounded in the cab the moment the locomotive got within danger distance. The third test was with a misplaced switch the bell continuing to ring until the switch was set right.

The new system accomplishes the following results: It locates and signals every moving train on a roadbed within a mile of another train. Both engineers receive the signal. The operation of the signal itself is as simple as the ringing of an electric doorbell.

CONGRESSIONAL TALK.

THE CANDIDATES LOOMING UP—FLYNN OF LAWRENCE LEADING.

The Lawrence correspondent of the Boston Post has the following on the congressiona contest in the fifth district:

The formal entry of the Hon. A. B. Bruce into the congressional field promises a lively contest for the democratic nomination. Senator Flynn announces that he is in the race to win, and Mr. Bruce expresses equal determination to carry off the honors. Both are lively campaigners. Senator Flynn has the advantage of being nearer to the people in consequence of recent campaigns for the senatorship, in which his popularity was attested by unprecedented majorities. It is nearly ten years since Mr. Bruce was a candidate for public office. In 1881 as the democratic nominee for mayor, he was defeated by nearly 700 but the following year this vote was reversed in his favor. In 1886 he was re-elected mayor by a more substantial majority as the candidate of the democrats and citizens. Owing to divisions in the party, as a candidate for a third term in the fall of 1888, Mr. Bruce was defeated by over 1200 majority, his defeat causing a rupture within the democratic party in Lawrence which is still in evidence.

Senator Flynn relies upon his labor record to secure him the nomination. If the campaign requires a heavy expenditure of money on his part he will not be able to mae it, as he is not wealthy, whereas Mr. Bruce is in a fair way of becoming a millionaire, being connected with a number of street railways and banks in Massachusetts and other money-making enterprises besides having connection with the recently formed National Biscuit company, which is capitalized at $55,000,000.

Efforts are being made to bring the two gentlemen together to avoid, if possible, a contest for the nomination, as it is realized that the nominee must possess all the democratic strength in order to triumph over the republican candidate. A meeting has been proposed to Senator Flynn, but he has thus far declined to give heed to it. His friends suggest that Mr. Bruce might be induced to withdraw upon assurances of support for the mayoralty. It is believed that he would rather serve another series of terms as mayor and equal or excel the record of any democrat that ever held the position, than to go to congress. But there are difficulties in the way of this plan, which would prevent its adoption. The situation presents complications, which may have an important bearing upon the whole future course of local politics.

The republicans are by no means pleased with their congressional situation. Congressman Knox is at home, busily at work repairing his fences, from which Lewis G. Holt has been clipping large sections in this city and at Lowell. Mr. Holt was in the latter city during the week, where, according to Lowell papers, he was cordially received by leading republicans. It is reported that a sentiment exists in Lowell against Mr. Knox because of a prejudice against a third term. In this district the custom has been to give the incumbent two terms, the feeling in favor of which is kept alive by men who consider themselves available as congressional candidates and do not care to wait too long for their term. Mr. Knox has had two terms and three nominations. It is understood that Mr. Holt is making use of the custom argument against Mr. Knox to some effect. This, together with his Grand Army record and his popularity with the veterans, Mr. Holt relies upon to give him the nomination.

The Flynn men are much encouraged by the flat-footed announcement of John H. Harrington's Lowell paper in his favor. As the candidate two years ago, Mr. Harrington could have the nomination this year if he so desired. His espousal of Mr. Flynn's cause, it is believed, will do that gentleman's candidacy a power of good in Lowell.

SUPT. CHENEY, Whose Attention is Called to the Condition of Our Streets.

THE WORST STREET.

WE STAND CORRECTED BY ANOTHER RESIDENT.

Mr. Editor—Having read in your valuable paper last evening a communication in regard to the condition of our streets, it pleased me greatly to find that there was somebody to protest against the neglect of our public streets. They speak of Common street and its filthy condition and also of Hale street. While these two streets may be sadly in need of repairs, they are simply grand in comparison with Southerland street, which is located in Centralville. This street is nothing more or less than a sandy desert and the drivers of teams heavily laden passing through this street within the past three or four days during the excessive heat must have nearly killed their horses. The sand is a foot deep and it is almost an impossibility for horses to pull through it. I presume after the heavy rainfall of yesterday, every child in Lowell can go over there and make mud pies, and it will be more severe for the horses to pull through the mud than through the heavy sand. This is a public street accepted by the city supposed to have good roadway and sidewalks but there is hardly any semblance of a sidewalk in this thoroughfare as the deep sand is thrown up on what is supposed to be the sidewalk, which makes it as disagreeable for pedestrians as it is for horses. I would naturally think that Superintendent Cheney, residing in this section of the city, would have a little pride in keeping the roadways of his district in better order.

ANDREWS OPERA CO.

PRESENTS MIKADO AT THE COZY LAKEVIEW THEATRE.

The Andrews Opera company presented "The Mikado" at the cozy Lakeview theatre last evening and will repeat it for the remainder of the week, with matinees this afternoon and tomorrow. "The Bohemian Girl" drew a large audience every night for the first part of the week and last night notwithstanding the threatening weather the attendance was good.

The Andrews company gave a clever performance of "The Mikado" and was liberally applauded. George Andrews upheld the part of Nanki Poo, and the part of Katiska was taken by Miss Carrie Godfrey, a new addition to the company. She made a hit and at once became a general favorite.

The Three Little Maids from School were Myta French, Nancy Atkinson and Pearl Hightzer and their singing and acting caught the crowd. C. A. Parker was convulsingly funny as Ko Ko. Next week a double bill will be presented. "Pinafore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" without any increase in prices.

PLEASANT GATHERING.

Half a hundred of the Paige Street church parishioners gathered at the home of the pastor, Rev. E. A. Wilson, in Eleventh street last night, for a lawn party, but all the pleasure was indoors, where Mr. Charles Allen presided at the piano. Besides the instrumental numbers there were solos by Miss Mabel Miller and a duet by Miss Miller and Miss Edith Nevers. All present joined in singing "Amercia."

Ice cream and cake were served during the evening.

HORSE RAN AWAY.

While the two daughters of Brig.-Gen. Adelbert Ames were out driving in the vicinity of Hood Farm Wednesday afternoon, their horse became frightened and ran away. The young ladies had the presence of mind to jump out when they saw that the animal was beyond their control and by that act, they saved themselves from perhaps fatal injuries. The horse ran on for some time and the buggy was demolished.

UNKNOWN WRITER

AND SHOULD BE APPREHENDED BY POLICE.

Evidently Has a Crudge Against One Person.

That most despicable of creatures, and anonymous letter writer, is plying his nefarious craft about town and has been for some time past, and although both the police and postal authorities have been notified, the fellow, for apparently the sneak is of the male gender, continues his screeds with impunity.

The principal person attacked is a well known young man in the liquor business who, for some time past, has been getting the vilest kind of letters from this anonymous writer. Then, but not very recently, The Sun and other papers received unsigned "personals" stating that the young man in question was about to marry and the last one that The Sun received stated that he had been married to an estimable young woman, whose name was mentioned, in the police court.

In the meantime, the young woman received many scurrilous letters as did a well known physician and a clergyman, all of which were of the filthiest nature. A comparison of the letters received showed that all were undoubtedly penned by the same person.

The police and Postmaster Thompson were notified but whatever efforts they may have made to detect the criminal have, up to date, been unsuccessful.

A short time ago, the letters ceased to come to the principal victim of the attack and he believed that he would be bothered no longer. But on Wednesday, the scamp broke out again in all his malignity and sent several letters to well known physicians, signing the name of the young man and requesting them to call at once at the place where he is engaged. Some of the doctors responded hurriedly to the calls to find that the man was not there and knew nothing of any letters.

Such a scoundrel as this unknown is obnoxious and dangerous to a community and a great effort should be made by the authorities to put him where he belongs, behind the bars.

HOUSE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Durrell entertained the Sons and Daughters of Maine at their home in Lawrence street last night, after the original intention of holding a lawn party was found unwise because of the dampness outside. A program with literary numbers was a part of the enjoyment, and ice cream, cake and fruits were served.

DRACUT PARTY TONIGHT.

The lawn party to have been held in Dracut last night for the benefit of the Volunteer Aid association, was postponed until tonight onaccount of the weather. Many people went to the meeting house during the evening in the expectation that it would be held within doors.

A SEVERE STORM

House Struck and Damaged in Dracut.

The storm, which in other places, was the most severe in a long time, were quite easy on Lowell for the casualties, comparatively speaking, were trifling.

All morning the religious ones were praying for rain, the oppressive heat sorely trying their patience, while the irreligious ones swore roundly and drank everything within reach only to perspire more freely. Shortly after noon, dark, ominous-looking clouds began to gather in the heavens and the fruit dealers and others who display their wares outdoors began to gather them up and take them under cover. About two o'clock darkness and a brisk breeze came up simultaneously and it was necessary to light up in order to work. Then came a big flash of lightning and zip! went the motor which furnishes power to The Sun's linotype machines. A few moments later a report like that of a good-sized torpedo came from The Sun's operator's room followed by a few Spanish expressions from the operator, for the lightning had burned out the fuse and The Sun's Associated Press wire was compelled to "loaf" for a short time. Repairs were made in quick order however, and the damage was not great and The Sun got out the best paper in town, as usual.

For several minutes after the thunder and lightning began to rage, there was no rain, but when it did come down it came in huge quantities and everything and everybody in its path were thoroughly soaked. Those who were in a position to see it state that the lightning presented a very beautiful sight at times illuminating the entire sky, as long and fantastically shaped bolts chased each other everywere across the sky. The shower continued one hour and a half and had a cooling effect upon parched humanity.

A family living on Liberty street had a very narrow escape from lightning stroke. Two of the children were swinging in a hammock attached to two trees and when the storm came they were called into the house. They had just reached the steps when a bolt of lightning struck one of the trees to which the hammock was attached, barking it from top to bottom. The shock could be felt plainly in the house and all the crockery was shattered. Had the children remained in the hammock a minute longer it is probable that they would have been killed.

At C. F. Hatch's box shop the dynamo was burned out and the factory shut down for the afternoon.

The 3 o'clock car from Lawrence was half an hour late and had an exciting trip. The lightning continually hit the wire, going through the car to the motor, to the consternation of the passengers some of the women threatening to faint. Before the car reached Merrimack Square, some of the women were hysterical and were taken into Carter & Sherburne's drug store for treatment.

In Dracut, the storm played havoc with the wires at the Merrimack Woolen mills and at Hodge & Steven's store. The house of J. B. Bennett on Upland street received a ripping out from a bolt that struck a tall flag pole on top of the house and passed down through the house. It ripped the plastering off the walls of the front rooms and the clapboards off the front side of the house. The damage will be $300 or $400. No one was injured.

Several trees were struck in the suburbs.

The acts and resolves of the last legislature have been received at the city clerk's office and may be had free by those desiring copies.

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor.
SUN BUILDING, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press.
$3.00 Per Year. 25c. Per Month.

A FACT

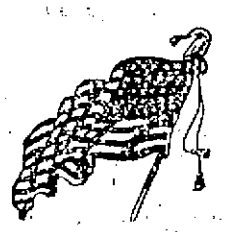

The Sun has a larger circulation than any two papers printed in Lowell, morning or evening. It has double the circulation of all the other evening papers in Lowell combined.

On the basis of circulation, its advertising rates are much cheaper than those of any other paper in Lowell.

For news, for illustrations, for enterprise, and for advertising it is

LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

It is remarkable that John C. Wilson should be introduced at a public meeting thus early as the next mayor of Lowell.

The conviction is spreading in Spain that there is to be a funeral, and the chief matter now awaiting decision is who will have charge.

What was supposed to be news cables may have been but the names of some of the Cuban cities extending beyond the three-mile limit.

It must be a source of continual excitement to Uncle Sam to have a member of his family so far beyond his reach on the wide Pacific, as is Hawaii.

When Schley telegraphed that he had Cervera's fleet in Santiago harbor and that it could never escape, he made the greatest prediction of the present war.

General Duffield, one of Alger's Michigan friends, failed to make much of an impression before Santiago. He is as much of a misfit as is Alger himself.

Too bad there are no more Spanish fleets on this side the Atlantic to be destroyed. We have many undistinguished seamen waiting for an opportunity to become commodores.

There are many republican candidates for re-election this year, who will get a rousing defeat. Those three men who bolted when the question of the assessors' ordinance was to be settled will have to reckon with their constituents.

The city of Haverhill has a somewhat different method of appointing a license commissioner from that of Lowell. The mayor nominates and the aldermen confirm. The mayor has nominated Isaac Poor and Frank S. Atwood and both have been rejected by the aldermen.

It has been suggested that the United States and Spain have now a means of arriving at a basis of settlement through the generals at Santiago. These generals are in direct communication with their respective governments and can talk over the terms upon which these governments would be satisfied to end the war; but it is doubtful if Spain is willing just yet to consent to any reasonable conditions of peace; yet it is beyond question that the longer she continues the struggle, the worse it will be for herself.

The Holyoke Telegram, a new paper which has started to preach straight democratic doctrine in that city speaking of the trouble over the city charter there says:

"The new charter was adopted by a big majority of the people of Holyoke in order that the executive authority might be centered in one head as much as possible. Now there comes a howl from a certain quarter because the executive officers of the city proposes to exercises the executive functions vested in him by that charter. Why don't those who want to see government by injunction permanently established here go to the legislature and get the new charter abolished"?

It is not so long ago since a similar state of affairs existed in Lowell. The power of appointing heads of departments was vested in the mayor, through republican agencies, but as soon as a democrat was elected to the office these same republicans went to the legislature and had the power of appointment replaced with the city council. With the republicans, it is a game of grab and when they are beaten in local contests, they appeal to the legislature.

FLYNN FOR CONGRESS.

Commenting upon The Sun's favorable notice of Senator Flynn of Lawrence as candidate for congress in the Fifth district, the Lawrence Register has the following:

Senator Flynn has the advantage of coming direct from the people with their unprecedented endorsement of 2021 majority in Lawrence. No candidate, however popular, ever came within hundreds of votes of this majority, which was secured over a clean, respectable, and thoroughly qualified republican candidate. Mr. Bruce, whose name is mentioned for the democratic nomination, has not been in politics for some years. He was unfortunately associated with a fiasco within the party, which, whatever may be said otherwise, has not been heated.

On the other hand Mr. Flynn has made no mistakes in his public career. He has been a stout champion of those things in which the people were interested. He has made a notable labor record, which would serve him to a purpose if he should go into congress, for there labor matters will be discussed in the next few years as never before in the history of the country. National laws for regulation of the hours of labor and other important matters appear in prospect. Laying aside Senator Flynn's record on labor, the element of popularity will have much to do with determining the democratic nomination for congress. In this connection, Senator Flynn stands on the surest ground. His popularity has stood the test. He has done nothing in his public career to lose confidence of the people."

THE ANGUISH OF DEFEAT.

Few but those who witness the defeat of brave soldiers fighting for their country can realize the agonizing of the ordeal. Whether Spaniards or Americans, the feeling is much the same and how terrible it is may be imagined from the character of Capt. Moreu's farewell to his crew. He was in command of the Cristobal Colon, the flier of the Spanish fleet, that made such a noble effort to escape from Santiago harbor through the line of United States warships. Both captain and crew did all in their power and risked everything in vain. Captured and led to their station on Seavey's Island, when officers and men were to be separated, Capt. Moreu asked permission to say a parting word to his crew. His grief was too great to be expressed in words and with flowing tears he could only take each man by the hand and kiss him as he would a child. The men were equally affected and at parting they held him in embrace as a child might a parent in parting forever. It was a most affecting sight and one that touched the hearts of the most obdurate enemies of Spain who had witnessed it. Yet that scene is but a picture of what might be witnessed if one of our own captains were so humbled and had to part with his men under similar circumstances.

CRISP GOSSIP.

The elements tried hard to "do" The Sun yesterday, but were as unsuccessful as all others who would make the attempt. The first flash of lightning demoralized the motor which runs our type-setting machines before the second edition went to press. A few minutes later, the fuse in our Associated Press wire was burned out and for a time cut off our way news. But though slightly disfigured we were still to the ring and with the aid of Derby & Morse, the Courier-Citizen, and the Postal Telegraph company, we bobbed up again serenely at the usual hour and the day's circulation was, as ever, the largest in the city.

The band concert which did not take place on the North common Wednesday evening, to the disappointment of thousands will surely occur on next Wednesday evening. Assistant Superintendent Gray, speaking of the supposed neglect of the managers of the concert says that it was the intention of the committee to have the concerts fortnightly instead of weekly. The location of the fourth concert has not yet been settled but Mr. Gray is of the belief that if a suitable place can be found in Pawtucketville popular approval would be met by holding it in that largely populated and exceedingly interesting section of the city.

"'Tis education forms the common mind,
Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined."

Truly sang Pope and I feel for a youngster whom I noticed a few days ago at a down town fruit store. The little one was not old enough to know better, but the mother who accompanied the child was, but evidently didn't. The little one, after longingly eyeing the luscious fruit temptingly displayed pounced upon a cherry and ate it with relish and then took another one. Having thus whetted his appetite safely, the little one became more bold and going to the pile of the biggest peaches on the stand grabbed a particularly large one and ran into a neighboring doorway with it. The mother, who watched her hopeful, followed her into the doorway to chastise her you think? Not much. Once inside, the mother carefully placed a handkerchief about the little one's neck lest she soil her dress and then taking the peach, broke it in halves, carefully removed the stone, and giving the child one half sat down on the stairs and ate the other half herself. And she was not in rags, neither did she appear to be half starved.

THE ARENA OF POLITICS

AN ENSLAVED PEOPLE HELD IN BONDAGE BY DEBT.

Our Country Appears to Be on the Brink of Ruin Which It Cannot Escape, but God Is on the Side of Justice, and the Forces of Reform Must Triumph.

The more any man analyzes this question of mammon worship the clearer he will see that "the love of money is the root of all evil."

Bear in mind that interest is the sacrifice demanded by this money god. The worship of the true God teaches "owe no man anything." "Give to him that asketh of thee, and from him that would borrow turn thou not away." "Do good and lend, hoping for nothing."

Mammon worship in essence is make debts. By every possible device, in every conceivable way, make debts. Debt is slavery. When everybody is in debt, then everybody is enslaved. This is the result of natural debts. Everybody in that nation is bound, bonded, enslaved.

The reason why it was stated that the diseased state of the world had reached the last stage is this: National debts are never to be paid. They are to be permanent. They come to stay. It is the capstone, the climax of mammon worship. God's love of liberty, of freedom, is completely set aside. Everybody in the bonded nation is forced to pay interest, to sacrifice to this golden image.

Wars have been made to bond nations and are used now to increase their debts. Our country is completely under the reign of mammon worship. This war with Spain will be made to produce another crop of bonds. While we pose as a nation of free men, who love humanity so well that we make war to free Cuba, we propose to increase the bondage of our own citizens and posterity at the same time.

Every war increases national debts. Every debt is another link in the chain that binds the race in slavery. And as this system of bondage is permanent the doom of the race is slavery. That is the culmination of our mammon idolatry. The debts of the railroads and corporations are to be permanent too.

The policy of civil government everywhere defeats the worship of God. No nation on earth worships God. He designs the race to be free and happy. The policy now is to make men slaves and miserable.

Debts will accomplish this end. Where is the agency to defeat this? If any party opposes bonds, debts and interest, it is opposed by the government with all its power and by the church too. Why? Because both believe in interest. Interest, usury, or this per cent sacrifice to our mammon god, is the taproot evil of the world politically.

So if the church and governments of earth are left to free the world slavery is to be its eternal doom. God's purposes will be forever defeated. Old satan will be master of the world for all time. But the "Lord reigns, let the earth rejoice." If God had not revealed in the Bible by prophecy that satan's kingdom would be overthrown on earth, we would be left in hopeless despair. But we have "a more sure word of prophecy." We are not kept in the dark. "The kingdoms of this world are to become the kingdoms of our God and his Christ, and he is to reign forever" (Revelation xi, 15). The devil has held a mortgage on the governments of the world for near 6,000 years, and the time is here for the great God to lift it.

The prophet Daniel saw a great image with a head of gold (chapter 2), and four great beasts come up out of the sea (chapter 7). These represented four great empires that would arise in the world in succession. Standing on this high prophetic eminence, the prophet saw the Persian empire which overspread the earth at that time go down, and the Medo-Persian come up and go down, and the Grecian empire come up and spread over the world and then go down, followed by the Roman empire that was symbolized by a beast diverse from all others, having "great iron teeth," signifying the cruelty of its reign. Then he saw a stone, cut out of the mountain without hands, smite the great beast and become a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

In another place this stone kingdom or government is called the "ancient of days," or a return of the Law republic which God instituted in Israel. That was the first republic on earth. Their God told them to choose men to rule over them "who feared God and hated covetousness."

In another place this last and final form of government for the world, this stone kingdom, is described as the "people of the saints of the Most High taking the kingdom and possessing it forever, even forever and ever."

Old Daniel saw what we now witness—viz, the people coming to the front to take the civil governments and control them.

Old satan's kind of government has always been kingdoms or monarchies. The king claimed to rule by divine right, but it was by devilish wrong. God's form of government was republican. Israel clamored for a king to rule over them, to be in fashion with other nations, and God gave them Saul for a king under protest. Our republic is the Israel restored, the nation "born in a day," and the only government that ever was born in a day. Mammon idolatry has perverted our republic until it is only a republic in name. Instead of choosing men "who fear God and hate covetousness" we elect men who seek office in order to make money regardless of God or man. The man who comes out of office without being rich has missed his opportunity.

Mammon idolatry rules everything now, politically and religiously. No man can succeed now in church or state unless he has the mark of this beast in his forehead and in his hands.

The only way to secure reform anywhere is to abolish Mammon worship. So long as the chief end of man, of business, of commerce, of everything, is to get money, so long will we be defeated if we monkey around to secure our pet measure of any kind. Division means defeat. The high priests of Mammon unite and conquer. The people, the toilers, the wealth producers, have divided their forces heretofore and met defeat every time.

The masses have been deceived. The running high priests of Mammon have made them believe a multitude of falsehoods; that the tariff or bimetallism or immigration or the single tax or some other side issue such as prohibition of the rum traffic—that these things are the disturbing elements. Thousands and millions of men believe today that if some of the questions were settled correctly our political troubles would end. But that is a great mistake, and the Mammon priests know it. Their business is to draw interest from everybody in every turn of the wheel. Their business and their interests are directly against the interest of the wealth producers. They get the wealth without producing it. They do this by controlling the government by and through the Democratic and Republican parties. They own them both. There is no issue between these parties that amounts to the ashes of a rush. But they keep the masses deceived by making them believe that the tariff or bimetallism or some other thing is of great importance.

All the reform forces, all labor organizations, every laboring man, should immediately swear eternal enmity to these old parties. The party that is in favor of bonds and redemption money is in favor of enslaving the toilers. The leaders know that. It is their method of growing rich in idleness. No man can serve God and indorse the doctrines of the two dominant parties on the money question. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

Hence this battle now raging is a war between sin and righteousness, between right and wrong, between serving God and serving satan.

No man can vote in favor of bonds, debts and usury without violating the clearly revealed will of God. Hence no man can vote the Republican or Democratic ticket without sinning. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon." We have been deceived too long already. It is time we wake up. We are slumbering over a volcano now.

Mammon idolatry has about ruined us. The ballot, this most sacred of all things to freemen, is lightly esteemed. It is a thing of merchandise. It is sold and bought in the open market. It is cheap too. Thousands upon thousands of freemen will sell their vote for a glass of beer or the promise of a job of work or a dollar. Our country is in the jaws of death when we reach such a state. But we are there. Elections are a farce.

Money, bribery, force, starvation, destitution—these drive voters to the polls like sheep to the shambles. They only hope to relieve present hard conditions.

The man that votes against the cause which produced these hard conditions and the demoralization which must result from them votes to serve God.

This is the object of every labor or reform organization. Hence they are called the "people of the saints of the Most High."

They are working and voting for humanity and for God, and they will succeed. They are on God's side and must win.

They are working to secure a perfect form of government in which all men will be equal in law—a true republic. This is the government to be set up, and the prophet said it would "stand forever."—Rev. D. Oglesby in Chicago Express.

To Wipe Out the Trust Breed.

The nihilists of Russia now say that killing czars is a waste of time. They could kill off two dozen czars and be no better off, according to an eminent nihilistic authority.

The poor nihilists are learning about czars what our farmers learned about potato bugs. The most energetic picking of them does no good. You must find something to sprinkle on them. The only thing to sprinkle on czars is education. Long years of education are ahead for the Russian people, and long years of czars. The preposterous brood of aliens foisted on Russia must continue to rule until two Russians of every three know that a czar is a monstrosity. Then there will be no more czars.

By the same token when we get a little more education we shall get rid of our little czars of the trust breed. We are not so very wise ourselves, with our licensed gambling in bread and our making of laws for every sort of man except the man who works and produces. But education, discontent and increased difficulty in getting money will do the work. Two hundred millions of educated men and women nearly all poor will not be fooled or managed as easily as 70,000,000 of semi-educated mongrels fairly well off. Remember that, dearly beloved brethren, and make hay while you may.—New York Journal.

Plutocracy and Progress.

Without question the principles of plutocracy are all of the retrograde character, and a nation subservient to them is in its decline, going down hill, with its sun of progress sinking in the western horizon and clouds of darkness and bigotry from the ocean of despotism originated by its own selfishness. Plutocracy is a nation wrecker. Plutocracy never made a nation, but it has destroyed many of them.

Plutocracy says to humanity: "If I can't live off you, I will destroy you. If I can't be on your back, I will break it. If I can't eat at the first table, you shall not eat at any table."

A similar assumption is made by the plutocratic press when it freezes out all news not in harmony with those tyrannical policies.—Social Democrat.

MOVED AT LAST

The President's Mandate—General Miles Sailed With Troops Yesterday—Garcia Resigns as Commander—Cervera is Coming to Boston—Bryan at Atlanta.

Washington, July 22.—General Miles, leading the military expedition against Porto Rico, started at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Siboney, Cuba, for the point on the island of Porto Rico where it is the intention that the troops shall land. It is expected that he will wait at some spot on the route for the expeditions from Tampa, Newport News and New York to fall into this column. These expeditions are all under way, some of them with two or three days' start of General Miles, so that the delay should not be very great.

After all the difficulty about the naval convoy and the first conclusion of the naval authorities that none was necessary, the strength of that now furnished, after a peremptory order to Sampson from the president to bestir himself, is surprising. There are a battleship of the first class, the Massachusetts; an effective protected cruiser, the Cincinnati; a speedy and well-armed gunboat, the Annapolis, and four vessels of the auxiliary navy which have already proved by their performance in Cuban waters that they are fully equal to the ordinary gunboat in offensive power—the Gloucester, which distinguished herself in the destruction of

THE GLOUCESTER.

Cervera's squadron; the Wasp, which has attained an enviable reputation as a disturber of Spanish blockhouses; the Leyden, which for a time was the sole representative of United States power in Havana harbor, and the Dixie.

Secretary Alger believes that General Miles on the Yale will arrive at his destination Sunday morning with 3000 men under his immediate command. A day later 4000 men on the transports will arrive, and the day following that 3500 more. Whether the landing will be deferred until the arrival of this entire force, or whether General Miles will take the initiative and hoist the flag himself on Porto Rican soil is left to the discretion of that officer. It is the department's determination that he shall not lack for troops or equipment, and this first expedition may be followed by others as fast as the troops can be gotten ready until word comes from the general that he needs no more. General Schwan's brigade comprising the Fifth, the Eleventh and Nineteenth United States infantry, a splendid body of trained soldiers, sailed from Tampa yesterday to join Miles, and if the Porto Rican expedition is not an immediate success it will not be for lack of disposition in the war department to supply every requisite.

The state department has come to have fully as great a sense of appreciation of Dewey's diplomatic abilities as the country has of his naval skill and courage, and the best evidence of this is that it has not found it necessary up to this point to interfere in any way either to protest or to amend his works.

The navy department has discovered that the Monterey will not arrive at Cavite until Aug. 5, that being the advices received at the department from the captain of the vessel when she touched at Honolulu. The admiral's announcement of the arrival of the second detachment of United States troops at Cavite has given great comfort at the war department, which was not altogether at ease concerning the first expedition lying between Spaniards and the insurgents and without being able to depend very largely upon either. With these added troops it will now be possible to demand the surrender of Manila, but it is gathered here that our purpose is to defer such a movement until all the troops now afloat have arrived at Manila bay, unless the attitude of the insurgents force prompter action on the part of the American commanders, military and naval.

Preparation for the dispatch of the Watson squadron to European waters is going on uninterruptedly, but the departure necessarily will await the movement of the warships at Porto Rico, the Massachusetts and other ships being required for convoying the troops to that island. This disposes of a report that the expedition had been abandoned. The report was the more mischievous at this time, as it indicated a purpose to yield to the implied threats of European sources that a European coalition would result if the American warships attacked the coast of Spain. Neither the state nor the navy department looks for any embarrassment from European quarters without Spain as a result of the naval movement against the peninsula.

Had the army troopships been able to go to Porto Rico without a naval convoy the Watson squadron could have got away within the next few days, as the war board had wished to close all preliminaries by next Saturday; but as the Massachusetts, Columbia, Cincinnati, Dixie and Yale, together with several lesser craft, were considered necessary for a patrol for the Miles expedition, this changed plans slightly. The Dixie is almost certain to be in the Watson squadron, and the Massachusetts is likely to be. Secretary Long expressly says, however, that the delay of the Watson squadron is incident to convoying the troops to Porto Rico, and does not mean that the start will be postponed until the Porto Rico operations are concluded.

The navy department has obtained a very striking conception of the tremendous power of a shell bursting within the enclosure of a battleship from a report just received from Captain Taylor of the Indiana. Aside from the actual bursting energy of the shell, it is perceived from his report that great danger was experienced from fire, owing to the fact that the Indiana is not, like some of the battleships of later construction, fitted with fire-proof wood throughout. It is safe to assume that this report, taken in connection with the destruction of the Spanish vessels in a large part by fire off Santiago, will lead the navy department to redouble instead of relax its efforts to protect the American warships from fire by all known scientific means.

Captain Taylor's report, which is dated July 5, reads as follows: "About 12 midnight last night the ship was struck by a shell, apparently from an 8 3-8 mortar, which pierced the deck, the flash plate between beam 76 and 77—four inches from the starboard rail. The shell exploded just forward of the cabin door, fragments piercing the cabin water pipe bulkhead in two places near the starboard cabin door. Large fragments pierced the watertight berth deck in two places, entering the paymaster's stateroom. Large fragments also pierced and completely wrecked the watertight hatch plate, leading to the orlop deck. The rooms in the vicinity on both sides were badly wrecked, considerable damage being done to the furniture and corrugated bulkheads, the bookcase knocked over and many books injured. A leak started in the fire main by a small fragment, and the whole compartment was so filled with smoke that it necessitated taking up the battle hatches on the main deck. Only a few sparks of fire were observed, which were quickly put out, as a stream of water was played into the compartment immediately after the shell struck." Captain Taylor ends with the statement that no one was injured, and that his ship was in perfect condition for battle.

Admiral Sampson telegraphs to the secretary of the navy that there has been no delay in furnishing ample convoy to General Miles. A day or two ago the Cincinnati and New Orleans were placed at his disposal. The Columbia and Yale, carrying troops, are both powerfully armed, says the admiral's telegram, and this is an ample convoy for his expedition and to effect his landing. The Annapolis, Wasp and Leyden have been ordered from Nipe, the Gloucester also added, and the three monitors ordered from Key West. Under these circumstances there has been no lack of assistance. General Miles preferred to wait; the delay was his own. However, in further answer to his request, the Massachusetts and Dixie were also added, and he has probably started.

This statement shows that General Miles will be backed in effecting his landing by a strong squadron of the navy. In addition to the vessels named in the statement, it is officially admitted for the first time that the powerful monitors, Terror, Amphitrite and Puritan, which have been at Key West, are under orders to proceed to Porto Rico to assist in the reduction of the Spanish forts there. It is known also to be not unlikely—indeed it is probable—that still other vessels of Sampson's squadron will participate in the reduction of the fortifications of San Juan.

The authorities have been somewhat perplexed by an incident connected with the purchase of the Niotheroy. A communication was recently received by the state department from the Brazilian authorities saying that prompt payment for the cruiser was expected. This was turned over to the navy department, which has now responded that payment has already been made through the parties from whom the purchase was negotiated.

GARCIA RESIGNS HIS POST.

Port Antonio, July 22.—General Calixto Garcia, in charge of the Cuban forces in the operations about Santiago, notified General Shafter that he had tendered his resignation as commander of the insurgents of the eastern department. This action on the part of General Garcia is regarded as a ruse, and is believed to have as its object the drawing a vote of confidence from the leaders of the Cuban junta instead of an honest declaration of hostility to the American plans regarding Santiago.

That General Garcia has not seriously retired from the Cuban army is disclosed by the fact that he has just agreed with General Castillo to march their Cuban forces against Holguin, and that both Garcia and Castillo have joined in a request to General Gomez to unite with them in driving the Spanish out of all the other provinces prior to the American attack on Havana. General Garcia's troops have been withdrawn to the mountains.

VALUE OF PROJECTILES.

Washington, July 22.—Thus far not a word has been received to show what kind of projectiles did effective work in Santiago. Captain O'Neill of the ordnance bureau is particularly interested in this branch for the scientific deductions which will be afforded, and he has sent orders for detailed reports on the effects of all kinds of naval ordnance, including the dynamite projectiles thrown by the Vesuvius. The press reports concerning the dynamite projectiles indicated that they had done fearful havoc, but the observations since then within the fortifications do not show that they did serious damage. The technical reports will disclose just how much effectiveness can be secured from the various appliances now in use by the navy, some of them being in their experimental stages.

KILLED SPANISH OFFICERS.

Hong Kong, July 22.—A Spanish vessel, the Vozol, having on board a native crew from the Visayes islands, is in the hands of the insurgents. The crew revolted, killed the Spanish officers and reached Tanyatsko, in the southern part of Luzon. There they quarreled with the Tagalen insurgents and returned to Iloilo, which is looked upon as indicating that the Visayes are unwilling to join the Tagalens. In any case it is considered that the Philippine Islands will never be amalgamated and that they will never return to Spanish rule. Therefore, the only alternative, in the opinion of the best informed people, is foreign rule, American or British.

BRYAN IN ATLANTA.

Atlanta, July 22.—Colonel W. J. Bryan, at the head of the Third Nebraska volunteers, reached Atlanta at noon yesterday. He was met at the train by several friends, who started to escort him to the Kimball. By the time the party reached the doors of the hotel the crowd became so dense that progress was impossible. Colonel Bryan graciously responded to the cheers and calls for a speech, and, mounting a stone hitching block, said: "I am glad to be with you again. I am greatly pleased that my regiment will have an opportunity of seeing the Confederate veterans, and know that in our present struggle they will have an opportunity to fight side by side with some of these old soldiers and their sons."

HELPING OUR SOLDIERS.

New York, July 22.—Appreciating the great opportunity offered for extending help to the thousands of young men stationed in the various camps at home and abroad, the international committee of Young Men's Christian associations at the outbreak of the war organized the "army and navy christian commission." Large tents, usually about 40x60 feet, were purchased and located in the different brigades and equipped to extend physical aid and comfort, as well as religious privileges, to the soldiers. Trained secretaries have been sent to take charge of the work, and the tents are furnished with tables, writing materials, games, daily papers, books, magazines, and comfortable seats. Barrels of ice water are supplied, and everything possible is done to surround the men with helpful and restraining influences. Comforts and delicacies have been given to the sick when possible, and the soldiers themselves are emphatic in the praise of the work the committee has done. The Y. M. C. A. tents are about the only places of resort and convenience for the soldiers, excepting canteens and places of that character.

There are now about 60 of these tents in the different camps of the country and in Cuba and Manila. The treasurer reports that the very large demands which have been made have entirely exhausted the gifts which have been received up to the present, and it is feared that it will be necessary to reduce the expenses very greatly to the great deprivation of the soldiers unless more funds are promptly contributed. The treasurer of the commission is F. H. Schenck of the Mercantile National bank of this city.

BOMBARDMENT THREATENED.

Hong Kong, July 22.—Advices from Manila up to July 13 are to the effect that unless the Spaniards surrendered in the meantime Admiral Dewey would bombard the fortifications of Manila by the end of that week, provided the troops were ready to take possession immediately. The first regiment is already in the field at Paranaque, two miles from Manila.

The insurgents are constantly harrassing the Spaniards on both sides of the city, but they are checked by the big guns of the Malate and Santa Misa forts.

The second detachment of the American expeditionary force arrived in excellent condition, though four died on the voyage. The American transports have hoisted the American flag on an island supposed to be Wake island, in the Marshall group.

General Aguinaldo has organized the Philippine cabinet at Bacoor, with the following personnel: President of the council, General Aguinaldo; secretary of war, Baldimiro Aguinaldo, nephew of General Aguinaldo; secretary of the interior, Leandro Ibaira; secretary of state, Mariano Trias.

RUMOR ABOUT CERVERA.

Annapolis, July 22.—A rumor, which cannot be traced to an authoritative source, says that Admiral Cervera had expressed a determination not to return to his native country at the close of hostilities between the United States and Spain; that the admiral has decided to take up his residence in Boston, whither he will repair with his son, Lieutenant Cervera, who is also a prisoner here.

SPAIN'S ARMY

At Manila May Also Surrender.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Manila, Philippine Islands, July 17, via Hong Kong, July 21.—Rear Admiral Dewey may decide to capture Manila before General Merritt arrives here.

In view of the possibility of an early peace, and the news from Cuba, the insurgents are renewing their activity. There have been vigorous attacks and a slight bombardment on the outskirts of the city to which the Spaniards replied with an extravagant shelling. The Spaniards now say they do not believe the reinforcements promised them will ever reach here and they despair of success. But they condemn the proposal to retire to the citadel, which is utterly defenceless, as such a step will merely invite slaughter. Therefore they believe it would be better to surrender. But the Spaniards are afraid of public censure. However, they will probably be compelled to surrender as soon as food is dangerously scarce. They may pretend to fight the Americans for the sake of appearances; but the result will not be long in doubt if Admiral Dewey resolves to capture Manila with the forces he has at his disposal.

OLD GLORY

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The authoritative declaration was made today that the island of Porto Rico was to be held as a permanent possession of this country as the price of the war. The sub-joined practically official statement was made to the Associated Press today:

"Porto Rico will be kept by the United States. That is settled and has been the plan from the first. Once taken, it will pass forever into the hands of the United States and there never has been any other thought. Its possession will go toward making up the heavy expense of the war to the United States. Our flag will float over the island permanently."

The same authority says the future of the Philippines is a matter of doubt and that so far there is no certain policy finally adopted regarding these islands. They are subject to developments in the war situation on the Pacific. It is intimated, however, that nothing yet is definitely settled but that the Ladrone islands might follow Porto Rico, and become our permanent possession, being valuable as a coaling station.

FROM SHAFTER'S CABLE OFFICE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 20, via KINGSTON, JA., July 21.—10.10 a. m.—General Shafter has opened a cable office here and is in communication with Washington regarding the disposition of the fifth army corps, which consists of those troops, which came with him from Tampa and the reinforcements from four transports, which have since been unloaded. Except the 33rd and part of the 34th Michigan, none of the latter have been in action, but all are encamped in the same place and as far as health considerations go, General Shafter is of the opinion that the Fifth corps could join the Porto Rican expedition under General Miles as soon as Santiago fell. This was the intention when the invasion army left the United States. But the condition of the men now, according to the preparation is such that the entire corps should return north at once. General Miles has called that he does not want and will not need a single man among them and he believes that after the hard campaign they should be given a rest of at least two or three weeks.

General Shafter's messages to the same effect have been most urgent, and the doctors say the men should be sent into camp into the mountains of North Carolina or western Maine for a month. Washington agrees to this and will do everything possible, so the cable despatches say today, to carry the army away from here.

The cavalry division has been sent into the mountains at its own request to see if it cannot get into shape to join General Miles and if no fever develops the men may go to San Juan de Porto Rico. The 24th infantry is acting as guards and as nurses at the hospital at Juragua and more of them are needed. The colored troops are all likely to remain hereto attend the sick and hold Santiago.

General Shafter has cabled to Washington that it is imperatively necessary that he should have more immunes sent to him quickly and the probability is that a corps will leave within the next ten days.

All our men are now encamped on the fighting line, where they have been for two weeks, except General Wheeler's men, who have been sent into the hills. General Wheeler is still ill, but he resists the pleas of his friends to return to the United States.

SANTIAGO TROOPS WILL REST.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Secretary Alger said today that the troops which were in the engagement at Santiago would not be sent to Porto Rico and there was no desire to use them there. They will remain in Cuba until the yellow fever has been entirely stamped out. General Miles did not think it advisable to take any troops to Porto Rico that were liable to have contracted fever and in this conclusion the department concurred.

A MESSAGE FROM DEWEY.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The navy department this afternoon posted the following:

Cavite, July 20, via Hong Kong, July 21.

The situation unchanged. Second army detachment arrived today. All well on board. The health of the squadron continues good. No sickness whatever.

(Signed) DEWEY.

LAST RECRUITS

A Recruiting Station for Lawrence.

Eight men left the Boston & Albany station, Boston, last evening for the Ninth Regiment at Camp Alger. This is the last detachment to be sent off, and brings the total enlistment for the Ninth up to 400 men, the number called for.

The other 392 men are all at Camp Alger where they are being drilled and awaiting orders to be sent to the front. The boys were given a hearty send-off by their friends who gathered at the station. They, in turn, cheered Capt. Keefe to the echo, and gave him three times three in quick succession.

The party was in charge of William Coyle who has been connected with the Boston fire department as a hoseman at the Bulfinch street house. Coyle resigned to go to the front. It is said that Commissioner Russell has promised him his place when he returns.

TO FORT WARREN.

Lieut. Ashburn sent the following three men to Fort Warren yesterday:

George H. Fuller, 5 West Adams street.

George Landers, 626 Broadway.

Lieut. Ashburn went down to Lawrence yesterday afternoon for the purpose of opening up a recruiting office in that city. Although applicans have been coming in good numbers at Room 11, Hildreth Building, the colonel of the regiment believes that an extra recruiting station is necessary. Lieut. Ashburn was given his choice between Lawrence and Lynn and upon the advice of Dr. Daly, the examining surgeon, the former place was selected. This was due principally to the fact that out of that good-sized city only one company has gone to the front and the presumption was, that there would be a host of eager applicants to select from.

FROM THE FRONT

YOUNG RUSSELL GOING WRITES TO HIS FATHER.

City Messenger Charles F. Going has received the following letter from his son, now at the front:

On board the Yale, July 11, 1898.

Dear Father and Mother—I am going to write you a letter and send it back by boat. When we got to Charleston, we staid on the cars that night, and the next day we would have boarded the transports, but half the regiment was running loose over the town. That afternoon, I was sent out with some other fellows looking after them. When I got alone, I saw a lot of fellows and sent them back.

There was one fellow who wouldn't go home, so I had to chase him. We ran through alleys and over houses and all the people in the neighborhood were out. One woman said to me: "Oh, don't shoot him, please." I had a great time."

We were put into cotton sheds that night. Wisner and I got a pass and went to the St. Charles and stayed over night. The next morning we went over to Fort Moultrie and Fort Jasper on a steamer. Fort Sumter was right out about a mile We got on the boat and were going back when we saw two steamers loaded with troops. We knew they were our fellows going out to the Yale.

We thought we were left, but it turned out that our company was still at the wharf, the boat being too crowded. We were in luck. We went out in a tug. The Yale is an elegant boat. The Columbia is with us. General Miles is on board. We slept on deck. Saw a waterspout and sighted two steamers with prisoners going home.

We sighted Cuba this morning and are running near the shore. It is a pretty country. We land today. I'm ready to fight. I'll come home all right, with the help of God, and I'll kill a few Spaniards. Address letters to Co. C, Sixth Regiment, Cuba. Don't worry. All the boys are well. We are going ashore. Good-bye.

Your soldier boy,

—Russell.

STREET PAVING

Special Committe Receives Much Information

FROM THE CITIES IN THE STATE

As to Railroad Company's Obligations.

The special aldermanic committee that was appointed to inquire into the matter of street paving between railroad tracks held a session last night. The committee discussed the question in an informal manner but took no action. Letters were read from other cities.

The committee consulted a large batch of correspondence. There were letters from 23 cities of this commonwealth and about 30 from cities in the south and west.

Of the Massachusetts letters there were only two that did not set forth a course like that contended for by the city government. The vast majority including such cities as Springfield, Worcester and Brockton, emphatically state they require street railroads to pave between tracks and rails with such materials as the city directs, and maintain the same to the satisfaction of the street department.

The two exceptions are Pittsfield, which requires only cobble stones and Somerville, which has no contract agreements and no precedents to cite.

The large number of letters from cities outside the state, including Manchester, N. H., a city of much the same condition as Lowell, require the street railroads to pave between rails and tracks according to the directions of the various municipal governments. Only two exceptions were found in this batch also.

CERVERAS' REPORT.

IS SENT TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT FOR MADRID.

Washington, D. C., July 21.—Admiral Cervera has forwarded to the navy department, for transportation to Madrid his official report of the battle in which the fleet under his command was destroyed off Santiago.

Accompanying his report are those of the surviving commanding officers of ships which participated in the action, and the senior officers on board those vessels which lost their commanders. Admiral Cervera's report is a voluminous document, covering some 60 pages. It will not be made public in the navy department, because it is considered confidential, and the Madrid government only can break the seal of secrecy surrounding it.

Admiral Cervera refers to the orders he received directing him to sail from the harbor and attempts to meet the criticism passed by Madrid officials and Capt. Gen. Blanco upon his action in leaving the harbor in the morning instead of during the night, on the ground that he expected to find the Americans unprepared.

The reports will be referred to the state department, which will deliver them to the French ambassador or the Austrian minister for transmission to Madrid. The department has taken the precaution to have the reports, which are in Spanish, translated but it has not been necessary to strike anything out of their contents on the ground that anything was injurious to this government.

NASHUA FIRM

GETS INTO TROUBLE OVER MOTOR CARRIAGES.

The American Motor Carriage company of Nashua, N. H., in which two Lowell men are largely interested is having considerable legal trouble as may be learned from the following, which appears in the Nashua Press:

There is trouble with the American Motor company, in which ex-Alderman Geo. H. Tryder and W. A. Ingham of Lowell are interested, and which is doing business at the Bates Machine Shop building in the Crown Hill district. It comes about through a suit brought by A. W. Brunnelle of Hudson. He was a workman at the company's shop and claims it owes him $75 or $100 for labor. The company keeps its doors locked and when Brunnelle went home to dinner Saturday and returned he was denied the right to enter to get his tool chest. He then went to City Solicitor Jackson and stated his case.

A writ of attachment was made out for the amount due Brunnelle and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Hunt to serve. He went to the works and by strategy gained admission through the locked doors and placed an attachment on the two horseless carriages and appointed a Mr. Miller as keeper. All went well until yesterday afternoon, when Superintendent Lombard of Boston came upon the scene. He rang the bell to gain admission into the factory when the watchman and keeper put his head out of the window to see who wished to enter and his hat fell off into the yard. On opening the door to let the superintendent into the shop, he stepped out to get his hat and on his return was denied admission. By this act, the attachment on the horseless carriages was lost.

Mr. Miller at once notified Deputy Sheriff Hunt and he, in company with City Solicitor Jackson, immediately left for the shop and after being refused admittance broke into the building and regained possession of the property. A keeper was placed in charge last night and this morning it was stated the carriages would be removed. The whole affair has created a decided sensation and the outcome will be undoubtedly a supreme court case that will attract much attention.

A number of Lowell men are interested in the business of the company. Among them is Mr. W. A. Ingham. He was asked about the trouble last night and said that the above clipping was substantially correct. It was true that Mr. Brunnelle was an employe at the factory and that he was discharged at a time when about four weeks' wages were due him. No objection was made to the payment of the money when the proper time came. The company held Mr. Brunelle responsible for all the damage done in the act of forcing an entrance into the shop, and it cost Mr. Brunelle $29 to pay for the broken door and other things. The total amount due him for wages from the company was about $50, Mr. Ingham says.

CHARGE AT SAN JUAN.

His Orderly, Corporal Keller, Who Was Hit While Bending Over Him and Was Carried Off the Field With Him, Tells the Story—General Worth Has Two Bullet Holes In His Chest, and His Right Arm is Fractured—Fine Work by Our Enlisted Men.

Lieutenant Colonel William S. Worth, Thirteenth United States infantry, with four bullet holes in his body, proofs of the efficiency of Spanish riflemen and sufficient enough recommendation for his promotion to be a brigadier general of volunteers, which he recently received from the president, arrived at his home on Governors island the other afternoon. Although wounded four times at the charge up San Juan hill, Colonel Worth reached Governors island in fairly good condition, and his doctor says that, with ordinary prudence, he will be up and about in a month.

Colonel Worth, accompanied by his orderly, Corporal John Keller, Thirteenth infantry, left Siboney on the City of Washington last Tuesday, July 12, was landed at Fort Monroe, taken to Baltimore by boat and came to New York by the Baltimore and Ohio. On the arrival of the train he was met by his wife, his sister and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Coffin, the wife of Captain William H. Coffin, Fifth artillery, whose battery is now at Tampa, awaiting orders to go to Porto Rico.

Colonel Worth is not above 5 feet 6, and, weighing in good health not more than 150 pounds, looked very much thinner and weaker than when he marched away from Governors island at the head of three companies of his regiment one morning in the latter part of April. His right arm was in a sling and he walked with some difficulty. The soldiers at the island saluted him with the left hand, that the colonel might return the salute in kind.

When he got home, his nephew and family physician, Dr. Sprague of New York city, made a careful examination of his wounds and general condition, and then ordered his patient to bed, directing him to see no one but the members of his family for a week at least. Colonel Worth objected, but obeyed. From members of the family a reporter learned something about Colonel Worth's wounds and how he got them.

Shortly after 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 1, El Caney having been taken in the morning, the Thirteenth, Sixteenth, Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth infantry and the Third and Sixth cavalry (dismounted), with the rough riders and the Seventh, Ninth and Tenth infantry held in reserve, were ordered to attack San Juan hill and capture the blockhouse on the summit. Colonel Worth, when the attack was ordered, commanded a brigade. Soon after the battle began Colonel Charles A. Wikoff, Twenty second infantry, came on the field. He ranked Colonel Worth and took command, and Colonel Worth resumed command of his regiment, Colonel Smith, commanding the Thirteenth, not being present.

In less than ten minutes after Colonel Wikoff had come on the field he was killed. Then Colonel Worth resumed command of the brigade, only to be wounded himself and succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel Emerson L. Kissam, who was also wounded. The command of the Thirteenth was taken by Major Philip H. Ellis. He was wounded and was succeeded by Captain James Fornance, who was killed in a few minutes after taking command. Captain Harry G. Cavenaugh then commanded the regiment. Cavenaugh was wounded in the groin in the assault.

"The best thing that can be said about the fight," said Keller to the reporter, "is that it was a hot time. I've seen some soldiering, but I never knew the bullets to come from all directions at once and come so fast as they did going up that hill. If you've ever been out in a hailstorm when it didn't do a thing but hail, you can get some notion of how the bullets came at San Juan. There were Spaniards in front of us, behind us, on all sides of us and in the tree tops above us. And it's an awful mistake to imagine they can't shoot. I don't know how they are afloat, but they can shoot like the devil on land or up a tree.

"But, say, you just ought to have seen my little colonel! About all you could see of him was his little goatee, sticking right out straight, a little gray hair under his campaign hat and the flash of his sword. He headed the procession as long as he could, and, I tell you, it was amazingly pleasant to hear him say every now and then: 'Just keep steady now, boys! Shoot when you see something to shoot at, and shoot quick! We'll teach those fellows a thing or two about this game they don't know, and we'll be up in that blockhouse in a minute.'

"That kind of talk makes a fellow feel full of ginger and up to fighting for a week. And the colonel was right. We did show 'em a few things they didn't know anything about. When we started up that hill, the first thing we struck was a barbed wire fence. But it wasn't built as a white man builds a fence. The strands were so close together that we had to pry 'em apart with our fingers before we could use the wire cutters. While we cut wires, the Spaniards pumped lead into us.

"After getting through the first fence we suggested to the Cubans that, since it was largely their funeral anyway, they might as well dance on ahead and cut wires. They evidently preferred to be mourners, though, for we could always see 'em when we had time to look back. When we found they wouldn't go ahead, we did our own wire cutting. It seemed to me as if there was one of those darned fences about every ten feet. We got through 'em somehow, and we advanced steadily in open order, firing as we went. It was fire and advance; fire and advance. And we did it just like pieces of machinery, only the way the rifles of our boys snapped was a caution.

"When we once got into the swing of being soldiers and tinkers at the same time we sailed ahead. The Thirteenth, being in the center, seemed to get the worst dose, but it was bad enough for everybody. It was mighty exasperating to have to stop and cut fences while the trees shook off bullets on us, but that was the game we were up against, and there was nothing to do but take our medicine. After what seemed about a lifetime we clambered over the top of the hill and rallied round the blockhouse, cheered the flag that somebody was waving, and that job was done.

"When we caught our breath and had time to shake all around, some of the boys looked for comrades they couldn't find. San Juan was their last fight, and they're laid away now on the slope of the hill, under the trees that shot them full of holes. The Spaniards that couldn't get down the other side of the hill fast enough staid with us, and I guess they were glad they did. They got something to eat and were treated kindly, at which they seemed to be amazed. About all they could say was, 'You didn't stop coming on at all, so of course we had to get out,' at least that's what the Cubans said they said. The colonel got it in the right arm a couple of times early in the fight. At the first shot he dropped his sword, but he never even stopped running. He just picked it up with his left hand, stuck it up and told us to come on. Finally, about half way up the hill, he got two Mausers in his chest. That knocked him clean out. I saw him fall and went over to him. He didn't know me at first, but finally he came to. He looked dazed for a minute, then he said: 'Keller, just keep me on my feet. I'm behind the line.'

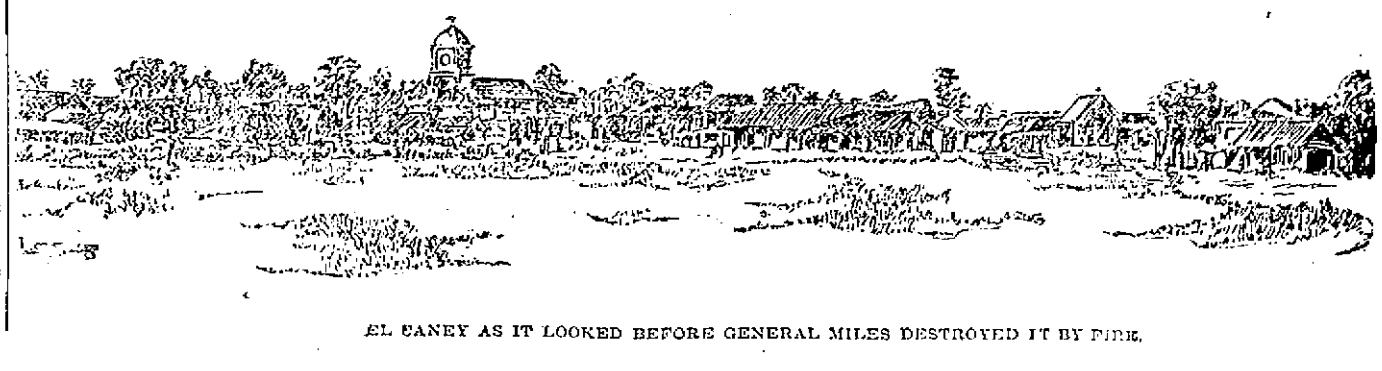

"Of course, he couldn't fight any more. He had lost so much blood already from the wounds in his arm that he was very weak. We just staid there, and by and by the colonel was carried to the rear. Then we were both put in a wagon and carted over a rough road to Siboney. We got the best attention they could give us, but we had to lie in water a couple of days. Finally we were told a steamer was waiting to take us home, and here we are.

"What about me? Oh, I'm all right—a little uncomfortable in my back, but that's nothing. The piece of shell that struck me hit my cartridge belt and drove the cartridges against my backbone. It felt as if I'd had an electric shock. It stunned me for a minute and when I came to I thought needles were pricking me all over. But I'm all right."

Notwithstanding Keller's statement of his own condition, Dr. Sprague, who examined him after attending to Colonel Worth, ordered him to the hospital. He obeyed orders, but he did it under the most vigorous protest. Colonel Worth told his sister, Miss Worth, during the afternoon, that the conduct of the troops at San Juan was magnificent. He said that it was utterly impossible to restrain them. "Why!" said he, "Talk about leading them! An officer had to be a sprinter to keep up with them."

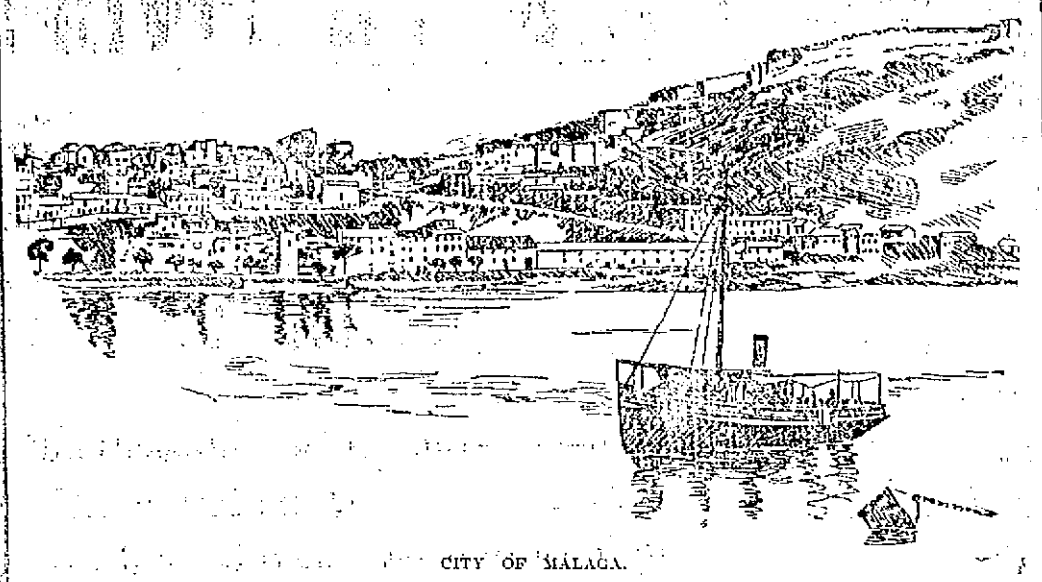

He added that in all his experience during the civil war, when he was an officer in the Eighth infantry, and in all his service in Indian fighting, he never saw such magnificent bravery as the enlisted men displayed at San Juan hill.—New York Sun.

THE PEACE PROSPECTS

Alarming Information Regarding Carlist Activity—Probability of an Uprising in Spain.

London, July 22.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times says: "Hope of speedy peace must be abandoned and a more circuitous route adopted. It is no secret that the unofficial diplomatic exploration has not been encouraging. Sagasta, Duke Almodovar, the foreign minister, and Gamazo, minister of public instruction and public works, constituting a sort of ministerial sub-committee on the peace question, are continuing the discussion secretly, but the public is becoming impatient at this apparent indecision. This uneasiness probably accounts for the rumors of Carlist and republican movements, which are recognized to be entirely unfounded."

Thursday was the queen's birthday (she was born July 24, 1858), but owing to the nation's circumstances the usual official receptions and banquets were suppressed. The only ceremony was a private mass celebrated in the chapel of the royal palace. The royal family and the court attended this service. The queen regent has ordered that the customary funds be distributed in works of charity.

Despite the denial of The Times' correspondent, other special dispatches from Madrid to the morning papers, especially such as come by way of the frontier and elude censorship, continue to assert that the Carlists are active. For instance, the correspondent of The Standard says: "The government continues to receive from civil and military authorities in many provinces alarming information as to Carlist preparations. Arms and ammunition have been introduced by many mountain passes into Navarre, Aragon and Catalonia, it is supposed with the connivance of the local authorities on both sides of the frontier. The Carlist agents and leaders know that they can act with a certain amount of impunity, because, so long as the pretender and his representatives and newspapers in Madrid patriotically disclaim all intention of disturbing the peace during the war with the United States, they feel certain that Sagasta and the authorities will not dare arrest or molest Carlists. They assume that Sagasta cannot afford to affront a large section of the people and risk civil war when his hands are so full. In some few places, however, the military governors have suppressed the Carlist newspapers and have warned the Carlist juntas that stronger measures will be taken if they persist in agitation. The Carlists in Madrid say that the first risings will occur in western, central and southern Spain, their ancient strongholds, in order to show the extent and power of their organization."

PROUD OF THE COUNTRY.

Atlanta, July 22.—After calling the convention of Confederate veterans to order Thursday, General Gordon said: "We are all Confederate men and women, but we are also Americans and proud of our country. God has blessed us as he has blessed no other nation. It becomes us who have been spared by providence to sing praises to him, and I want the men whose shouts have been heard on many battlefields to join in a hymn of praise."

The report of the historical committee says in part: "In the last war in which our country is at present engaged, our comrades now living and the descendants of those who have passed away have nobly used the opportunity to demonstrate to the world their order, their patriotism and their readiness to devote their lives in defense of this, our reunited country." All the old officers were re-elected.

General Lee introduced a resolution pledging the life and treasure of the confederacy to a reunited country, and it was adopted in a manner which gave no evidence of a lack of sincerity. A resolution was passed thanking the president for appointing General Wheeler and General Lee to commands in the army.

In acknowledging the compliment paid him, General Gordon in part said: "By God's help, I shall end my days by keeping my face always in the direction your faces have been since 1861 (applause), and while I say that I want it understood by every man within the sound of my voice and by the world as well that there beats no truer heart for this reunited country, for the honor and glory of the American republic, for its prosperity and, for the freedom of this liberty-loving people in any breast than mine."

PERTAINING TO BOSTON.

E. S. Smith, the most prominent paper manufacturer in New England, is dead. He had been ill for about five years from paralysis, and this was primarily the cause of his death.

Captain Nelson of the British steamer Elliot, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon, reports that while the steamer was on her way from Halifax to Mayaguez, Porto Rico, a fire broke out in the bunkers, and a greater part of the cargo was either destroyed or very badly damaged. The steamer was loaded almost entirely with provisions for the starving Spaniards on the island.

Colonel Mansfield of the engineer corps has begun the removal of the submarine mines blocking the main channel of the harbor.

SEIZURE OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND

Halifax, July 22.—The Newfoundland, which was seized by the Americans while attempting to run the blockade at Cienfuegos, cleared here for Jamaica and Vera Cruz, and sailed with the following cargo, valued at $30,366, for the Spanish government: Forty-three hundred sacks, 1040 bags, 1050 barrels flour, 200 barrels pork, 150 bags wheat, 200 bags corn, 552 cases meats, 23 packages of sundries. The news of the Newfoundland's arrest created much excitement in Halifax shipping circles. She is owned by a local company.

The Regulus sailed on the same day as the Newfoundland, clearing for the same ports, and carrying a similar cargo. No news has been received from her, and her owners await advices with much anxiety.

LOTTERY CONTRACTS.

THE POWERS AT WASHINGTON SCORED BY INDUSTRIAL PAPERS.

The manner in which the army contracts have been awarded is calculated to excite the indignation of the whole American people. The government saw fit to call for bids on its supplies, and by doing so placed itself under obligation to award the contracts to the parties making the lowest prices, other things being equal. We could, however, mention leading mills in New England, whose goods are of established reputation whose bids have been the lowest, and which have, nevertheless seen the orders go to competitors in other parts of the country, the most noteworthy feature of the whole transaction being that the latter have turned around and bought the goods at the lower figures quoted by eastern manufacturers. There is probably no use bewailing such a state of affairs. Nations have been the prey of private greed from the start, and they are probably no more so now than ever, perhaps they are less so. It is only when the disregard of decency is so open and bare-faced, as in the case of recent army contracts that one is impelled to comment on the situation. Our greatest regret is that Secretary Alger or whoever is responsible for the present scandal, did not defer their gifts from the public treasury until our resources were in better shape.—American Cotton and Wool Reporter.

THE AERIAL ARTILLERY

The Discharges Many and Fatal—Two or More Men Killed and Many Buildings Destroyed.

Boston, July 22.—The sultry weather of the past few days culminated yesterday afternoon in thunder showers in nearly every section of New England, those in southern New Hampshire and northern Massachusetts being particularly severe and destructive.

Lightning struck in many places, causing loss of life at Arlington, Mass., and Nashua, and fires, consisting mostly of barns, in Bradford and North Andover, Mass., Epping and Kensington, N. H. The wind and rain also damaged much property, being severe at Farmington, N. H., where a number of houses were unroofed.

In this city little damage was done, but along the shore several light craft at frail moorings suffered considerably. The lightning worked quite freely in many suburbs, but only one serious fire occurred, that being in West Roxbury, where a barn was struck and burned, with six horses, two loads of hay and some grain. Thomas Fahey, who was in the barn, was badly hurt. Mr. Welsh, the owner, had a loss of $8000. The heat preceding the storm was intense.

SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Arlington, Mass., July 22.—Lightning caused the death of one man and injured five other men. When the storm was at its height, an electric bolt struck the cupola of the Locke school building of Arlington Heights, causing considerable damage to the building. Several carpenters had seemed shelter in the basement of a new building during the storm, and received a terrific shock. John H. Orr of Weymouth, who was standing in the door, received the most direct effect of the lightning, and died within six minutes after he was struck.

MAN FATALLY HURT.

Farmington, N. H., July 22.—A thunder storm, almost a tornado, swept over this town, the terrific wind wrecking a number of small houses and causing other damage, fortunately without loss of life, although one man was badly injured. The storm struck the town early in the afternoon, and within a few minutes the roofs of several houses, including a business block and two shoe shops, had been blown off. Many houses which escaped the wind had their cellars flooded, while a number of streets were rendered impassable for sometime by the wreckage from trees and buildings. A coal shed near the depot was blown down, and Frank Haynes, a truckman, who had sought shelter there, was buried beneath the ruins, and it is feared he is fatally hurt. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

BOLT STRUCK A COTTAGE.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 22.—Lightning did considerable damage in Tremont. During a terrible shower, a bolt passed through a cottage belonging to D. Driscoll, setting it on fire. This was soon extinguished, but the house is badly wrecked. Sadie Driscoll, who was in the cottage, was badly cut by glass.

FOUR COWS KILLED.

Wakefield, Mass., July 22.—Lightning created quite a scare in this town and several buildings were struck and damaged. Four cows which were under shelter of a tree on Beebe's farm at Lakeside were killed. An unoccupied house at Montrose was partially burned, and several bolts also struck the house of William Ridlon, and Miss Ridlon was temporarily prostrated by the shock.

WORST IN YEARS.

Nashua, July 22.—The severe rain, wind and thunder storm of yesterday was the worst known in years. In 90 minutes 3.28 inches of rain fell, besides considerable hail. Frank W. Hall, 30 years old and married, was struck by a bolt in a field and instantly killed. Lightning struck the houses of Leon P. Girouard, burning the roof; the two tenement houses of Charles Blunt; the house of Dr. Charles H. Baldwin; the steeple of the Mt. Pleasant school, and the house of Charles Norton, doing considerable damage in each instance. Several of the mills closed on account of the water flooding the engine rooms, and hundreds of cellars throughout the city were flooded.

SHOE FACTORIES HIT.

Haverhill, July 22.—The lightning yesterday struck four shoe factories in this city, but the damage was slight. On the other hand, the elements set fire to two barns in Bradford, about two miles from here, and both were consumed.

WRECKED AN ICEHOUSE.

BARN IN ASHES.

North Andover, Mass., July 22.—The barn on the farm of J. W. C. French of Boston, located on the Haverhill road, was struck by lightning, and burned. The loss is $7000.

FIRES IN KENSINGTON.

Exeter, N. H., July 22.—During the thunder storm in this section of the state, lightning struck the buildings of Ellery Palmer in Kensington, and they were destroyed by fire causing a loss of $1000. A house owned by Charles Evans in Kensington also suffered the same fate, the loss being $1500.

During the storm the house, barn and out-buildings of David Hawes of Hampton Falls were struck by lightning and burned. The loss is $3500.

LAWRENCE WILL INTER HER FIRST DEAD IN THE WAR.

That Lawrence intends to do honor to her soldier son, who died in the South, is shown by the arrangements that are being made, as reported in yesterday's Lawrence papers, as follows:

"The family of Private Harvey A. Dunn has expressed a desire that the funeral be held under the direction of Battery C. The services will be held in accordance with military honors. The body will arrive here tonight or tomorrow.

"Battery C met last evening at the armory. A committee was appointed to arrange the funeral details as follows: Captain Stedman, Lieutenants Sargent, Goldsmith and Powell, Sergeants McGregor and O'Hagan and Private Sawyer.

"The body will be in charge of a guard of two sergeants, two corporals and two privates. If the health regulations allow, the body will lie in state at the armory tomorrow from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. There is a question as to whether Private Dunn died from malaria or typhoid fever. If from the latter, no one can view the body.

The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church. At the grave a salute will be fired by the battery.

"At a meeting of Needham post, 29, G.A.R., last evening in Needham hall, Commander Laney residing, it was voted to attend Private Dunn's funeral in a body. Upon the arrival of the body the post flag will be lowered to half mast.

"The young men of the high school are requested to attend the funeral and escort the body to the grave.

A movement is on foot to have the city departments, the Irish, French and other societies parade. The French military band will attend.

The body after being taken from the water, was removed to Colby's undertaking rooms.

Deceased was a man nearly 60 years old and had a family consisting of a wife and five children. He was a dyer and had been employed at the Arlington mills.

When last seen alive by his family he was at his home. He left there Monday evening to take a walk and did not return He had lost his appetite and was not feeling in good spirits when he left home. It is supposed he jumped into the pond.

MEMORIAL WINDOW.

DESIGN FOR THE KIRK STREET CHURCH.

Oliver H. Moulton of this city has presented the Kirk Street Congregation at church with a magnificent memorial window. Its execution was intrusted to Redding, Baird & Co. of Boston and this makes the twentieth window that his house has placed in that church.

The design of the window is Bouguereau's "Madonna and Child." The flesh work is most remarkable for its softness and purity. The Madonna is clothed in a beautiful robe of blue, edged with a golden ivory and is represented amid the clouds as in the original painting. The window is a valuable addition to the other beautiful windows in this church. This house has placed in the church.

ENGLAND'S NEW NAVY

She Will Build a New Boat for Every One Russia Constructs, and Will Spend $75,000,000 in the Work.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 22.—The eagerly expected statement of the first lord of the admiralty, Mr. George J. Goschen, on the suplementary naval program, was made today in the House of Commons. He reviewed the original program which was considered sufficient when it was framed, being based upon the two-power system, that the navy of Great Britain must be equal to the combined fleets of any two powers. But in consequence of the action of Russia on the same system, the government was compelled to present a supplementary program paralleling the Russian increase of six battleships, which Russia proposed to begin in 1898. Only two battleships were taken into account in the original British program and the first lord of the admiralty now asked the House to grant four more battleships." (Cheers.)

Continuing, Mr. Goschen remarked: "The Russian program provides for four cruisers. We propose to build four (cheers) and also twelve destroyers. It is estimated that the cost of the new program will be £8,000,000, making the entire expenditure for the new ships £15,000,000. The battleships will be especially adapted for the passage of the Suez canal."

BLANCO PROCLAIMS SPANISH DEFEAT.

(Copyright, 1898, The Associated Press.)

HAVANA, July 22.—Captain General Blanco has issued the following proclamation announcing the capitulation of Santiago. It is dated, Havana, July 17:

"After three months of heroic defense and many bloody combats owing to a scarcity of ammunition and victuals, the garrison of Santiago has been forced to capitulate under honorable conditions and with all the honors of war. This occurred on the day of July 16, when it was recognized by the brave Spanish general who was acting commander of the place that resistance was useless and that he could no longer hold the place. Notwithstanding reinforcements had been possible and that although he should receive such from Manzanillo and although he should still cover further losses and bloody combatants, although he might put the city in a better condition of defense, he was still face to face with the fact that reinforcements would only make further inroads upon the already greatly consumed and nearly exhausted store of provisions of the Spanish garrison. The city was thus placed in a very lamentable condition. The situation was anticipated and caused great depression to the Spanish forces.

"The occupation of the city of Santiago by the military forces of the Americans is lacking in strategic importance, owing to the fact that the city had previously been closely blockaded for a long time by the American ships and will have little or no effect upon the further development of the Spanish campaign which is to decide Spain's fate. The Spanish army is intact and eager for glory. It is willing to measure arms with the Americans and in this army the King of Spain, the Spanish government and the whole country places its trust for defense at any cost, of the integrity of Spanish territory and the honor of Spain's immaculate flag.

This army is sure to be triumphant and victorious at the last in spite of so many dangers and impediments and that it will show once more the indomitable Spanish character and the well known military talents of our people is the hope and expectation of your general-in-chief.

(Signed) BLANCO."

(Copyright, 1898, The Associated Press.)

The California troops have been thrown out by General Anderson to form the advance of the attacking force.

South Manila is to be captured first. The Colorado and Utah batteries are being landed at Parangue, directly from the ships.

The Tenth Pennsylvania Volunteers, with the rest of the artillery, will land at Malabon, just north of Manila. Brigadier General Francis V. Greene formerly colonel of the Seventy-first regiment of New York is in command of the advance, General Anderson remaining in Cavite.

NO WORD FROM SHAFTER.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The war department is still in official ignorance of the reported retirement of Garcia with his army from the American lines at Santiago and the resignation of the Cuban general. It is considered a little singular that General Shafter had not made a report to the department of the case by telegraph, but he has so far shown little disposition to acquaint the department with the state of affairs at Santiago unless called upon by direct inquiry by the secretary of war. Thus it was not known at the department officially that General Wood had been created military commander of Santiago, although the fact would seem to be one of sufficient importance to justify its mention in a cable despatch.

Regarding General Garcia's defection, it is noticeable that the officials of the war department have a good deal of apprehension over the outlook. It is not doubted that he either has taken or will take some such action as that reported, for all the information that has come to the department up to this time seems to indicate dissatisfaction on the part of the Cuban commander to the attitude assumed by General Shafter. However, as the latter is acting strictly in accordance with the published directions of the president in maintaining the status quo of Santiago so far as it relates to the municipal administration, the blame for a rupture, if one ensues, cannot be placed entirely upon General Shafter's shoulders.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

San Francisco, July 22.—The Examiner says: "Several London people prominently identified with the Central Pacific company are arranging to visit this country within a few weeks in consequence of the recent action of congress in creating a commission to confer with the company's representatives and jointly to prepare a plan for settling the road's net debt to the government of $60,000,000. The gentlemen coming from London are C. E. Bretherton, F. G. Banbbury and Alwynne Compton. The first mentioned is one of the directors of the Central Pacific. Mr. Banbury is a member of parliament and chairman of the Banbury committee, which represents many of the English stockholders of the road. Mr. Compton is of the same committee. They will hold conferences with C. P. Huntington in New York and later they will come to California and inspect the Central Pacific.

Garcia Orders His Soldiers Back to the Farms—Auginaldo Declares Martial Law Over All the Philippines — Hobson Arrives Home.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SANTIAGO, July 21, (Delayed in transmission)—The French cruiser Rigault de Genouilly arrived here this afternoon with supplies for the relief of the French citizens of Santiago.

A large exodus of Cubans is expected during the next few days, as they are returning to the cultivation of the country, that work being the chief source of the wealth of the island.

The greater part of Garcia's army leaves here at daybreak tomorrow. Notwithstanding General Garcia's bitter complaint to General Shafter that he had been ignored and that the restoration of the Spanish civil authority in the city of Santiago was most offensive to him, and that in consequence of this he had been forced to tender his resignation as a general in the Cuban army, the insurgent general is going on with his preparations for a contest with the Spanish forces of Holguin and Manzanillo as though nothing had happened.

Genera Garcia will issue a decree authorizing all Cubans who have been driven from their plantations and country homes by the Spaniards and who have taken refuge for safety in the cities and towns, to return to the country and go to work on their farms and plantations, assuring them of protection by his forces. He has also given permission to those in his ranks who were recruited from the farmlands or who were employed in the fields before the war.

Altogetehr it must be confessed that General Garcia's attitude is inexplicable. His permission to the men in his ranks to go back to work on the farms is construed to mean an effort to disband his forces. But this may not be altogether justified. It is certain that a great many of them will continue to fight.

MARTIAL LAW IN THE PHILIPPINES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The following cablegram has just been received from the war department:

Hong Kong, July 22.

Secretary of the Navy:

(Signed) ANDERSON.

Colonel Anderson was the senior army officer at the Philippines when the despatch was sent, probably several days before its Hong Kong date. The reference to China ponies means that Coonel Anderson desires that kind of cavalry animals.

HOBSON HOME.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Naval Constructor Hobson of Merrimac fame, reached port this morning on the cruiser St. Paul. He left the St. Paul at Tompkinsville and took the Staten Island ferryboat for New York.

He arrived at 9.45 this morning, and was accompanied by two men, who carried several handbags. The party at once took a carriage and it is presumed proceeded at once to Washington by way of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is possible that Hobson is the bearer of Admiral Sampson's report of the naval engagement off Santiago.

A NEW DEVICE

INSPECTED BY MILITARY OFFICERS THIS MORNING.

It Will be Taken to the Front.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Washington, July 22.—The very latest development in field telegraphy and telephone was represented in a handsomely equipped, double horse wagon that was driven into the courtyard of the war department today for the inspection of the military officers there. The wagon is one of twenty, designed by Colonel Strong, assisted by Major Dunwoodie of the signal corps, to construct flying telegraph lines over battlefields to maintain army headquarters in communication with heads of divisions, and with the central authorities at Washington. This wagon has four folding tables which, when thrown up form desks upon which are placed a set of telegraph and telephone instruments. Batteries are carried beneath the seats while the coils of wire are so arranged as to be strung out as fast as the wagon can be driven. The wagon is intended to be followed by a heavier vehicle containing lances, spare coils of wire and even sections of submarine cables, so that no obstacles to communication will be afforded by even a considerable stream of water. The wagons will be sent to the front as rapidly as possible.

FUSILADE SENT THROUGH A RAILWAY CAR.

Engineer Killed and Fireman Missing.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Fort Worth, Texas., July 22.—Six men were concerned in the hold up on the Santa Fe railroad last night. Two boarded the engine at Saginaw and covered the engineer. They made him stop in a deep cut one and a half miles north of the stock yards. Superintendent Pendell, who was on the train, and the crew went forward to see what was the matter. As they advanced toward the engine they were greeted by a fusilade from the west bank. The bullets went over their heads, but perforated the engine and express car. Engineer Joe Williams is likely fatally wounded. The fireman cannot be found, but is thought to be also wounded. While the men were firing, the two robbers on the engine jumped off. The whole party escaped. Nothing was obtained and nobody on the train was injured except those on the engine.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Michael Campbell the Unfortunate Victim.

Discharged Servant Tries to Burn a House.

Brookfield, Mass., July 22.—A man supposed to be Michael Campbell was killed by a train at the station last night. The train dragged the body 150 feet, and in consequence mutilation was inflicted. On the man's arm was tattooed the representation of a crucifix. The hat bore the mark of Ting Bros., Milford, Mass. He was five feet tall, and weighed 180 pounds.

THE NUTMEG STATE.

Hartford, July 22.—An apparently crazy servant, out of revenge on account of being discharged, set fire to the house of her former mistress yesterday. The building, which was slightly damaged, was occupied as a boarding house by Mrs. M. D. Cady. The servant after setting the fire struck Mrs. Cady's daughter a violent blow in the face. She is under arrest.

New London, July 22.—A fire in the cellar of the Foran Furniture company's building yesterday afternoon, caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp, resulted in a loss of about $10,000. The fire was confined to the cellar, but the dense smoke penetrated the entire four stories.

EXEMPT FROM THE TAX.

Washington, July 22.—The commissioner of internal revenue holds that although a social club selling wines and liquors to its members and their guests is required to pay a special tax as a retail liquor dealers, it is not required to pay the special tax as a proprietor of a billiard room, as the new law specifically states that it only relates to bowling alleys and billiard rooms open to the public. A social club admitting to its privileges only its members and their invited guests, the commissioner holds, cannot properly be regarded as open to the public.

BASE BALL.

Boston, July 22.—The game of six innings yesterday was one-sided, as Sudhoff was very wild. Five Boston players were given bases on balls, one was hit and Sudhoff made a wild pitch which helped base running. Rain stopped the game and also prevented the advertised second one. Score:

The Phillies defeated the Chicagoes in an uninteresting game, 3 to 1. Fifield pitched finely.

The Louisvilles surprised everybody by winning two games from the Brooklyns. The members of the losing team played like schoolboys in both games.

The Cincinnatis won two games in Washington by hitting and fielding.

The New Yorks and the Pittsburgs split even in a bargain counter attraction. In the first game Seymour pitched well until the ninth, when he sailed upwards. In the second game Tannehill was easy, and in the four innings he pitched managed to lose the game.

The Wilkesbarres won two games from the Providences. The first game was a hard uphill fight, the Providences scoring seven in the first inning on clean hitting. The batting of Shortstop Sullivan, who joins the St. Louis team, won the second game.

Bad errors by Reilly and Gilbert enabled the Syracuses to pull the Springfield game out in the ninth inning, but the home team tied it in the last half. Syracuse finally batted out in the 12th. Part of the game was played in the rain.

The Clevelands defeated the Baltimores in two games. Both McJames and Nops were wild and ineffective, and caused the loss of both games. After the second game Tebeau was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct for throwing a bat at a spectator who called him a vile name. He gave bail for his appearance.

Hiram Ladd, who played one game for the Bostons as a fielder, tells the people of Fall River, where he belongs, that the manager refused to pay him for his work, nor even gave him the price of his supper before leaving for his home.

HUDSON AND LOWELL.

ELECTRIC LINE VIA ACTON AND CHELMSFORD.

The board of selectmen is not yet ready to grant permission to the Clinton, Hudson & Concord street railway company to run its tracks through Acton limits over the so-called "powder mill road." The proposed line from Hudson to Lowell through Acton and Chelmsford, is being still urged and it is said that the commissioners of the Clinton road think quite favorably of the latter line. Within the past few weeks nothing has been done of importance, but the selectmen of Acton wish to have a clear understanding of the matter before granting permission to a company that will not benefit the more populated sections of the town, through which it intends to run on the outskirts. Developments are awaited with interest.

WANT EXTENSION TO STATE LINE ONLY.

Time for Completion Causes a Discussion.

Nashua, July 21.—The Nashua street railway extension continues to be one of the most exciting topics which the citizens of Nashua have had to deal with for the past few years. There is every indication that the company will have to make some definite conditions before the present board of aldermen will grant them a franchise to build the road south of Lawndale. The members of the board speak very strongly against granting a blind franchise which can be locked up in the company safe, kept for speculation or disposed of without the citizens having any say in the matter, and it is altogether likely that if the franchise is granted it will be with the proviso that the road shall be completed within a specified time. Of the sixteen aldermen, nine state that they favor a time limit. These nine are Aldermen Hall, Wood, Dowd, McGuire, Goodhue, Fiske, Page, Burke, and Keeley. The other seven are understood to take a similar view, and it will probably be a united board that will stand on this condition. There has been no question raised as to the length of the limit. Some place it at two years, others five and one or two are willing to grant six or seven years. A compromise will doubtless be effected between the greatest extremes.

A canvass of the merchants on Main street has been made and of twenty-seven merchants, fifteen are strongly for a time limit. Seven refused to express an opinion either way and of the other five, three favored allowing the matter to rest in the hands of the company, the other two had not given the matter sufficient thought to be interviewed. The business men who desire a time limit are Governor Ramsdell, H. S Norwell, W. E. Keeley, Major F. L. Kimball C. S. Clement Samuel Spence, J. H. Field, D. F. Runels, C. W. Greenwood, E. E. Cheney, M. A Taylor, S W. Mansfield, J. W. Connor, H F. Barnard, T. E. McAfee.

But two merchants were found in the entire number who did not favor the extension of the road to the state line. The general statement is that, as long as there is one line to Lowell, it will do no harm to have a second and it is urged that the building of the line will improve all the property along the line and will greatly add to the valuation of the city.

NEW TRAIN SIGNALS.

A trial of a new train signaling system to avoid accidents was held recently by the Boston and Maine road, when an exhibition was given of the efficiency and practicability of an automatic electric, audible, signal system. The trial of this life, and property-saving device was complete and convincing.

The apparatus, in brief, consists of a small dynamo in the cab of each locomotive, occupying less than twelve inches space, a bell in each cab and at every grade crossing, and a third rail in the middle of each roadbed running the length of the road, for the transmission of the electric current.

The trial illustrated the simultaneous warning given by bells both in the engine and at the grade crossing at the approach of a train. The alarm in this instance lasts until the crossing is passed. The engine approached an ordinary flat car and warning was sounded in the cab the moment the locomotive got within danger distance. The third test was with a misplaced switch the bell continuing to ring until the switch was set right.

The new system accomplishes the following results: It locates and signals every moving train on a roadbed within a mile of another train. Both engineers receive the signal. The operation of the signal itself is as simple as the ringing of an electric doorbell.

CONGRESSIONAL TALK.

THE CANDIDATES LOOMING UP—FLYNN OF LAWRENCE LEADING.

The Lawrence correspondent of the Boston Post has the following on the congressional contest in the fifth district:

The formal entry of the Hon. A. B. Bruce into the congressional field promises a lively contest for the democratic nomination. Senator Flynn announces that he is in the race to win, and Mr. Bruce expresses equal determination to carry off the honors. Both are lively campaigners. Senator Flynn has the advantage of being nearer to the people in consequence of recent campaigns for the senatorship, in which his popularity was attested by unprecedented majorities. It is nearly ten years since Mr. Bruce was a candidate for public office. In 1884 as the democratic nominee for mayor, he was defeated by nearly 700 but the following year this vote was reversed in his favor. In 1886 he was re-elected mayor by a more substantial majority as the candidate of the democrats and citizens. Owing to divisions in the party, as a candidate for a third term in the fall of 1888, Mr. Bruce was defeated by over 1200 majority, his defeat causing a rupture within the democratic party in Lawrence which is still in evidence.

Senator Flynn relies upon his labor record to secure him the nomination. If the campaign requires a heavy expenditure of money on his part he will not be able to mac it, as he is not wealthy, whereas Mr. Bruce is in a fair way of becoming a millionaire, being connected with a number of street railways and banks in Massachusetts and other money-making enterprises besides having connection with the recently formed National Biscuit company, which is capitalized at $55,000,000.

Efforts are being made to bring the two gentlemen together to avoid, if possible, a contest for the nomination, as it is realized that the nominee must possess all the democratic strength in order to triumph over the republican candidate. A meeting has been proposed to Senator Flynn, but he has thus far declined to give heed to it. His friends suggest that Mr. Bruce might be induced to withdraw upon assurances of support for the mayoralty. It is believed that he would rather serve another series of terms as mayor and equal or excel the record of any democrat that ever held the position, than to go to congress. But there are difficulties in the way of this plan, which would prevent its adoption. The situation presents complications, which may have an important bearing upon the whole future course of local politics.

The republicans are by no means pleased with their congressional situation. Congressman Knox is at home, busily at work repairing his fences, from which Lewis G. Holt has been clipping large sections in this city and at Lowell. Mr. Holt was in the latter city during the week, where, according to Lowell papers, he was cordially received by leading republicans. It is reported that a sentiment exists in Lowell against Mr. Knox because of a prejudice against a third term. In this district the custom has been to give the incumbent two terms, the feeling in favor of which is kept alive by men who consider themselves available as congressional candidates and do not care to wait too long for their turn. Mr. Knox has had two terms and three nominations. It is understood that Mr. Holt is making use of the custom argument against Mr. Knox to some effect. This, together with his Grand Army record and his popularity with the veterans, Mr. Holt relies upon to give him the nomination.

The Flynn men are much encouraged by the flat-footed announcement of John H. Harrington's Lowell paper in his favor. As the candidate two years ago, Mr. Harrington could have the nomination this year if he so desired. His espousal of Mr. Flynn's cause, it is believed, will do that gentleman's candidacy a power of good in Lowell.

SUPT. CHENEY, Whose Attention is Called to the Condition of Our Streets.

THE WORST STREET.

WE STAND CORRECTED BY ANOTHER RESIDENT.

Mr. Editor—Having read in your valuable paper last evening a communication in regard to the condition of our streets, it pleased me greatly to find that there was somebody to protest against the neglect of our public streets. They speak of Common street and its filthy condition and also of Hale street. While these two streets may be sadly in need of repairs, they are simply grand in comparison with Southerland street, which is located in Centralville. This street is nothing more or less than a sandy desert and the drivers of teams heavily laden passing through this street within the past three or four days during the excessive heat must have nearly killed their horses. The sand is a foot deep and it is almost an impossibility for horses to pull through it. I presume after the heavy rainfall of yesterday, every child in Lowell can go over there and make mud pies, and it will be more severe for the horses to pull through the mud than through the heavy sand. This is a public street accepted by the city supposed to have good roadway and sidewalks but there is hardly any semblance of a sidewalk in this thoroughfare as the deep sand is thrown up on what is supposed to be the sidewalk, which makes it as disagreeable for pedestrians as it is for horses. I would naturally think that Superintendent Cheney, residing in this section of the city, would have a little pride in keeping the roadways of his district in better order.

ANDREWS OPERA CO.

PRESENTS MIKADO AT THE COZY LAKEVIEW THEATRE.

The Andrews Opera company presented "The Mikado" at the cozy Lakeview theatre last evening and will repeat it for the remainder of the week, with matinees this afternoon and tomorrow. "The Bohemian Girl" drew a large audience every night for the first part of the week and last night notwithstanding the threatening weather the attendance was good.

The Andrews company gave a clever performance of "The Mikado" and was liberally applauded. George Andrews upheld the part of Nanki Poo, and the part of Katiska was taken by Miss Carrie Godfrey, a new addition to the company. She made a hit and at once became a general favorite.

The Three Little Maids from School were Myra French, Nancy Atkinson and Pearl Hightser and their singng and acting caught the crowd. C. A. Parker was convulsingly funny as Ko Ko. Next week a double bill will be presented. "Pinafore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" without any increase in prices.

PLEASANT GATHERING.

Half a hundred of the Paige Street church parishioners gathered at the home of the pastor, Rev. E. A. Wilson, in Eleventh street last night, for a lawn party, but all the pleasure was indoors, where Mr. Charles Allen presided at the piano. Besides the instrumental numbers there were solos by Miss Mabel Miller and a duet by Miss Miller and Miss Edith Nevers. All present joined in singing "America."

Ice cream and cake were served during the evening.

HORSE RAN AWAY.

While the two daughters of Brig.-Gen. Adelbert Ames were out driving in the vicinity of Hood Farm Wednesday afternoon, their horse became frightened and ran away. The young ladies had the presence of mind to jump out when they saw that the animal was beyond their control and by that act, they saved themselves from perhaps fatal injuries. The horse ran on for some time and the buggy was demolished.

UNKNOWN WRITER

Evidently Has a Grudge Against One Person.

That most despicable of creatures, and anonymous letter writer, is plying his nefarious craft about town and has been for some time past, and although both the police and postal authorities have been notified, the fellow, for apparently the sneak is of the male gender, continues his screeds with impunity.

The principal person attacked is a well known young man in the liquor business who, for some time past, has been getting the vilest kind of letters from this anonymous writer. Then, but not very recently, The Sun and other papers received unsigned "personals" stating that the young man in question was about to marry and the last one that The Sun received stated that he had been married to an estimable young woman, whose name was mentioned, in the police court.

In the meantime, the young woman received many scurrilous letters as did a well known physician and a clergyman, all of which were of the filthiest nature. A comparison of the letters received showed that all were undoubtedly penned by the same person.

The police and Postmaster Thompson were notified but whatever efforts they may have made to detect the criminal have, up to date, been unsuccessful.

A short time ago, the letters ceased to come to the principal victim of the attack and he believed that he would be bothered no longer. But on Wednesday, the scamp broke out again in all his malignity and sent several letters to well known physicians, signing the name of the young man and requesting them to call at once at the place where he is engaged. Some of the doctors responded hurriedly to the calls to find that the man was not there and knew nothing of any letters.

Such a scoundrel as this unknown is obnoxious and dangerous to a community and a great effort should be made by the authorities to put him where he belongs, behind the bars.

HOUSE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Durrell entertained the Sons and Daughters of Maine at their home in Lawrence street last night, after the original intention of holding a lawn party was found unwise because of the dampness outside. A program with literary numbers was a part of the enjoyment, and ice cream, cake and fruits were served.

DRACUT PARTY TONIGHT.

The lawn party to have been held in Dracut last night for the benefit of the Volunteer Aid association, was postponed until tonight on account of the weather. Many people went to the meeting house during the evening in the expectation that it would be held within doors.

A SEVERE STORM

House Struck and Damaged in Dracut.

The storm, which in other places, was the most severe in a long time, were quite easy on Lowell for the casualties, comparatively speaking, were trifling.

All morning the religious ones were praying for rain, the oppressive heat sorely trying their patience, while the irreligious ones swore roundly and drank everything within reach only to perspire more freely. Shortly after noon, dark, ominous-looking clouds began to gather in the heavens and the fruit dealers and others who display their wares outdoors began to gather them up and take them under cover. About two o'clock darkness and a brisk breeze came up simultaneously and it was necessary to light up in order to work. Then came a big flash of lightning and zip! went the motor which furnishes power to The Sun's linotype machines. A few moments later a report like that of a good-sized torpedo came from The Sun's operator's room followed by a few Spanish expressions from the operator, for the lightning had burned out the fuse and The Sun's Associated Press wire was compelled to "loaf" for a short time. Repairs were made in quick order however, and the damage was not great and The Sun got out the best paper in town, as usual.

For several minutes after the thunder and lightning began to rage, there was no rain, but when it did come down it came in huge quantities and everything and everybody in its path were thoroughly soaked. Those who were in a position to see it state that the lightning presented a very beautiful sight at times illuminating the entire sky, as long and fantastically shaped bolts chased each other everywere across the sky. The shower continued one hour and a half and had a cooling effect upon parched humanity.

A family living on Liberty street had a very narrow escape from lightning stroke. Two of the children were swinging in a hammock attached to two trees and when the storm came they were called into the house. They had just reached the steps when a bolt of lightning struck one of the trees to which the hammock was attached, barking it from top to bottom. The shock could be felt plainly in the house and all the crockery was shattered. Had the children remained in the hammock a minute longer it is probable that they would have been killed.

At C. F. Hatch's box shop the dynamo was burned out and the factory shut down for the afternoon.

The 3 o'clock car from Lawrence was half an hour late and had an exciting trip. The lightning continually hit the wire, going through the car to the motor, to the consternation of the passengers some of the women threatening to faint. Before the car reached Merrimack Square, some of the women were hysterical and were taken into Carter & Sherburne's drug store for treatment.

In Dracut, the storm played havoc with the wires at the Merrimack Woolen mills and at Hodge & Steven's store. The house of J. B. Bennett on Upland street received a clipping out from a bolt that struck a tall flag pole on top of the house and passed down through the house. It ripped the plastering off the walls of the front rooms and the clapboards off the front side of the house. The damage will be $300 or $400. No one was injured.

Several trees were struck in the suburbs.

The acts and resolves of the last legislature have been received at the city clerk's office and may be had free by those desiring copies.

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor.
SUN BUILDING, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press.
$3.00 Per Year. 25c. Per Month.

A FACT

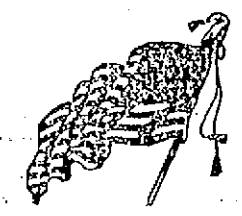

The Sun has a larger circulation than any two papers printed in Lowell, morning or evening. It has double the circulation of all the other evening papers in Lowell combined.

On the basis of circulation, its advertising rates are much cheaper than those of any other paper in Lowell.

For news, for illustrations, for enterprise, and for advertising it is

LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

It is remarkable that John C. Wilson should be introduced at a public meeting thus early as the next mayor of Lowell.

The conviction is spreading in Spain that there is to be a funeral, and the chief matter now awaiting decision is who will have charge.

What was supposed to be news cables may have been but the names of some of the Cuban cities extending beyond the three-mile limit.

It must be a source of continual excitement to Uncle Sam to have a member of his family so far beyond his reach on the wide Pacific, as is Hawaii.

When Schley telegraphed that he had Cerveras fleet in Santiago harbor and that it could never escape, he made the greatest prediction of the present war.

General Duffield, one of Alger's Michigan friends, failed to make much of an impression before Santiago. He is as much of a misfit as is Alger himself.

Too bad there are no more Spanish fleets on this side the Atlantic to be destroyed. We have many undistinguished seamen waiting for an opportunity to become commodores.

There are many republican candidates for re-election this year; who will get a rousing defeat. Those three men who bolted when the question of the assessors' ordinance was to be settled, will have to reckon with their constituents.

The city of Haverhill has a somewhat different method of appointing a license commissioner from that of Lowell. The mayor nominates and the aldermen confirm. The mayor has nominated Isaac Poor and Frank S. Atwood and both have been rejected by the aldermen.

It has been suggested that the United States and Spain have now a means of arriving at a basis of settlement through the generals at Santiago. These generals are in direct communication with their respective governments and can talk over the terms upon which these governments would be satisfied to end the war; but it is doubtful if Spain is willing just yet to consent to any reasonable conditions of peace; yet it is beyond question that the longer she continues the struggle, the worse it will be for herself.

The Holyoke Telegram, a new paper which has started to preach straight democratic doctrine in that city speaking of the trouble over the city charter there says:

"The new charter was adopted by a big majority of the people of Holyoke in order that the executive authority might be centered in one head as much as possible. Now there comes a howl from a certain quarter because the executive officer of the city proposes to exercises the executive functions vested in him by that charter. Why don't those who want to see government by injunction permanently established here go to the legislature and get the new charter abolished"?

It is not so long ago since a similar state of affairs existed in Lowell. The power of appointing heads of departments was vested in the mayor, through republican agencies, but as soon as a democrat was elected to the office these same republicans went to the legislature and had the power of appointment replaced with the city council. With the republicans, it is a game of grab and when they are beaten in local contests, they appeal to the legislature.

FLYNN FOR CONGRESS.

Commenting upon The Sun's favorable notice of Senator Flynn of Lawrence as candidate for congress in the Fifth district, the Lawrence Register has the following:

Senator Flynn has the advantage of coming direct from the people, with their unprecedented endorsement of 2021 majority in Lawrence. No candidate, however popular, ever came within hundreds of votes of this majority, which was secured over a clean, respectable, and thoroughly qualified republican candidate. Mr. Bruce, whose name is mentioned for the democratic nomination, has not been in politics for some years. He was unfortunately associated with a rupture within the party, which, whatever may be said otherwise, has not been healed.

On the other hand Mr. Flynn has made no mistakes in his public career. He has been a stout champion of those things in which the people were interested. He has made a notably labor record, which would serve him to a purpose if he should go into congress, for there labor matters will be discussed in the next few years as never before in the history of the country. National laws for regulation of the hours of labor, and other important matters appear in prospect.

Laying aside Senator Flynn's record on labor, the element of popularity will have much to do with determining the democratic nomination for congress. In this connection, Senator Flynn stands on the surest ground. His popularity has stood the test. He has done nothing in his public career to lose confidence of the people."

THE ANGUISH OF DEFEAT.

Few but those who witness the defeat of brave soldiers fighting for their country can realize the agonies of the ordeal. Whether Spaniards or Americans, the feeling is much the same and how terrible it is may be imagined from the character of Capt. Moreu's farewell to his crew. He was in command of the Cristobal Colon, the flier of the Spanish fleet, that made such a noble effort to escape from Santiago harbor through the line of United States warships. Both captain and crew did all in their power and risked everything in vain. Captured and led to their station on Seavey's Island, when officers and men were to be separated, Capt. Moreu asked permission to say a parting word to his crew. His grief was too great to be expressed in words and with flowing tears he could only take each man by the hand and kiss him as he would a child. The men were equally affected and at parting they held him in embrace as a child might a parent in parting forever. It was a most affecting sight and one that touched the hearts of the most obdurate enemies of Spain who had witnessed it. Yet that scene is but a picture of what might be witnessed if one of our own captains were so humbled and had to part with his men under similar circumstances.

CRISP GOSSIP.

The elements tried hard to "do" The Sun yesterday, but were as unsuccessful as all others who would make the attempt. The first flash of lightning demoralized the motor which runs our type-setting machines before the second edition went to press. A few minutes later, the fuse in our Associated Press wire was burned out and for a time cut off our war news. But though slightly disfigured we were still in the ring and with the aid of Derby & Morse, the Courier-Citizen, and the Postal Telegraph company, we bobbed up again serenely at the usual hour and the day's circulation was, as ever, the largest in the city.

The band concert which did not take place on the North common Wednesday evening, to the disappointment of thousands will surely occur on next Wednesday evening. Assistant Superintendent Gray, speaking of the supposed neglect of the managers of the concert says that it was the intention of the committee to have the concerts fortnightly instead of weekly. The location of the fourth concert has not yet been settled but Mr. Gray is of the belief that if a suitable place can be found in Pawtucketville popular approval would be met by holding it in that largely populated and exceedingly interesting section of the city.

"'Tis education forms the common mind,
Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined."

Truly sang Pope and I feel for a youngster whom I noticed a few days ago at a down town fruit store. The little one was not old enough to know better, but the mother who accompanied the child was, but evidently didn't. The little one, after longingly eyeing the luscious fruit temptingly displayed pounced up on a cherry and ate it with relish and then took another one. Having thus whetted his appetite safely, the little one became more bold and going to the pile of the biggest peaches on the stand grabbed a particularly large one and ran into a neighboring doorway with it. The mother, who watched her hopeful, followed her into the doorway to chastise her you think? Not much. Once inside, the mother carefully placed a handkerchief about the little one's neck lest she soil her dress and then taking the peach, broke it in halves, carefully removed the stone, and giving the child one half sat down on the stairs and ate the other half herself. And she was not in rags, neither did she appear to be half starved.

THE ARENA OF POLITICS

AN ENSLAVED PEOPLE HELD IN BONDAGE BY DEBT.

Our Country Appears to Be on the Brink of Ruin Which It Cannot Escape, but God Is on the Side of Justice, and the Forces of Reform Must Triumph.

The more any man analyzes this question of mammon worship the clearer he will see that "the love of money is the root of all evil."

Bear in mind that interest is the sacrifice demanded by this money god. The worship of the true God teaches "owe no man anything." "Give to him that asketh of thee, and from him that would borrow turn thou not away." "Do good and lend, hoping for nothing."

Mammon worship in essence is make debts. By every possible device, in every conceivable way, make debts. Debt is slavery. When everybody is in debt, then everybody is enslaved. This is the result of natural debts. Everybody in that nation is bound, bonded, enslaved.

The reason why it was stated that the diseased state of the world had reached the last stage is this: National debts are never to be paid. They are to be permanent. They come to stay. It is the capstone, the climax of mammon worship. God's love of liberty, of freedom, is completely set aside. Everybody in the bonded nation is forced to pay interest, to sacrifice to this golden image.

Wars have been made to bond nations and are used now to increase their debts. Our country is completely under the reign of mammon worship. This war with Spain will be made to produce another crop of bonds. While we pose as a nation of free men, who love humanity so well that we make war to free Cuba, we propose to increase the bondage of our own citizens and posterity at the same time.

Every war increases national debts. Every debt is another link in the chain that binds the race in slavery. And as this system of bondage is permanent the doom of the race is slavery. That is the culmination of our mammon idolatry. The debts of the railroads and corporations are to be permanent too.

The policy of civil government everywhere defeats the worship of God. No nation on earth worships God. He designs the race to be free and happy. The policy now is to make men slaves and miserable.

Debts will accomplish this end. Where is the agency to defeat this? If any party opposes bonds, debts and interest, it is opposed by the government with all its power and by the church too. Why? Because both believe in interest. Interest, usury, or this per cent sacrifice to our mammon god, is the taproot evil of the world politically.

So if the church and governments of earth are left to free the world slavery is to be its eternal doom. God's purposes will be forever defeated. Old satan will be master of the world for all time. But the "Lord reigns, let the earth rejoice." If God had not revealed in the Bible by prophecy that satan's kingdom would be overthrown on earth, we would be left in hopeless despair. But we have "a more sure word of prophecy." We are not kept in the dark. "The kingdoms of this world are to become the kingdoms of our God and his Christ, and he is to reign forever" (Revelation xi, 15). The devil has held a mortgage on the governments of the world for near 6,000 years, and the time is here for the great God to lift it.

The prophet Daniel saw a great image with a head of gold (chapter 2), and four great beasts came up out of the sea (chapter 7). These represented four great empires that would arise in the world in succession. Standing on this high prophetic eminence, the prophet saw the Persian empire which overspread the earth at that time go down, and the Medo-Persian come up and go down, and the Grecian empire come up and spread over the world and then go down, followed by the Roman empire that was symbolized by a beast diverse from all others, having "great iron teeth," signifying the cruelty of its reign. Then he saw a stone, cut out of the mountain without hands, smite the great beast and become a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

In another place this stone kingdom or government is called the "ancient of days," or a return of the true republic which God instituted in Israel. That was the first republic on earth. Their God told them to choose men to rule over them "who feared God and hated covetousness."

In another place this last and final form of government for the world, this stone kingdom, is described as the "people of the saints of the Most High taking the kingdom and possessing it forever, even forever and ever."

Old Daniel saw what we now witness—viz, the people coming to the front to take the civil governments and control them.

Old satan's kind of government has always been kingdoms or monarchies. The king claimed to rule by divine right, but it was by devilish wrong. God's form of government was republican. Israel clamored for a king to rule over them, to be in fashion with other nations, and God gave them Saul for a king under protest. Our republic is the Israel restored, the nation "born in a day," and the only government that ever was born in a day. Mammon idolatry has perverted our republic until it is only a republic in name. Instead of choosing men "who fear God and hate covetousness" we elect men who seek office in order to make money regardless of God or man. The man who comes out of office without being rich has missed his opportunity.

Mammon idolatry rules everything now, politically and religiously. No man can succeed now in church or state unless he has the mark of this beast in his forehead and in his hands.

The only way to secure reform anywhere is to abolish Mammon worship. So long as the chief end of man, of business, of commerce, of everything, is to get money, so long will we be defeated if we monkey around to secure our pet measure of any kind. Division means defeat. The high priests of Mammon unite and conquer. The people, the toilers, the wealth producers, have divided their forces heretofore and met defeat every time.

The masses have been deceived. The running high priests of Mammon have made them believe a multitude of falsehoods; that the tariff or bimetallism or immigration or the single tax or some other side issue such as prohibition of the rum traffic—that these things are the disturbing elements. Thousands and millions of men believe today that if some of the questions were settled correctly our political troubles would end. But that is a great mistake, and the Mammon priests know it. Their business is to draw interest from everybody in every turn of the wheel. Their business and their interests are directly against the interest of the wealth producers. They get the wealth without producing it. They do this by controlling the government by and through the Democratic and Republican parties. They own them both. There is no issue between these parties that amounts to the ashes of a rush. But they keep the masses deceived by making them believe that the tariff or bimetallism or some other thing is of great importance.

All the reform forces, all labor organizations, every laboring man, should immediately sever eternal enmity to these old parties. The party that is in favor of bonds and redemption money is in favor of enslaving the toilers. The leaders know that. It is their method of growing rich in idleness. No man can serve God and indorse the doctrines of the two dominant parties on the money question. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

Hence this battle now raging is a war between sin and righteousness, between right and wrong, between serving God and serving satan.

No man can vote in favor of bonds, debts and usury without violating the clearly revealed will of God. Hence no man can vote the Republican or Democratic ticket without sinning. "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon." We have been deceived too long already. It is time we wake up. We are slumbering over a volcano now.

Mammon idolatry has about ruined us. The ballot, this most sacred of all things to freemen, is lightly esteemed. It is a thing of merchandise. It is sold and bought in the open market. It is cheap too. Thousands upon thousands of freemen will sell their vote for a glass of beer or the promise of a job of work or a dollar. Our country is in the jaws of death when we reach such a state. But we are there. Elections are a farce.

Money, bribery, force, starvation, destitution—these drive voters to the polls like sheep to the shambles. They only hope to relieve present hard conditions.

The man that votes against the cause which produced these hard conditions and the demoralization which must result from them votes to serve God.

This is the object of every labor or reform organization. Hence they are called the "people of the saints of the Most High."

They are working and voting for humanity and for God, and they will succeed. They are on God's side and must win.

They are working to secure a perfect form of government in which all men will be equal in law—a true republic. This is the government to be set up, and the prophet said it would "stand forever."—Rev. D. Oglesby in Chicago Express.

To Wipe Out the Trust Breed.

The nihilists of Russia now say that killing czars is a waste of time. They could kill off two dozen czars and be no better off, according to an eminent nihilistic authority.

The poor nihilists are learning about czars what our farmers learned about potato bugs. The most energetic picking of them does no good. You must find something to sprinkle on them. The only thing to sprinkle on czars is education. Long years of education are ahead for the Russian people, and long years of czars. The preposterous brood of aliens foisted on Russia must continue to rule until two Russians of every three know that a czar is a monstrosity. Then there will be no more czars.

By the same token when we get a little more education we shall get rid of our little czars of the trust breed. We are not so very wise ourselves, with our licensed gambling in bread and our making of laws for every sort of man except the man who works and produces. But education, discontent and increased difficulty in getting money will do the work. Two hundred millions of educated men and women nearly all poor will not be fooled or managed as easily as 70,000,000 of semi-educated mongrels fairly well off. Remember that, dearly beloved brethren, and make hay while you may.—New York Journal.

Plutocracy and Progress.

Without question the principles of plutocracy are all of the retrograde character, and a nation subservient to them is in its decline, going down hill, with its sun of progress sinking in the western horizon and clouds of darkness and bigotry from the ocean of despotism originated by its own selfishness. Plutocracy is a nation wrecker. Plutocracy never made a nation, but it has destroyed many of them.

Plutocracy says to humanity: "If I can't live off you, I will destroy you. If I can't be on your back, I will break it. If I can't eat at the first table, you shall not eat at any table."

A similar assumption is made by the plutocratic press when it freezes out all news not in harmony with those tyrannical policies.—Social Democrat.

VICTORY WON AT MANILA.

Spain's Forces at Manzanillo Overcome.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MADRID, July 22 (11 a. m.)—A private despatch from Havana says that an American force landed near Manzanillo in the province of Santiago on Tuesday evening. The Spanish troops guarding the approaches to the bay, the despatch adds, opened fire on the invaders to which the Americans replied. An attack on the town both by sea and land was expected at the time the message was sent. The crews of the Spanish gunboats which were sunk reached the land and saved most of their kits.

SENOR GAMAZO TALKS PEACE

Says the Terms will be Concluded—Shortly—It is Reported that Senor Castillo and Gen Porter Will Talk Over Peace Terms Today.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, July 22.—The statement made by Senor Gamazo, the Spanish minister of public instruction, to the effect that peace, honorable to the Spanish army, will shortly be concluded, is regarded in London more as an indication of personal opinion or hope than as reflecting any general decision of the cabinet. Nothing showing any move in the direction of peace has been received here from any quarter likely to be well informed on the subject. The Spanish ambassador, Count Rascon, who was questioned on the subject said: "We have no news from Madrid and we have no reason to believe any such decided step has been taken as Senor Gamazo's statement would indicate."

A member of the British foreign office remarked to a representative of the Associated Press: "We have absolutely nothing confirmatory of Senor Gamazo's alleged statement. We wish we had and we hope it is true, but so far as we are advised the signs do not seem propitious for early peace."

Continuing the foreign office official remarked: "Relative to the idea that England will be connected with the future peace negotiations, absolutely nothing has occurred thus far upon which to base the idea. As a general principle in these affairs, the interference of a neutral is a mistake, unless invited by both belligerents."

It is known that the Spanish ambassadors have been sounding the other ambassadors at all the courts of Europe with the object of inducing concerted representations at Washington to stop the war, and there is reason to believe that Great Britain is no longer alone in demurring at this and pointing out the uselessness of such a course.

On the other hand, it is said that representations to stop the war have been made at Madrid, but judging from the results, they have not been sufficiently strong to induce Spain to come to her senses. It is recognized by all except Spain that the United States will refuse to listen to suggestions upon the part of the concerted powers.

PORTER AND CASTILLO TO CONFER.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, July 22.—The Matin today publishes a paragraph saying that "while nothing definite is known, it is rumored that Senor Leon y Castillo (the Spanish ambassador at Paris) has been instructed to approach General Horace Porter (the United States ambassador to France) with a view to opening secret peace negotiations."

General Porter was seen later in the day by a representative of the Associated Press. The ambassador said: "You can deny in the most emphatic manner that any peace negotiations have been opened up to the present moment. I cannot conceive what originated the Matin's statement."

THE CABINET IN SESSION.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The cabinet session today occupied an hour and a half and was devoted exclusively to the Porto Rico expedition and incident aggressive steps in the campaign. An immense chart of the island was sent for and carefully studied. After the session, it was specifically and positively stated that there had been no discussion whatever as to the peace outlook, the new phase created by the Cuban insurgents' independent attitude, nor the action of Aguinaldo in the Philippines.

STRUCK BY HORSE.

KATIE O'BRIEN OF FOURTEENTH STREET INJURED THIS AFTERNOON.

A woman named Katie O'Brien residing at 42 Bridge street, while crossing Central street at the corner of Market, shortly after noon today was struck and knocked down by a horse, owned and driven by Clement Guerin of South Lowell. Guerin, it is said, was driving along at good pace and did not slow up as the crossing. The woman was thrown heavily to the ground, receiving a slight bruise on the head and being badly shaken up. She was carried into Frazer's store and later was removed to her home in a carriage.

THOROUGHLY RELIABLE.

In regard to the whippet races being conducted by the Lowell Whippet club at the Fair Grounds tomorrow for the benefit of the Soldier's Relief fund The Sun takes pleasure in announcing that the promoters of the affair are thoroughly reliable and are evidently the affair with no mercenary motive. They have the endorsement of the police commissioners and will be assisted by Hon. Charles D. Palmer, E. S. Hylan and other influential citizens.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF FUND.

On Saturday next our citizens will have a chance to see the fastest little dogs in the world. The entries number 50 of the fleetest dogs in New England, including Snapper and Mary, the champion of two continents; Flair Fin, winner of the last handicap in Fall River, beating out Fido in the final heat by six inches. This is undoubtedly the largest entry of whippet dogs ever seen in New England. There will be 11 heats run before the winner is known and the Lowell dogs will have to hustle to get their share of the money. Besides the above, the ball game between the Police and Firemen will be worth witnessing. The exciting parade, an exhibition of Lowell's fancy turnouts, will be a feature never before seen in Lowell. Beside the above there will be other interesting sports, including M. Champeau, who will endeavor to beat the world's record at hop, step and jump.

Lightning rods are being placed on the tower of city hall.

The Traders' bank has sent to the mayor a draft of $199 in payment of its subscription of the Soldier's relief fund.

INSURGENTS GETTING ARTILLERY INTO ACTION.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MANILA, July 19, via Hong Kong, July 22.—The insurgents are gradually getting artillery into action against Pondo, Santa Mesa, and Malate. The fighting is desultory. The Spaniards have been driven from the trenches on side Malate and the insurgents are strongly entrenched near the walls of the forts. The insurgents have begun to bombard Malate forts and have struck the telegraph company's cable house.

It is said on semi-official Spanish authority in Manila that the recent news from Cuba is "a vile English fabrication" and that in reality the Spaniards have been victorious and that Admiral Camara's squadron has coaled at Singapore and is expected here on July 25.

INTENDED TO RESTORE COMMUNICATION

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MADRID, July 22 (11.3 a. m.)—It is said in official circles that no despatches have recently been received here from Captain General Blanco and it is added that the Spanish government "is considering the means of restoring communication with Cuba as before the surrender of Santiago.

CAMARA WILL "AWAIT EVENTS."

(Copyright, 1898, The Associated Press.)

GIBRALTAR, July 22.—It is reported here that Admiral Camara's squadron of Spanish warships, which passed through the Suez canal and then turned back and started homeward, the admiral giving a pledge that his ships were bound for Spain is expected at the Spanish penal settlements off Cebu, opposite Gibraltar shortly where they will "await events."

GROUND TO PIECES

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Hampton, N. H., July 22.—Eli Blake, a carpenter of this place, was run over by a car on the Hampton and Exeter street railway, shortly after midnight and the authorities are trying to find several companions who were with Blake last night. The coroner has taken up the case and a careful investigation has been begun to find out whether Blake was killed by the car or whether he was dead before the wheels struck him.

The street railway company, as is its practice on frequent occasions, gave a display of fireworks last night. Blake and four other men, apparently in a friendly party, were among the spectators. It was noticed that all of them were considerably under the influence of liquor. After the program was ended, the last car was on its way to the stables when the motorman saw an obstruction on the track and before he could apply the brake effectively, the car struck the object and the wheels were thrown from the track. They ploughed along for some distance over the ties and through the earth and when the speed finally stopped an inspection showed that the body of a man had been ground to pieces. When the coroner arrived the work of gathering the fragments was begun. It was found that parts of the body were jammed between the wheels in such a manner that it took more than two hours to remove them and place the car on the track again. The coroner took charge of the remains which were in such a condition that identification was difficult but it was learned later that the body was that of Blake.

Then inquiry was begun for the four companions who were with him during the evening and search for them was started at once. Meanwhile, arrangements were made by Coroner Rider of Portsmouth and Dr. Towle of this place to hold the autopsy.

Blake was known as a good-natured fellow and well liked. His wife died a short time ago, leaving four little children. Blake, his friends say, began to drink shortly after the death of his wife and has seemed to be broken down under his troubles.

WHEAT CROP.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Portland, Ore., July 22.—The conservative figures on the season's surplus of the wheat crop in the Columbia river basin and the Willamette valley are 1,650,000 tons. These are based on last year's surplus of the known increased average this year over last and the first rate condition of crops now under harvest.

It is estimated that at least 25,000 bushels of grain will seek export through Portland this year.

The Lowell Veteran Firemen's association are to go to the league muster at Portland August 18th.

STEVENSON WILL

PROVIDES FOR THE MISSING DAUGHTER, GRACE.

$10,000 to the Harvard Medical School

By Associated Press to The Sun.

Dedham, Mass., July 22.—The will of the late James Stevenson of Brookline was filed in the Norfolk registry of probate today. Mr. Stevenson was the father of Grace Stevenson, whose mysterious disappearance some time ago attracted wide interest. The will has been permitted to remain sealed since Mr. Stevenson's death several months ago, until today. No property is left to Mrs. Stevenson, widow of the testator, by the will however, provision for her having been made before his death. The sum of $75,000 is put aside as a trust fund, the interest of which will be divided among his daughters, Mary, Grace, Ellen, Tilly, and Lillian. As a public bequest, $10,000 is donated to the Harvard medical school to establish two free scholarships the fund to be known as the James Stevenson fund.

Grace, the missing daughter, who is mentioned in the will, has never been heard of since she disappeared. The will was drawn Dec. 1, 1897.

Joyce, O.M.I., officiated at the grave.

WHALING FLEET.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

San Francisco, Cal., July 22.—Captain Hayes of the steamer St. Paul received an official report of the whaling fleet just before sailing for St. Michael's. The figures given Captain Hayes are:

Hunting 560 barrels of sperm oil; California, 650 barrels; Jeanette, three whales; Cortak, four whales; William Bayliss, three whales and the Alexander Gibson. The Alexandria is said to have been ashore at Navarro Cape, but nothing is known to the extent of her injury. The steamer whaler, Rowland, has 1600 pounds of bone for which she traded.

MOVED AT LAST

The President's Mandate—General Miles Sailed With Troops Yesterday—Garcia Resigns as Commander—Cervera is Coming to Boston—Bryan at Atlanta.

Washington, July 22.—General Miles, leading the military expedition against Porto Rico, started at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Siboney, Cuba, for the point on the island of Porto Rico where it is the intention that the troops shall land. It is expected that he will wait at some spot on the route for the expeditions from Tampa, Newport News and New York to fall into this column. These expeditions are all under way, some of them with two or three days' start of General Miles, so that the delay should not be very great.

After all the difficulty about the naval convoy and the first conclusion of the naval authorities that none was necessary, the strength of that now furnished, after a peremptory order to Sampson from the president to bestir himself, is surprising. There are a battleship of the first class, the Massachusetts; an effective protected cruiser, the Cincinnati; a speedy and well-armed gunboat, the Annapolis, and four vessels of the auxiliary navy which have already proved by their performance in Cuban waters that they are fully equal to the ordinary gunboat in offensive power—the Gloucester, which distinguished herself in the destruction of

THE GLOUCESTER.

Cervera's squadron; the Wasp, which has attained an enviable reputation as a disturber of Spanish blockhouses; the Leyden, which for a time was the sole representative of United States power in Havana harbor, and the Dixie.

Secretary Alger believes that General Miles on the Yale will arrive at his destination Sunday morning with 3000 men under his immediate command. A day later 4000 men on the transports will arrive, and the day following that 3500 more. Whether the landing will be deferred until the arrival of this entire force, or whether General Miles will take the initiative and hoist the flag himself on Porto Rican soil is left to the discretion of that officer. It is the department's determination that he shall not lack for troops or equipment, and this first expedition may be followed by others as fast as the troops can be gotten ready until word comes from the general that he needs no more. General Schwan's brigade comprising the Fifth, the Eleventh and Nineteenth United States infantry, a splendid body of trained soldiers, sailed from Tampa yesterday to join Miles, and if the Porto Rican expedition is not an immediate success it will not be for lack of disposition in the war department to supply every requisite.

The state department has come to have fully as great a sense of appreciation of Dewey's diplomatic abilities as the country has of his naval skill and courage, and the best evidence of this is that it has not found it necessary up to this point to interfere in any way either to protest or to amend his work.

The navy department has discovered that the Monterey will not arrive at Cavite until Aug. 5, that being the advices received at the department from the captain of the vessel when she touched at Honolulu. The admiral's announcement of the arrival of the second detachment of United States troops at Cavite has given great comfort at the war department, which was not altogether at ease concerning the final expedition lying between Spaniards and the insurgents and without being able to depend very largely upon either. With these added troops it will now be possible to demand the surrender of Manilla, but it is gathered here that our purpose is to defer such a movement until all the troops now afloat have arrived at Manila bay, unless the attitude of the insurgents force prompter action on the part of the American commanders, military and naval.

Preparation for the dispatch of the Watson squadron to European waters is going on uninterruptedly, but the departure necessarily will await the movement of the warships at Porto Rico, the Massachusetts and other ships being required for convoying the troops to that island. This disposes of a report that the expedition had been abandoned. The report was the more mischievous at this time, as it indicated a purpose to yield to the inspired threats of European sources that a European coalition would result if the American warships attacked the coast of Spain. Neither the state nor the navy department looks for any embarrassment from European quarters without Spain as a result of the naval movement against the peninsula.

Had the army troopships been able to go to Porto Rico without a naval convoy the Watson squadron could have got away within the next few days, as the war board had wished to close all preliminaries by next Saturday; but as the Massachusetts, Columbia, Cincinnati, Dixie and Yale, together with several lesser craft, were considered necessary for a patrol for the Miles expedition, this changed plans slightly. The Dixie is almost certain to be in the Watson squadron, and the Massachusetts is likely to be. Secretary Long expressly says, however, that the delay of the Watson squadron is incident to convoying the troops to Porto Rico, and does not mean that the start will be postponed until the Porto Rico operations are concluded.

The navy department has obtained a very striking conception of the tremendous power of a shell bursting within the enclosure of a battleship from a report just received from Captain Taylor of the Indiana. Aside from the actual bursting energy of the shell, it is perceived from his report that great danger was experienced from fire, owing to the fact that the Indiana is not, like some of the battleships of later construction, fitted with fire-proof wood throughout. It is safe to assume that this report, taken in connection with the destruction of the Spanish vessels, in a large part by fire off Santiago, will lead the navy department to redouble instead of relax its efforts to protect the American warships from fire by all known scientific means.

Captain Taylor's report, which is dated July 5, reads as follows: "About 12 midnight last night the ship was struck by a shell, apparently from an 8 3-6 mortar, which pierced the deck, the flush plate between beam 76 and 77—four inches from the starboard rail. The shell exploded just forward of the cabin door, fragments piercing the cabin water pipe bulkhead in two places near the starboard cabin door. Large fragments pierced the watertight berth deck in two places, entering the paymaster's stateroom. Large fragments also pierced and completely wrecked the watertight hatch plate, leading to the orlop deck. The rooms in the vicinity on both sides were badly wrecked, considerable damage being done to the furniture and corrugated bulkheads, the bookcase knocked over and many books injured. A leak started in the fire main by a small fragment, and the whole compartment was so filled with smoke that it necessitated taking up the battle hatches on the main deck. Only a few sparks of fire were observed, which were quickly put out, as a stream of water was played into the compartment immediately after the shell struck." Captain Taylor ends with the statement that no one was injured, and that his ship was in perfect condition for battle.

Admiral Sampson telegraphs to the secretary of the navy that there has been no delay in furnishing ample convoy to General Miles. A day or two are the Cincinnati and New Orleans were placed at his disposal. The Columbia and Yale, carrying troops, are both powerfully armed, says the admiral's telegram, and this is an ample convoy for his expedition and to effect his landing. The Annapolis, Wasp and Leyden have been ordered from Nipe, the Gloucester also added, and the three monitors ordered from Key West. Under these circumstances there has been no lack of assistance. General Miles preferred to wait; the delay was his own. However, in further answer to his request, the Massachusetts and Dixie were also added, and he has probably started.

This statement shows that General Miles will be backed in effecting his landing by a strong squadron of the navy. In addition to the vessels named in the statement, it is officially admitted for the first time that the powerful monitors, Terror, Amphitrite and Puritan, which have been at Key West, are under orders to proceed to Porto Rico to assist in the reduction of the Spanish forts there. It is known also to be not unlikely—indeed it is probable—that still other vessels of Sampson's squadron will participate in the reduction of the fortifications of San Juan.

The authorities have been somewhat perplexed by an incident connected with the purchase of the Niobrara. A communication was recently received by the state department from the Brazilian authorities saying that prompt payment for the cruiser was expected. This was turned over to the navy department, which has now responded that payment has already been made through the parties from whom the purchase was negotiated.

GARCIA RESIGNS HIS POST.

Port Antonio, July 22.—General Calixto Garcia, in charge of the Cuban forces in the operations about Santiago, notified General Shafter that he had tendered his resignation as commander of the insurgents of the eastern department. This action on the part of General Garcia is regarded as a ruse, and is believed to have as its object the drawing a vote of confidence from the leaders of the Cuban junta instead of an honest declaration of hostility to the American plans regarding Santiago.

That General Garcia has not seriously retired from the Cuban army is disclosed by the fact that he has just agreed with General Castillo to march their Cuban forces against Holguin, and that both Garcia and Castillo have joined in a request to General Gomez to unite with them in driving the Spanish out of all the other provinces prior to the American attack on Havana. General Garcia's troops have been withdrawn to the mountains.

VALUE OF PROJECTILES.

Washington, July 22.—Thus far not a word has been received to show what kind of projectiles did effective work in Santiago. Captain O'Neill, of the ordnance bureau, is particularly interested in this branch for the scientific deductions which will be afforded, and he has sent orders for detailed reports on the effects of all kinds of naval ordnance, including the dynamite projectiles thrown by the Vesuvius. The press reports concerning the dynamite projectiles indicated that they had done fearful havoc, but the observations since then within the fortifications do not show that they did serious damage. The technical reports will disclose just how much effectiveness can be secured from the various appliances now in use by the navy, some of them being in their experimental stages.

KILLED SPANISH OFFICERS.

Hong Kong, July 22.—A Spanish vessel, the Vosol, having on board a native crew from the Visayes islands, is in the hands of the insurgents. The crew revolted, killed the Spanish officers and reached Tuayasco, in the southern part of Luzon. There they quarreled with the Tagalen insurgents and returned to Iloilo, which is looked upon as indicating that the Visayes are unwilling to join the Tagalens. In any case it is considered that the Philippine Islands will never be amalgamated and that they will never return to Spanish rule. Therefore, the only alternative, in the opinion of the best informed people, is foreign rule, American or British.

BRYAN IN ATLANTA.

Atlanta, July 22.—Colonel W. J. Bryan, at the head of the Third Nebraska volunteers, reached Atlanta at noon yesterday. He was met at the train by several friends, who started to escort him to the Kimball. By the time the party reached the doors of the hotel the crowd became so dense that progress was impossible. Colonel Bryan graciously responded to the cheers and calls for a speech, and, mounting a stone hitching block, said: "I am glad to be with you again. I am greatly pleased that my regiment will have an opportunity of seeing the Confederate veterans, and know that in our present struggle they will have an opportunity to fight side by side with some of these old soldiers and their sons."

HELPING OUR SOLDIERS.

New York, July 22.—Appreciating the great opportunity offered for extending help to the thousands of young men stationed in the various camps at home and abroad, the international committee of Young Men's Christian associations at the outbreak of the war organized the "army and navy christian commission." Large tents, usually about 40x60 feet, were purchased and located in the different brigades and equipped to extend physical aid and comfort, as well as religious privileges, to the soldiers. Trained secretaries have been sent to take charge of the work, and the tents are furnished with tables, writing materials, games, daily papers, books, magazines, and comfortable seats. Barrels of ice water are supplied, and everything possible is done to surround the men with helpful and restraining influences. Comforts and delicacies have been given to the sick when possible, and the soldiers themselves are emphatic in the praise of the work the committee has done. The Y. M. C. A. tents are about the only places of resort and convenience for the soldiers, excepting canteens and places of that character.

There are now about 60 of these tents in the different camps of the country and in Cuba and Manila. The treasurer reports that the very large demands which have been made have entirely exhausted the gifts which have been received up to the present, and it is feared that it will be necessary to reduce the expenses very greatly to the great deprivation of the soldiers, unless more funds are promptly contributed. The treasurer of the commission is F. S. Schenck of the Mercantile National bank of this city.

BOMBARDMENT THREATENED.

Hong Kong, July 22.—Advices from Manilla up to July 18 are to the effect that unless the Spaniards surrendered in the meantime Admiral Dewey would bombard the fortifications of Manilla by the end of that week, provided the troops were ready to take possession immediately. The first regiment is already in the field at Paranaque, two miles from Manilla.

The insurgents are constantly harrassing the Spaniards on both sides of the city, but they are checked by the big guns of the Malate and Santa Misa forts.

The second detachment of the American expeditionary force arrived in excellent condition, though four died on the voyage. The American transports have hoisted the American flag on an island supposed to be Wake Island, in the Marshall group.

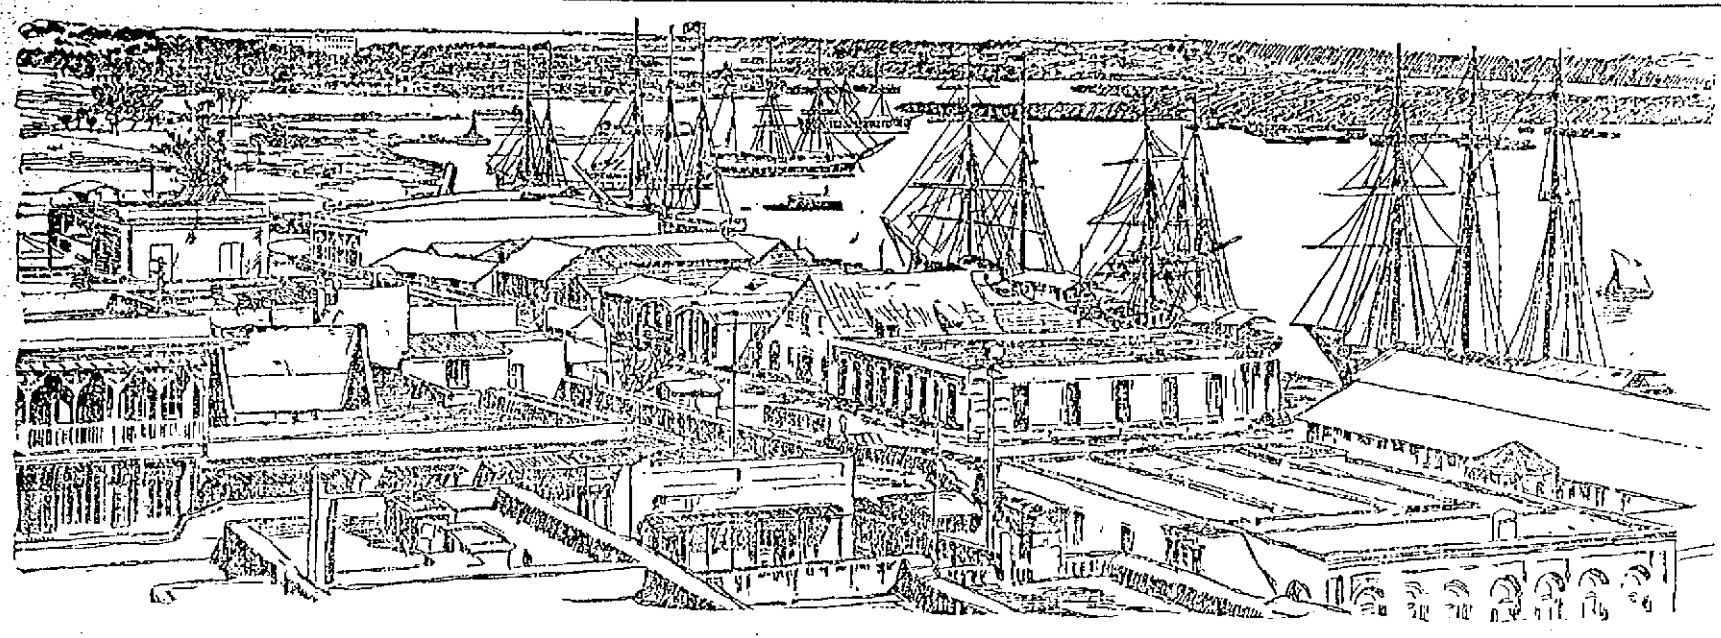

General Aguinaldo has organized the Philippine cabinet at Hacoor, with the following personnel: President of the council, General Aguinaldo; secretary of war, Baldinaro Aguinaldo, nephew of General Aguinaldo; secretary of the interior, Leandro Ibaira; secretary of state, Mariano Trias.

RUMOR ABOUT CERVERA.

Annapolis, July 22.—A rumor, which cannot be traced to an authoritative source, says that Admiral Cervera had expressed a determination not to return to his native country at the close of hostilities between the United States and Spain; that the admiral has decided to take up his residence in Boston, whither he will repair with his son, Lieutenant Cervera, who is also a prisoner here.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO AND ITS HARBOR.

LAST RECRUITS

A Recruiting Station for Lawrence.

Eight men left the Boston & Albany station, Boston, last evening for the Ninth Regiment at Camp Alger. This is the last detachment to be sent off, and brings the total enlistment for the Ninth up to 900 men, the number called for.

The other 392 men are all at Camp Alger where they are being drilled and awaiting orders to be sent to the front. The boys were given a hearty send-off by their friends who gathered at the station. They, in turn, cheered Capt. Keefe to the echo, and gave him three times three in quick succession.

The party was in charge of William Coyle who has been connected with the Boston fire department as a fireman at the Bulfinch street house. Coyle resigned to go to the front. It is said that Commissioner Russell has promised him his place when he returns.

TO FORT WARREN.

Lieut. Ashburn sent the following three men to Fort Warren yesterday:

George H. Fuller, 5 West Adams street.

George Landers, 836 Broadway.

Lieut. Ashburn went down to Lawrence yesterday afternoon for the purpose of opening up a recruiting office in that city. Although applicans have been coming in good numbers at Room 11, Hildreth Building, the colonel of the regiment believes that an extra recruiting station is necessary. Lieut. Ashburn was given his choice between Lawrence and Lynn and upon the advice of Dr. Daly, the examining surgeon, the former place was selected. This was due principally to the fact that out of that good-sized city only one company has gone to the front and the presumption was, that there would be a host of eager applicants to select from.

FROM THE FRONT

YOUNG RUSSELL GOING WRITES TO HIS FATHER.

City Messenger Charles F. Going has received the following letter from his son, now at the front:

On board the Yale, July 11, 1898.

Dear Father and Mother—I am going to write you a letter and send it back by boat. When we got to Charleston, we staid on the cars that night, and the next day we would have boarded the transports, but half the regiment was running loose over the town. That afternoon, I was sent out with some other fellows looking after them. When I got alone, I saw a lot of fellows and sent them back.

There was one fellow who wouldn't go home, so I had to chase him. We ran through alleys and over houses and all the people in the neighborhood were out. One woman said to me: "Oh, don't shoot him, please." I had a great time."

We were put into cotton sheds that night. Wisner and I got a pass and went to the St. Charles and stayed over night. The next morning we went over to Fort Moultrie and Fort Jasper on a steamer. Fort Sumter was right out about a mile We got on the boat and were going back when we saw two steamers loaded with troops. We knew they were our fellows going out to the Yale.

We thought we were left, but it turned out that our company was still at the wharf, the boat being too crowded. We were in luck. We went out in a tug. The Yale is an elegant boat. The Columbia is with us. General Miles is on board. We slept on deck. Saw a waterspout and sighted two steamers with prisoners going home.

We sighted Cuba this morning and are running near the shore. It is a pretty country. We land today. I'm ready to fight. I'll come home all right, with the help of God, and I'll kill a few Spaniards. Address letters to Co. C, Sixth Regiment, Cuba. Don't worry. All the boys are well. We are going ashore. Good-bye.

Your soldier boy,

—Russell.

STREET PAVING

Special Committe Receives Much Information

FROM THE CITIES IN THE STATE

The special aldermanic committee that was appointed to inquire into the matter of street paving between railroad tracks held a session last night. The committee discussed the question in an informal manner but took no action. Letters were read from other cities.

The committee consulted a large batch of correspondence. There were letters from 23 cities of this commonwealth and about 30 from cities in the south and west.

Of the Massachusetts letters there were only two that did not set forth a course like that contended for by the city government. The vast majority including such cities as Springfield, Worcester and Brockton, emphatically state they require street railroads to pave between tracks and rails with such materials as the city directs, and maintain the same to the satisfaction of the street department.

The two exceptions are Pittsfield, which requires only cobble stones and Somerville, which has no contract agreements and no precendents to cite.

The large number of letters from cities outside the state, including Manchester, N. H., a city of much the same condition as Lowell, require the street railroads to pave between rails and tracks according to the directions of the various municipal governments. Only two exceptions were found in this batch also.

CERVERAS' REPORT.

IS SENT TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT FOR MADRID.

Washington, D. C., July 21.—Admiral Cervera has forwarded to the navy department, for transportation to Madrid his official report of the battle in which the fleet under his command was destroyed off Santiago.

Accompanying his report are those of the surviving commanding officers of ships which participated in the action, and the senior officers on board those vessels which lost their commanders. Admiral Cervera's report is a voluminous document, covering some 60 pages. It will not be made public in the navy department, because it is considered confidential, and the Madrid government only can break the seal of secrecy surrounding it.

Admiral Cervera refers to the orders he received directing him to sail from the harbor and attempts to meet the criticism passed by Madrid officials and Capt. Gen. Blanco upon his action in leaving the harbor in the morning instead of during the night, on the ground that he expected to find the Americans unprepared.

The reports will be referred to the state department, which will deliver them to the French ambassador or the Austrian minister for transmission to Madrid. The department has taken the precaution to have the reports, which are in Spanish, translated but it has not been necessary to strike anything out of their contents on the ground that anything was injurious to this government.

NASHUA FIRM

GETS INTO TROUBLE OVER MOTOR CARRIAGES.

The American Motor Carriage company of Nashua, N. H., in which two Lowell men are largely interested is having considerable legal trouble as may be learned from the following, which appears in the Nashua Press:

There is trouble with the American Motor company, in which ex-Alderman Geo. H. Tryder and W. A. Ingham of Lowell are interested, and which is doing business at the Bates Machine Shop building in the Crown Hill district. It comes about through a suit brought by A. W. Brunnelle of Hudson. He was a workman at the company's shop and claims it owes him $75 or $100 for labor. The company keeps its doors locked and when Brunnelle went home to dinner Saturday and returned he was denied the right to enter to get his tool chest. He then went to City Solicitor Jackson and stated his case.

A writ of attachment was made out for the amount due Brunnelle and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Hunt to serve. He went to the works and by strategy gained admission through the locked doors and placed an attachment on the two horseless carriages and appointed a Mr. Miller as keeper. All went well until yesterday afternoon, when Superintendent Lombard of Boston came upon the scene. He rang the bell to gain admission into the factory when the watchman and keeper put his head out of the window to see who wished to enter and his hat fell off into the yard. On opening the door to let the superintendent into the shop, he stepped out to get his hat and on his return was denied admission. By this act, the attachment on the horseless carriages was lost.

Mr. Miller at once notified Deputy Sheriff Hunt and he, in company with City Solicitor Jackson, immediately left for the shop and after being refused admittance broke into the building and regained possession of the property. A keeper was placed in charge last night and this morning it was stated the carriages would be removed. The whole affair has created a decided sensation and the outcome will be undoubtedly a supreme court case that will attract much attention.

A number of Lowell men are interested in the business of the company. Among them is Mr. W. A. Ingham. He was asked about the trouble last night and said that the above clipping was substantially correct. It was true that Mr. Brunnelle was an employe at the factory and that he was discharged at a time when about four weeks' wages were due him. No objection was made to the payment of the money when the proper time came. The company held Mr. Brunelle responsible for all the damage done in the act of forcing an entrance into the shop, and it cost Mr. Brunelle $20 to pay for the broken door and other things. The total amount due him for wages from the company was about $50, Mr. Ingham says.

CHARGE AT SAN JUAN.

His Orderly, Corporal Keller, Who Was Hit While Bending Over Him and Was Carried Off the Field With Him, Tells the Story — General Worth Has Two Bullet Holes in His Chest, and His Right Arm Is Fractured—Fine Work by Our Enlisted Men.

Lieutenant Colonel William S. Worth, Thirteenth United States infantry, with four bullet holes in his body, proofs of the efficiency of Spanish riflemen and sufficient enough recommendation for his promotion to be a brigadier general of volunteers, which he recently received from the president, arrived at his home on Governors island the other afternoon. Although wounded four times at the charge up San Juan hill, Colonel Worth reached Governors island in fairly good condition, and his doctor says that, with ordinary prudence, he will be up and about in a month.

Colonel Worth, accompanied by his orderly, Corporal John Keller, Thirteenth infantry, left Siboney on the City of Washington last Tuesday, July 12, was landed at Fort Monroe, taken to Baltimore by boat and came to New York by the Baltimore and Ohio. On the arrival of the train he was met by his wife, his sister and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Coffin, the wife of Captain William H. Coffin, Fifth artillery, whose battery is now at Tampa, awaiting orders to go to Porto Rico.

Colonel Worth is not above 5 feet 6, and, weighing in good health not more than 150 pounds, looked very much thinner and weaker than when he marched away from Governors island at the head of three companies of his regiment one morning in the latter part of April. His right arm was in a sling and he walked with some difficulty. The soldiers at the island saluted him with the left hand, that the colonel might return the salute in kind.

When he got home, his nephew and family physician, Dr. Sprague of New York city, made a careful examination of his wounds and general condition, and then ordered his patient to bed, directing him to see no one but the members of his family for a week at least. Colonel Worth objected, but obeyed. From members of the family a reporter learned something about Colonel Worth's wounds and how he got them.

Shortly after 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 1, El Caney having been taken in the morning, the Thirteenth, Sixteenth, Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth infantry and the Third and Sixth cavalry (dismounted), with the rough riders and the Seventh, Ninth and Tenth infantry held in reserve, were ordered to attack San Juan hill and capture the blockhouse on the summit. Colonel Worth, when the attack was ordered, commanded a brigade. Soon after the battle began Colonel Charles A. Wikoff, Twenty second infantry, came on the field. He ranked Colonel Worth and took command, and Colonel Worth resumed command of his regiment, Colonel Smith, commanding the Thirteenth, not being present.

In less than ten minutes after Colonel Wikoff had come on the field he was killed. Then Colonel Worth resumed command of the brigade, only to be wounded himself and succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel Emerson L. Kiscum, who was also wounded. The command of the Thirteenth was taken by Major Philip H. Ellis. He was wounded and was succeeded by Captain James Fornance, who was killed in a few minutes after taking command. Captain Harry C. Cavenaugh then commanded the regiment. Cavenaugh was wounded in the groin in the assault.

"The best thing that can be said about the fight," said Keller to the reporter, "is that it was a hot time. I've seen some soldiering, but I never know the bullets to come from all directions at once and come so fast as they did going up that hill. If you've ever been out in a hailstorm when it didn't do a thing but hail, you can get some notion of how the bullets came at San Juan. There were Spaniards in front of us, behind us, on all sides of us and in the tree tops above us. And it's an awful mistake to imagine they can't shoot. I don't know how they are afloat, but they can shoot like the devil on land or up a tree.

"But, say, you just ought to have seen my little colonel! About all you could see of him was his little goatee, sticking right out straight, a little gray hair under his campaign hat and the flash of his sword. He headed the procession as long as he could, and, I tell you, it was amazingly pleasant to hear him say every now and then: 'Just keep steady now, boys! Shoot when you see something to shoot at, and shoot quick! We'll teach those fellows a thing or two about this game they don't know, and we'll be up in that blockhouse in a minute.'

"That kind of talk makes a fellow feel full of ginger and up to fighting for a week. And the colonel was right. We did show 'em a few things they didn't know anything about. When we started up that hill, the first thing we struck was a barbed wire fence. But it wasn't built as a white man builds a fence. The strands were so close together that we had to pry 'em apart with our fingers before we could use the wire cutters. While we cut wires, the Spaniards pumped lead into us.

"After getting through the first fence we suggested to the Cubans that, since it was largely their funeral anyway, they might as well dance on ahead and cut wires. They evidently preferred to be mourners, though, for we could always see 'em when we had time to look back. When we found they wouldn't go ahead, we did our own wire cutting. It seemed to me as if there was one of those darned fences about every ten feet. We got through 'em somehow, and we advanced steadily in open order, firing as we went. It was fire and advance; fire and advance. And we did it just like pieces of machinery, only the way the rifles of our boys snapped was a caution.

"When we once got into the swing of being soldiers and tinkers at the same time we sailed ahead. The Thirteenth, being in the center, seemed to get the worst dose, but it was bad enough for everybody. It was mighty exasperating to have to stop and cut fences while the trees shook off bullets on us, but that was the game we were up against, and there was nothing to do but take our medicine. After what seemed about a lifetime we clambered over the top of the hill and rallied round the blockhouse, cheered the flag that somebody was waving, and that job was done.

"When we caught our breath and had time to shake all around, some of the boys looked for comrades they couldn't find. San Juan was their last fight, and they're laid away now on the slope of the hill, under the trees that shot them full of holes. The Spaniards that couldn't get down the other side of the hill fast enough staid with us, and I guess they were glad they did. They got something to eat and were treated kindly, at which they seemed to be amazed. About all they could say was, 'You didn't stop coming on at all, so of course we had to get out,' at least that's what the Cubans said they said. The colonel got it in the right arm a couple of times early in the fight. At the first shot he dropped his sword, but he never even stopped running. He just picked it up with his left hand, stuck it up and told us to come on. Finally, about half way up the hill, he got two Mausers in his chest. That knocked him clean out. I saw him fall and went over to him. He didn't know me at first, but finally he came to. He looked dazed for a minute, then he said: 'Keller, just keep me on my feet. I'm behind the line.'

"Of course, he couldn't fight any more. He had lost so much blood already from the wounds in his arm that he was very weak. We just staid there, and by and by the colonel was carried to the rear. Then we were both put in a wagon and carted over a rough road to Siboney. We got the best attention they could give us, but we had to lie in water a couple of days. Finally we were told a steamer was waiting to take us home, and here we are.

"What about me? Oh, I'm all right—a little uncomfortable in my back, but that's nothing. The piece of shell that struck me hit my cartridge belt and drove the cartridges against my backbone. It felt as if I'd had an electric shock. It stunned me for a minute and when I came to I thought needles were pricking me all over. But I'm all right."

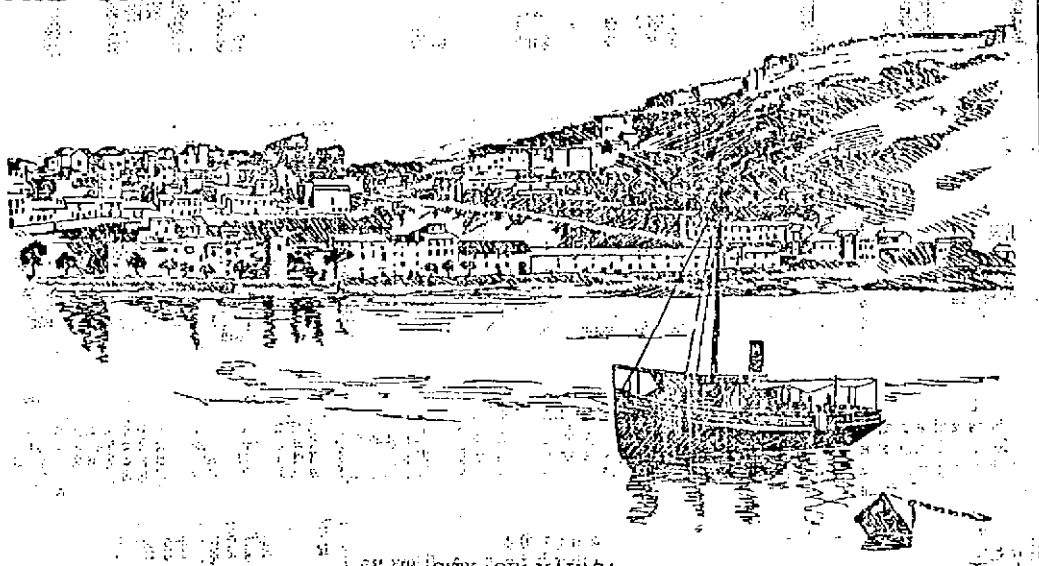

Notwithstanding Keller's statement of his own condition, Dr. Sprague, who examined him after attending to Colonel Worth, ordered him to the hospital. He obeyed orders, but he did it under the most vigorous protest. Colonel Worth told his sister, Miss Worth, during the afternoon, that the conduct of the troops at San Juan was magnificent. He said that it was utterly impossible to restrain them. "Why!" said he, "Talk about leading them! An officer had to be a sprinter to keep up with them."

He added that in all his experience during the civil war, when he was an officer in the Eighth infantry, and in all his service in Indian fighting, he never saw such magnificent bravery as the enlisted men displayed at San Juan hill.—New York Sun.

Alarming Information Regarding Carlist Activity—Probability of an Uprising in Spain.

London, July 22.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times says: "Hope of speedy peace must be abandoned and a more circuitous route adopted. It is no secret that the unofficial diplomatic exploration has not been encouraging. Sagasta, Duke Almodovar, the foreign minister, and Gamazo, minister of public instruction and public works, constituting a sort of ministerial sub-committee on the peace question, are continuing the discussion secretly, but the public is becoming impatient at this apparent indecision. This uneasiness probably accounts for the rumors of Carlist and republican movements, which are recognized to be entirely unfounded."

Thursday was the queen's birthday (she was born July 21, 1858), but owing to the nation's circumstances the usual official receptions and banquets were suppressed. The only ceremony was a private mass celebrated in the chapel of the royal palace. The royal family and the court attended this service. The queen regent has ordered that the customary funds be distributed in works of charity.

Despite the denial of The Times' correspondent, other special dispatches from Madrid to the morning papers, especially such as come by way of the frontier and elude censorship, continue to assert that the Carlists are active. For instance, the correspondent of The Standard says: "The government continues to receive from civil and military authorities in many provinces alarming information as to Carlist preparations. Arms and ammunition have been introduced by many mountain passes into Navarre, Aragon and Catalonia, it is supposed with the connivance of the local authorities on both sides of the frontier. The Carlist agents and leaders know that they can act with a certain amount of impunity, because, so long as the pretender and his representatives and newspapers in Madrid patriotically disclaim all intention of disturbing the peace during the war with the United States, they feel certain that Sagasta and the authorities will not dare arrest or molest Carlists. They assume that Sagasta cannot afford to affront a large section of the people and risk civil war when his hands are so full. In some few places, however, the military governors have suppressed the Carlist newspapers and have warned the Carlist juntas that stronger measures will be taken if they persist in agitation. The Carlists in Madrid say that the first risings will occur in western, central and southern Spain, their ancient strongholds, in order to show the extent and power of their organization."

PROUD OF THE COUNTRY.

Atlanta, July 22.—After calling the convention of Confederate veterans to order Thursday, General Gordon said: "We are all Confederate men and women, but we are also Americans and proud of our country. God has blessed us as he has blessed no other nation. It becomes us who have been spared by providence to sing praises to him, and I want the men whose shouts have been heard on many battlefields to join in a hymn of praise."

The report of the historical committee says in part: "In the just war in which our country is at present engaged, our comrades now living and the descendants of those who have passed away have nobly used the opportunity to demonstrate to the world their ardor, their patriotism and their readiness to devote their lives in defense of this, our reunited country." All the old officers were re-elected.

General Lee introduced a resolution pledging the life and treasures of the confederacy to a reunited country, and it was adopted in a manner which gave no evidence of a lack of sincerity. A resolution was passed thanking the president for appointing General Wheeler and General Lee to commands in the army.

In acknowledging the compliment paid him General Gordon in part said: "By God's help, I shall end my days by keeping my face always in the direction your faces have been since 1861 (applause), and while I say that I want it understood by every man within the sound of my voice and by the world as well that there beats no truer heart for this reunited country, for the honor and glory of the American republic, for its prosperity and for the freedom of this liberty-loving people in any breast than mine."

PERTAINING TO BOSTON.

Boston, July 22.—Although 1,000,000 of the five-eighths cents internal revenue stamps arrived in Boston from Washington yesterday, Collector Gill telegraphed for more, also asking for an additional supply of the denominations of one-eighth and one-quarter.

There were four prostrations from heat yesterday.

E. S. Smith, the most prominent paper manufacturer in New England, is dead. He had been ill for about five years from paralysis, and this was primarily the cause of his death.

Captain Nelson of the British steamer Elliot, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon, reports that while the steamer was on her way from Halifax to Mayaguez, Porto Rico, a fire broke out in the bunkers, and a greater part of the cargo was either destroyed or very badly damaged. The steamer was loaded almost entirely with provisions for the starving Spaniards on the island.

Colonel Mansfield of the engineer corps has begun the removal of the submarine mines blocking the main channel of the harbor.

SEIZURE OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND

Halifax, July 22.—The Newfoundland, which was seized by the Americans while attempting to run the blockade at Cienfuegos, cleared here for Jamaica and Vera Cruz, and sailed with the following cargo, valued at $20,360, for the Spanish government: Forty-three hundred sacks, 1610 bags, 1050 barrels flour, 200 barrels pork, 150 bags wheat, 200 bags corn, 532 cases meats, 23 packages of sundries. The news of the Newfoundland's arrest created much excitement in Halifax shipping circles. She is owned by a local company.

The Regulus sailed on the same day as the Newfoundland, clearing for the same ports, and carrying a similar cargo. No news has been received from her, and her owners await advices with much anxiety.

LAST RECRUITS

A Recruiting Station for Lawrence.

Eight men left the Boston & Albany station, Boston, last evening for the Ninth Regiment at Camp Alger. This is the last detachment to be sent off, and brings the total enlistment for the Ninth up to 400 men, the number called for.

The other 392 men are all at Camp Alger where they are being drilled and awaiting orders to be sent to the front. The boys were given a hearty send-off by their friends who gathered at the station. They, in turn, cheered Capt. Keefe to the echo, and gave him three times three in quick succession.

The party was in charge of William Coyle who has been connected with the Boston fire department as a hoseman at the Bulfinch street house. Coyle resigned to go to the front. It is said that Commissioner Russell has promised him his place when he returns.

TO FORT WARREN.

Lieut. Ashburn sent the following three men to Fort Warren yesterday:

George H. Fuller, 5 West Adams street.

George Landers, 626 Broadway.

Lieut. Ashburn went down to Lawrence yesterday afternoon for the purpose of opening up a recruiting office in that city. Although applicants have been coming in good numbers at Room H, Hildreth Building, the colonel of the regiment believes that an extra recruiting station is necessary. Lieut. Ashburn was given his choice between Lawrence and Lynn and upon the advice of Dr. Daly, the examining surgeon, the former place was selected. This was due principally to the fact that out of that good-sized city only one company has gone to the front and the presumption was, that there would be a host of eager applicants to select from.

FROM THE FRONT

YOUNG RUSSELL GOING WRITES TO HIS FATHER.

City Messenger Charles F. Going has received the following letter from his son, now at the front:

On board the Yale, July 11, 1898.

Dear Father and Mother—I am going to write you a letter and send it back by boat. When we got to Charleston, we staid on the cars that night, and the next day we would have boarded the transports, but half the regiment was running loose over the town. That afternoon, I was sent out with some other fellows looking after them. When I got alone, I saw a lot of fellows and sent them back.

There was one fellow who wouldn't go home, so I had to chase him. We ran through alleys and over houses and all the people in the neighborhood were out. One woman said to me: "Oh, don't shoot him, please." I had a great time."

We were put into cotton sheds that night. Wisner and I got a pass and went to the St. Charles and stayed over night. The next morning we went over to Fort Moultrie and Fort Jasper on a steamer. Fort Sumter was right out about a mile We got on the boat and were going back when we saw two steamers loaded with troops. We knew they were our fellows going out to the Yale.

We thought we were left, but it turned out that our company was still at the wharf, the boat being too crowded. We were in luck. We went out in a tug. The Yale is an elegant boat. The Columbia is with us. General Miles is on board. We slept on deck. Saw a waterspout and sighted two steamers with prisoners going home.

We sighted Cuba this morning and are running near the shore. It is a pretty country. We land today. I'm ready to fight. I'll come home all right, with the help of God, and I'll kill a few Spaniards. Address letters to Co. C, Sixth Regiment, Cuba. Don't worry. All the boys are well. We are going ashore. Good-bye.

Your soldier boy,

—Russell.

STREET PAVING

Special Committe Receives Much Information

FROM THE CITIES IN THE STATE

The special aldermanic committee that was appointed to inquire into the matter of street paving between railroad tracks held a session last night. The committee discussed the question in an informal manner but took no action. Letters were read from other cities.

The committee consulted a large batch of correspondence. There were letters from 23 cities of this commonwealth and about 30 from cities in the south and west.

Of the Massachusetts letters there were only two that did not set forth a course like that commended for by the city government. The vast majority including such cities as Springfield, Worcester and Brockton, emphatically state they require street railroads to pave between tracks and rails with such materials as the city directs, and maintain the same to the satisfaction of the street department.

The two exceptions are Pittsfield, which requires only cobble stones and Somerville, which has no contract agreements and no precedents to cite.

The large number of letters from cities outside the state, including Manchester, N. H., a city of much the same condition as Lowell, require the street railroads to pave between rails and tracks according to the directions of the various municipal governments. Only two exceptions were found in this batch also.

CERVERAS' REPORT.

IS SENT TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT FOR MADRID.

Washington, D. C., July 21.—Admiral Cervera has forwarded to the navy department, for transportation to Madrid his official report of the battle in which the fleet under his command was destroyed off Santiago.

Accompanying his report are those of the surviving commanding officers of ships which participated in the action, and the senior officers on board those vessels which lost their commanders. Admiral Cervera's report is a voluminous document, covering some 60 pages. It will not be made public in the navy department, because it is considered confidential, and the Madrid government only can break the seal of secrecy surrounding it.

Admiral Cervera refers to the orders he received directing him to sail from the harbor and attempts to meet the criticism passed by Madrid officials and Capt. Gen. Blanco upon his action in leaving the harbor in the morning instead of during the night, on the ground that he expected to find the Americans unprepared.

The reports will be referred to the state department, which will deliver them to the French ambassador or the Austrian minister for transmission to Madrid. The department has taken the precaution to have the reports, which are in Spanish, translated but it has not been necessary to strike anything out of their contents on the ground that anything was injurious to this government.

NASHUA FIRM

GETS INTO TROUBLE OVER MOTOR CARRIAGES.

The American Motor Carriage company of Nashua, N. H., in which two Lowell men are largely interested is having considerable legal trouble as may be learned from the following, which appears in the Nashua Press:

There is trouble with the American Motor company, in which ex-Alderman Geo. H. Tryder and W. A. Ingham of Lowell are interested, and which is doing business at the Hates Machine Shop building in the Crown Hill district. It comes about through a suit brought by A. W. Brunnelle of Hudson. He was a workman at the company's shop and claims it owes him $75 or $100 for labor. The company keeps its doors locked and when Brunnelle went home to dinner Saturday and returned he was denied the right to enter to get his tool chest. He then went to City Solicitor Jackson and stated his case.

A writ of attachment was made out for the amount due Brunnelle and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Hunt to serve. He went to the works and by strategy gained admission through the locked doors and placed an attachment on the two horseless carriages and appointed a Mr. Miller as keeper. All went well until yesterday afternoon, when Superintendent Lombard of Boston came upon the scene. He rang the bell to gain admission into the factory when the watchman and keeper put his head out of the window to see who wished to enter and his hat fell off into the yard. On opening the door to let the superintendent into the shop, he stepped out to get his hat and on his return was denied admission. By this act, the attachment on the horseless carriages was lost.

Mr. Miller at once notified Deputy Sheriff Hunt and he, in company with City Solicitor Jackson, immediately left for the shop and after being refused admittance broke into the building and regained possession of the property. A keeper was placed in charge last night and this morning it was stated the carriages would be removed. The whole affair has created a decided sensation and the outcome will be undoubtedly a supreme court case that will attract much attention.

A number of Lowell men are interested in the business of the company. Among them is Mr. W. A. Ingham. He was asked about the trouble last night and said that the above clipping was substantially correct. It was true that Mr. Brunnelle was an employe at the factory and that he was discharged at a time when about four weeks' wages were due him. No objection was made to the payment of the money when the proper time came. The company held Mr. Brunelle responsible for all the damage done in the act of forcing an entrance into the shop, and it cost Mr. Brunelle $29 to pay for the broken door and other things. The total amount due him for wages from the company was about $50, Mr. Ingham says.

CHARGE AT SAN JUAN.

His Orderly, Corporal Keller, Who Was Hit While Bending Over Him and Was Carried Off the Field With Him, Tells the Story — General Worth Has Two Bullet Holes In His Chest, and His Right Arm Is Fractured—Fine Work by Our Enlisted Men.

Lieutenant Colonel William S. Worth, Thirteenth United States infantry, with four bullet holes in his body, proofs of the efficiency of Spanish riflemen and sufficient enough recommendation for his promotion to be a brigadier general of volunteers, which he recently received from the president, arrived at his home on Governors island the other afternoon. Although wounded four times at the charge up San Juan hill, Colonel Worth reached Governors island in fairly good condition, and his doctor says that, with ordinary prudence, he will be up and about in a month.

Colonel Worth, accompanied by his orderly, Corporal John Keller, Thirteenth infantry, left Siboney on the City of Washington last Tuesday, July 12, was landed at Fort Monroe, taken to Baltimore by boat and came to New York by the Baltimore and Ohio. On the arrival of the train he was met by his wife, his sister and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Coffin, the wife of Captain William H. Coffin, Fifth artillery, whose battery is now at Tampa, awaiting orders to go to Porto Rico.

Colonel Worth is not above 5 feet 6, and, weighing in good health not more than 150 pounds, looked very much thinner and weaker than when he marched away from Governors island at the head of three companies of his regiment one morning in the latter part of April. His right arm was in a sling and he walked with some difficulty. The soldiers at the island saluted him with the left hand, that the colonel might return the salute in kind.

When he got home, his nephew and family physician, Dr. Sprague of New York city, made a careful examination of his wounds and general condition, and then ordered his patient to bed, directing him to see no one but the members of his family for a week at least. Colonel Worth objected, but obeyed. From members of the family a reporter learned something about Colonel Worth's wounds and how he got them.

Shortly after 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 1, El Caney having been taken in the morning, the Thirteenth, Sixteenth, Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth infantry and the Third and Sixth cavalry (dismounted), with the rough riders and the Seventh, Ninth and Tenth infantry held in reserve, were ordered to attack San Juan hill and capture the blockhouse on the summit. Colonel Worth, when the attack was ordered, commanded a brigade. Soon after the battle began Colonel Charles A. Wikoff, Twenty second infantry, came on the field. He ranked Colonel Worth and took command, and Colonel Worth resumed command of his regiment, Colonel Smith, commanding the Thirteenth, not being present.

In less than ten minutes after Colonel Wikoff had come on the field he was killed. Then Colonel Worth resumed command of the brigade, only to be wounded himself and succeeded by Lieutenant Colonel Emerson L. Kiscum, who was also wounded. The command of the Thirteenth was taken by Major Philip H. Ellis. He was wounded and was succeeded by Captain James Fornance, who was killed in a few minutes after taking command. Captain Harry G. Cavenaugh then commanded the regiment. Cavenaugh was wounded in the groin in the assault.

"The best thing that can be said about the fight," said Keller to the reporter, "is that it was a hot time. I've seen some soldiering, but I never knew the bullets to come from all directions at once and come so fast as they did going up that hill. If you've ever been out in a hailstorm when it didn't do a thing but hail, you can get some notion of how the bullets came at San Juan. There were Spaniards in front of us, behind us, on all sides of us and in the tree tops above us. And it's an awful mistake to imagine they can't shoot. I don't know how they are afloat, but they can shoot like the devil on land or up a tree.

"But, say, you just ought to have seen my little colonel! About all you could see of him was his little goatee, sticking right out straight, a little gray hair under his campaign hat and the flash of his sword. He headed the procession as long as he could, and, I tell you, it was amazingly pleasant to hear him say every now and then: 'Just keep steady now, boys! Shoot when you see something to shoot at, and shoot quick! We'll teach those fellows a thing or two about this game they don't know, and we'll be up in that blockhouse in a minute.'

"That kind of talk makes a fellow feel full of ginger and up to fighting for a week. And the colonel was right. We did show 'em a few things they didn't know anything about. When we started up that hill, the first thing we struck was a barbed wire fence. But it wasn't built as a white man builds a fence. The strands were so close together that we had to pry 'em apart with our fingers before we could use the wire cutters. While we cut wires, the Spaniards pumped lead into us.

"After getting through the first fence we suggested to the Cubans that, 'since it was largely their funeral anyway, they might as well dance on ahead and cut wires. They evidently preferred to be mourners, though, for we could always see 'em when we had time to look back. When we found they wouldn't go ahead, we did our own wire cutting. It seemed to me as if there was one of those darned fences about every ten feet. We got through 'em somehow, and we advanced steadily in open order, firing as we went. It was fire and advance; fire and advance. And we did it just like pieces of machinery, only the way the rifles of our boys snapped was a caution.

"When we once got into the swing of being soldiers and tinkers at the same time we sailed ahead. The Thirteenth, being in the center, seemed to get the worst dose, but it was bad enough for everybody. It was mighty exasperating to have to stop and cut fences while the trees shook off bullets on us, but that was the game we were up against, and there was nothing to do but take our medicine. After what seemed about a lifetime we clambered over the top of the hill and rallied round the blockhouse, cheered the flag that somebody was waving, and that job was done.

"When we caught our breath and had time to shake all around, some of the boys looked for comrades they couldn't find. San Juan was their last fight, and they're laid away now on the slope of the hill, under the trees that shot them full of holes. The Spaniards that couldn't get down the other side of the hill fast enough staid with us, and I guess they were glad they did. They got something to eat and were treated kindly, at which they seemed to be amazed. About all they could say was, 'You didn't stop coming on at all, so of course we had to get out,' at least that's what the Cubans said they said. The colonel got it in the right arm a couple of times early in the fight. At the first shot he dropped his sword, but he never even stopped running. He just picked it up with his left hand, stuck it up and told us to come on. Finally, about half way up the hill, he got two Mausers in his chest. That knocked him clean out. I saw him fall and went over to him. He didn't know me at first, but finally he came to. He looked dazed for a minute, then he said: 'Keller, just keep me on my feet. I'm behind the line.'

"Of course, he couldn't fight any more. He had lost so much blood already from the wounds in his arm that he was very weak. We just staid there, and by and by the colonel was carried to the rear. Then we were both put in a wagon and carted over a rough road to Siboney. We got the best attention they could give us, but we had to lie in water a couple of days. Finally we were told a steamer was waiting to take us home, and here we are.

"What about me? Oh, I'm all right—a little uncomfortable in my back, but that's nothing. The piece of shell that struck me hit my cartridge belt and drove the cartridges against my backbone. It felt as if I'd had an electric shock. It stunned me for a minute and when I came to I thought needles were pricking me all over. But I'm all right."

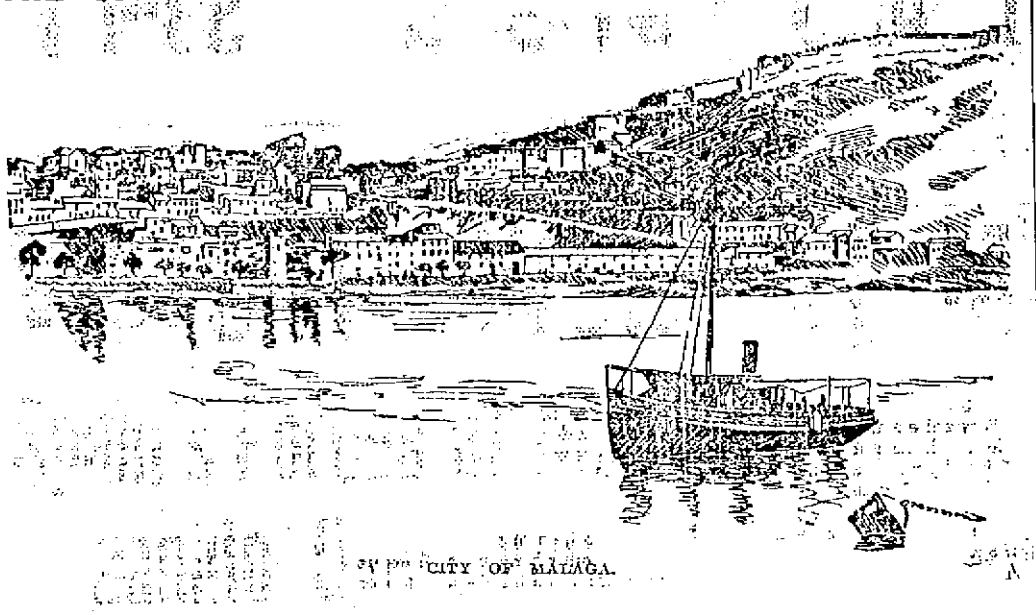

Notwithstanding Keller's statement of his own condition, Dr. Sprague, who examined him after attending to Colonel Worth, ordered him to the hospital. He obeyed orders, but he did it under the most vigorous protest. Colonel Worth told his sister, Miss Worth, during the afternoon, that the conduct of the troops at San Juan was magnificent. He said that it was utterly impossible to restrain them. "Why!" said he, "Talk about leading them! An officer had to be a sprinter to keep up with them."

He added that in all his experience during the civil war, when he was an officer in the Eighth infantry, and in all his service in Indian fighting, he never saw such magnificent bravery as the enlisted men displayed at San Juan hill.—New York Sun.

Alarming Information Regarding Carlist Activity—Probability of an Uprising in Spain.

London, July 22.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times says: "Hope of speedy peace must be abandoned and a more circuitous route adopted. It is no secret that the unofficial diplomatic exploration has not been encouraging. Sagasta, Duke Almodovar, the foreign minister, and Gamazo, minister of public instruction and public works, constituting a sort of ministerial sub-committee on the peace question, are continuing the discussion secretly, but the public is becoming impatient at this apparent indecision. This uneasiness probably accounts for the rumors of Carlist and republican movements, which are recognized to be entirely unfounded."

Thursday was the queen's birthday (she was born July 21, 1858), but owing to the nation's circumstances the usual official receptions and banquets were suppressed. The only ceremony was a private mass celebrated in the chapel of the royal palace. The royal family and the court attended this service. The queen regent has ordered that the customary funds be distributed in works of charity.

Despite the denial of The Times' correspondent, other special dispatches from Madrid to the morning papers, especially such as come by way of the frontier and clude censorship, continue to assert that the Carlists are active. For instance, the correspondent of The Standard says: "The government continues to receive from civil and military authorities in many provinces alarming information as to Carlist preparations. Arms and ammunition have been introduced by many mountain passes into Navarre, Aragon and Catalonia, it is supposed with the connivance of the local authorities on both sides of the frontier. The Carlist agents and leaders know that they can act with a certain amount of impunity, because, so long as the pretender and his representatives and newspapers in Madrid patriotically disclaim all intention of disturbing the peace during the war with the United States, they feel certain that Sagasta and the authorities will not dare arrest or molest Carlists. They assume that Sagasta cannot afford to affront a large section of the people and risk civil war when his hands are so full. In some few places, however, the military governors have suppressed the Carlist newspapers and have warned the Carlist juntas that stronger measures will be taken if they persist in agitation. The Carlists in Madrid say that the first risings will occur in western, central and southern Spain, their ancient strongholds, in order to show the extent and power of their organization."

PROUD OF THE COUNTRY.

Atlanta, July 22.—After calling the convention of Confederate veterans to order Thursday, General Gordon said: "We are all Confederate men and women, but we are also Americans and proud of our country. God has blessed us as he has blessed no other nation. It becomes us who have been spared by providence to sing praises to him, and I want the men whose shouts have been heard on many battlefields to join in a hymn of praise."

The report of the historical committee says in part: "In the just war in which our country is at present engaged, our comrades now living and the descendants of those who have passed away have nobly used the opportunity to demonstrate to the world their ardor, their patriotism and their readiness to devote their lives in defense of this, our reunited country." All the old officers were re-elected.

General Lee introduced a resolution pledging the life and treasures of the confederacy to a reunited country, and it was adopted in a manner which gave no evidence of a lack of sincerity. A resolution was passed thanking the president for appointing General Wheeler and General Lee to commands in the army.

In acknowledging the compliment paid him General Gordon in part said: "By God's help, I shall end my days by keeping my face always in the direction your faces have been since 1861 (applause), and while I say that I want it understood by every mail within the sound of my voice and by the world as well that there beats no truer heart for this reunited country, for the honor and glory of the American republic, for its prosperity and for the freedom of this liberty-loving people in any breast than mine."

PERTAINING TO BOSTON.

There were four prostrations from heat yesterday.

E. S. Smith, the most prominent paper manufacturer in New England, is dead. He had been ill for about five years from paralysis, and this was primarily the cause of his death.

Captain Nelson of the British steamer Elliot, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon, reports that while the steamer was on her way from Halifax to Mayaguez, Porto Rico, a fire broke out in the bunkers, and a greater part of the cargo was either destroyed or very badly damaged. The steamer was loaded almost entirely with provisions for the starving Spaniards on the island.

Colonel Mansfield of the engineer corps has begun the removal of the submarine mines blocking the main channel of the harbor.

SEIZURE OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND

Halifax, July 22.—The Newfoundland, which was seized by the Americans while attempting to run the blockade at Cienfuegos, cleared here for Jamaica and Vera Cruz, and sailed with the following cargo, valued at $20,360, for the Spanish government: Forty-three hundred sacks, 1610 bags, 1050 barrels flour, 200 barrels pork, 150 bags wheat, 200 bags corn, 552 cases meats, 20 packages of sundries. The news of the Newfoundland's arrest created much excitement in Halifax shipping circles. She is owned by a local company.

The Regulus sailed on the same day as the Newfoundland, clearing for the same ports, and carrying a similar cargo. No news has been received from her, and her owners await advices with much anxiety.

LOTTERY CONTRACTS.

THE POWERS AT WASHINGTON SCORED BY INDUSTRIAL PAPERS.

The manner in which the army contracts have been awarded is calculated to excite the indignation of the whole American people. The government saw fit to call for bids on its supplies, and by doing so placed itself under obligation to award the contracts to the parties making the lowest prices, other things being equal. We could, however, mention leading mills in New England, whose goods are of established reputation whose bids have been the lowest, and which have, nevertheless seen the orders go to competitors in other parts of the country, the most noteworthy feature of the whole transaction being that the latter have turned around and bought the goods at the lower figures quoted by eastern manufacturers. There is probably no use bewailing such a state of affairs. Nations have been the prey of private greed from the start, and they are probably no more so now than ever, perhaps they are less so. It is only when the disregard of decency is so open and bare-faced, as in the case of recent army contracts that one is impelled to comment on the situation. Our greatest regret is that Secretary Alger or whoever is responsible for the present scandal, did not defer their gifts from the public treasury until our resources were in better shape.—American Cotton and Wool Reporter.

THE AERIAL ARTILLERY

The Discharges Many and Fatal—Two or More Men Killed and Many Buildings Destroyed.

Boston, July 22.—The sultry weather of the past few days culminated yesterday afternoon in thunder showers in nearly every section of New England, those in southern New Hampshire and northern Massachusetts being particularly severe and destructive.

Lightning struck in many places, causing loss of life at Arlington, Mass., and Nashua, and fires, consisting mostly of barns, in Bradford and North Andover, Mass., Epping and Kensington, N. H. The wind and rain also damaged much property, being severe at Farmington, N. H., where a number of houses were unroofed.

In this city little damage was done, but along the shore several light craft at frail moorings suffered considerably. The lightning worked quite freely in many suburbs, but only one serious fire occurred, that being in West Roxbury, where a barn was struck and burned, with six horses, two loads of hay and some grain. Thomas Fahey, who was in the barn, was badly hurt. Mr. Welsh, the owner, had a loss of $8000. The heat preceding the storm was intense.

SHOCKED TO DEATH.

Arlington, Mass., July 22.—Lightning caused the death of one man and injured five other men. When the storm was at its height, an electric bolt struck the cupola of the Locke school building at Arlington Heights, causing considerable damage to the building. Several carpenters had secured shelter in the basement of a new building during the storm, and received a terrific shock. John H. Our of Weymouth, who was standing in the door, received the most direct effect of the lightning, and died within six minutes after he was struck.

MAN FATALLY HURT.

Farmington, N. H., July 22.—A thunder storm, almost a tornado, swept over this town, the terrific wind wrecking a number of small houses and causing other damage, fortunately without loss of life, although one man was badly injured. The storm struck the town early in the afternoon, and within a few minutes the roofs of several houses, including a business block and two shoe shops, had been blown off. Many houses which escaped the wind had their cellars flooded, while a number of streets were rendered impassable for sometime by the wreckage from trees and buildings. A coal shed near the depot was blown down, and Frank Haynes, a truckman, who had sought shelter there, was buried beneath the ruins, and it is feared he is fatally hurt. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

BOLT STRUCK A COTTAGE.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 23.—Lightning did considerable damage in Tremont. During a terrible shower, a bolt passed through a cottage belonging to D. Driscoll, setting it on fire. This was soon extinguished, but the house is badly wrecked. Sadie Driscoll, who was in the cottage, was badly cut by glass.

FOUR COWS KILLED.

Wakefield, Mass., July 22.—Lightning created quite a scare in this town and several buildings were struck and damaged. Four cows which were under shelter of a tree on Beebe's farm at Lakeside were killed. An unoccupied house at Montrose was partially burned, and several bolts also struck the house of William Iddion, and Miss Iddion was temporarily prostrated by the shock.

WORST IN YEARS.

Nashua, July 22.—The severe rain, wind and thunder storm of yesterday was the worst known in years. In 90 minutes 3.28 inches of rain fell, besides considerable hail. Frank W. Hall, 30 years old and married, was struck by a bolt in a field and instantly killed. Lightning struck the houses of Leon P. Giroard, burning the roof; the two tenement houses of Charles Blunt; the house of Dr. Charles H. Baldwin; the steeple of the Mt. Pleasant school, and the house of Charles Norton, doing considerable damage in each instance. Several of the mills closed on account of the water flooding the engine rooms, and hundreds of cellars throughout the city were flooded.

SHOE FACTORIES HIT.

Haverhill, July 22.—The lightning yesterday struck four shoe factories in this city, but the damage was slight. On the other hand, the elements set fire to two barns in Bradford, about two miles from here, and both were consumed.

WRECKED AN ICEHOUSE.

BARN IN ASHES.

North Andover, Mass., July 22.—The barn on the farm of J. W. C. French of Boston, located on the Haverhill road, was struck by lightning, and burned. The loss is $7000.

FIRES IN KENSINGTON.

Exeter, N. H., July 23.—During the thunder storm in this section of the state, lightning struck the buildings of Ellery Palmer in Kensington, and they were destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $1000. A house owned by Charles Evans in Kensington also suffered the same fate, the loss being $1500.

During the storm the house, barn and out-buildings of David Hawes of Hampton Falls were struck by lightning and burned. The loss is $3500.

LAWRENCE WILL INTER HER FIRST DEAD IN THE WAR.

That Lawrence intends to do honor to her soldier son, who died in the South, is shown by the arrangements that are being made, as reported in yesterday's Lawrence papers, as follows:

"The family of Private Harvey A. Dunn has expressed a desire that the funeral be held under the direction of Battery C. The services will be held in accordance with military honors. The body will arrive here tonight or tomorrow.

"Battery C met last evening at the armory. A committee was appointed to arrange the funeral details as follows: Captain Stedman, Lieutenants Sargent, Goldsmith and Powell, Sergeants McGregor and O'Hagan and Private Saltke.

"The body will be in charge of a guard of two sergeants, two corporals and two privates. If the health regulations allow, the body will lie in state at the armory tomorrow from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. There is a question as to whether Private Dunn died from malaria or typhoid fever. If from the latter, no one can view the body.

The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church. At the grave a salute will be fired by the battery.

"At a meeting of Needham post, 39, G.A.R., last evening in Needham hall, Commander Lange residing, it was voted to attend Private Dunn's funeral in a body. Upon the arrival of the body the post flag will be lowered to half mast.

"The young men of the high school are requested to attend the funeral and escort the body to the grave.

A movement is on foot to have the city departments, the Irish, French and other societies parade. The French military band will attend.

Maltox is made of malt, beef, and other nutrients.

While men were at work at Stevens pond Wednesday, the body of a man was discovered in the water. It was brought ashore and an investigation showed that the remains were those of Charles Simpson who was reported as missing from his home, 73 Holly street, Lawrence.

The body after being taken from the water, was removed to Colby's undertaking rooms.

Deceased was a man nearly 60 years old and had a family consisting of a wife and five children. He was a dyer and had been employed at the Arlington mills.

When last seen alive by his family he was at his home. He left there Monday evening to take a walk and did not return He had lost his appetite and was not feeling in good spirits when he left home. It is supposed he jumped into the pond.

The address of the evening will be made by Hon. J. J. McCarthy of Charlestown and there may be fireworks to conclude the exercises.

MEMORIAL WINDOW.

DESIGN FOR THE KIRK STREET CHURCH.

Oliver H. Moulton of this city has presented the Kirk Street Congregational church with a magnificent memorial window. Its execution was intrusted to Redding, Baird & Co. of Boston and this makes the twentieth window that this house has placed in that church.

The design of the window is Hougereau's "Madonna and Child." The flesh work is most remarkable for its softness and purity. The Madonna is clothed in a beautiful robe of blue, edged with a golden ivory and is represented amid the clouds as in the original painting. The window is a valuable addition to the other beautiful windows in this church this house has placed in the church.
